ART THROUGH COLOR PRINTING

One of the finest pieces of color printing that has ever reached this office was received last week from Color-Craft, Limited, Toronto. It is a Food Conservation hanger, printed in four colors and was executed by Rous & Mann, Limited, printers, Toronto. It is a complimentary patriotic contribution to the efforts of the Canada Food Board. This splendid production was made from a photograph of fish and vegetables, and each color was etched in the plates without colored sketch. Each vegetable and fish stands out true to natural color, and the sheet is most attractive and an undeniable work of art. It is in all respects equal to the finest efforts of the lithographic art, and was produced at half the cost.

Canada Food Board's Exhortation

Can, sister, can; can with care, the lame and wild berries, the succulent pear; and all the "garden sass" you dare. Can till the vines and trees are bare; can whatever the neighbors spare. Can the whole year's bill of fare. All that you can helps the boys Over there."

Twenty-five Years Township Treasurer

At the West Gwillimbury Council Meeting last week Mr. Hugh McDonald, for 25 years the efficient treasurer of the township, really got a surprise when Warden Gregson, Reeve, on behalf of the township, presented Mr. McDonald with a gold-headed ebony cane, nicely inscribed and a complimentary address.—Fergus News-Record.

Those Mystic Initials on the Oats

"Say, Bill," said one of the employees of the Acton Canning Company to his companion as they were returning to work after dinner on Monday, "have you heard anything about those letters the farmers are finding on the oats." "Oh, yes," said Bill, "I was down on the Beardmore farm yesterday, and they have the initial of their farm on every blade of oats grown on the farm."

Thank You! It's Fine

Thanks, Mr. Street Commissioner. You have faithfully carried out nearly every one of the street improvements suggested by the Free Press a few weeks ago. Half a load of gravel at each of the following crossings will about fill the bill now: River Street at Main and Willow Streets; Education Lane at Main Street; Church Street at Frederick, and Frederick at Church Street.

Sunday School Picnics

St. Alban's Sunday School held their annual picnic in the grove on the Beardmore farm late Wednesday and had a real good afternoon of sports. The picnic lunch was a feature which all enjoyed. . . . The Methodist Sunday School picnicked at Warren Park yesterday afternoon. A splendid programme was carried out and the afternoon and evening were very enjoyably spent.

Children's Shelter Home Selected

The committee of the Halton and Peel Children's Aid Societies last Thursday inspected properties offered in the two counties with the result that a Brampton property will be recommended for a children's shelter. The prospective home is of solid brick sufficiently large and surrounded by two acres of beautifully shaded grounds and excellently adapted for the purpose.—Oakville Star.

Sergt. Coles Now in Civilian Dress

Sergt. Wilfrid Coles, who is a South African veteran, and who was one of the first Canadian soldiers to go overseas, and who returned from the war incapacitated after several engagements, two years ago, has been doing guard duty on the Welland Canal the past year. Sergt. Coles received his discharge last week and last Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Coles and Ernie, he returned from St. Catharines to his home here, on Frederick Street.

The Dublin Cemetery Outrage

Up to the present there is no clue as to the perpetrators of the extensive damage committed to monuments and headstones at Dublin Cemetery. Inspector Reburn, of the Detective Department, Toronto, is working on the case and it is hoped will be successful—as he has so often in the past in other cases—in locating the guilty parties. A reward of $200 is offered through Chief Lawson for evidence that will lead to the apprehension of the perpetrators of the criminal deed.

Pick Wild Berries in Quantities

The Canada Food Board calls upon the people at summer resorts and residents in suitable areas to make an immediate drive on the wild berry patches. Small fruits in general are scarce this year, but the wild berries are as abundant as usual. The main argument for gathering the wild berries freely is the shortage of butter in Europe. During the winter of 1918-19 jam must be used extensively as a substitute for butter on this continent, and the finest flavored jam in the world is that which is made from wild berries.

The Parsons as Potato Growers

It will be remembered that at Acton Fall Fair last September Rev. J. C. Wilson, the pastor of Knox Church, carried off the red ticket for best potatoes shown. The new Methodist minister, Rev. I. M. Moyer, bids fair to win out if he enters the potato competition at the fair this year. On Saturday he dug potatoes, which his predecessor, Rev. Mr. Large, had planted for him, which excel any new potatoes ever exhibited here so early as July 27th. A basket of them, which he was good enough to present to the editor, contained 25 potatoes and weighed 8 pounds, 14 ounces. The largest potato weighed 1 pound, 2 ounces. The potatoes are of very fine quality.

$200 for Bottle of Whiskey

Patrick McMorrow is now a resident of Milton, but perhaps not counted by the assessor. Mr. McMorrow was at one time on the Dublin constabulary as a detective, and like many other policemen he liked his glass. This was really his undoing. Last Friday he was up before P. M. Biddle for being incapacitated. He told the $10 and costs registered against him. On Saturday he was caught by Chief Sweet as he was in the act of feeding him a couple of large bottles of whiskey. The P. M. took his word for it that he wouldn't leave town, but on Sunday he went to the G. T. R. and purchased a ticket for Montreal. Chief Sweet got wind of it and headed him off. Monday morning he came up again. This time it was $200 or three months. He took the time, after stoutly maintaining that he bought the wet goods from an itinerating dispenser in Hamilton, whom he did not know. It's strange how those medical peddlers are located. Isn't it.—Oakville Record.

Would Improve Street Appearance

If the Council would have neatly painted metal litter boxes placed at the corner of Main and Mill Streets, and at Willow and John Streets on Mill, the appearance of Mill and Main Streets might be greatly improved. These boxes would be used for paper and empty envelopes now dropped on the street and other rubbish which accumulates. Most of our merchants and citizens are scrupulous in keeping the fronts of their premises free from untidy rubbish, some are not. The rubbish box is now a feature of every progressive town and it ought to be in Acton. Street droppings would be deposited daily in the boxes, and the Council could arrange for a weekly gathering of the accumulations.

Car of Whiskey Seized at Guelph

One of the largest seizures of liquor yet secured under the Ontario Temperance Act was made at Guelph last Saturday by License Inspector O'Brien. Secreted in a car of hay shipped over the C. P. R. from Montreal were 39 barrels filled with bottled liquor. It was addressed to a fictitious firm, The Imperial Mattress Company. Two strange men were at the car supposedly intending the unloading of the "hay" when C. P. R. agent Walker detected the scheme. The men who had paid the freight on the car alleged they had discovered the car's contents were shipped to Guelph by mistake and offered to pay $200 to have the car reshipped to Montreal. The inspector seized it and the men cleared out. The liquor, which was bottled, is valued at between $7,000 and $8,000.

Meat Sandwiches Prohibited at Picnics

Persons intending to take part in picnics and who have had some difficulty in interpreting the food regulations, should bear in mind that sandwiches are not permitted at any midday meal. If the picnic is on Friday, no meat of any kind must be used. If the picnic is on a Tuesday or Thursday, the only meat permissable is pork, and it must be served only at the morning meal, so that for dinner and supper meat is prohibited. If the picnic is on Monday or a Saturday, pork may be served at the midday meal. Beef may be served at the evening meal on Mondays, Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The food regulations do not prohibit the use of eggs, sausages, liver, salmon and fish so that it may be safely assumed that picnic parties may eat their fill of these. Those in charge of an excursion or a garden party, or an outing are not required to take out a license for the sale of ice cream, candies and fruits.

PTE. ERNEST A. BROWN LIKES ENGLAND

Has Already Met a Number of Acton Boys in Military Camp

The following chatty letter written four weeks ago by Pte. Ernest Brown, formerly foreman of the Free Press, is full of interest:

Fresham, Surrey, England.
July 1, 1918.

Dear Mr. Moore:

I have at last landed in England. We had a good trip across the Atlantic, having fine weather for nearly all the voyage, but as we were within a couple of days of England the sea became quite rough. I was glad that it did, though, as it was a good experience. I was fortunate in not being sea sick. A lot of my chums were quite sick at times.

We left Toronto on Sunday, June 2, and went to Montreal, where we boarded the boat on Monday and started down the mighty St. Lawrence River. The scenery on the river was very beautiful indeed and I enjoyed it immensely. We arrived at Halifax on Thursday and we remained there until Sunday afternoon. We were not allowed to go ashore at Halifax, so we had no opportunity of viewing the wrecked city as we couldn't see any of it from the point where we were in the harbor. There was great activity in the harbor and the number of ocean liners in their war paint interested us greatly.

We had many enjoyable concerts on board the boat and managed to put the time in some way, although it became a very monotonous trip as we were nearly three weeks on board. We were all glad, however, when the time came for us to get off, and we lost no time in climbing up into the queer little trains they have in this country. These trains appeared to us to be quite a joke and we thought the little engine would never be able to pull about 20 car loads of us, but we were quite surprised to find out what speed could be attained.

We got off the trains at Farnham and then marched through very pretty country into our present camp. We were surprised somewhat to see such pretty scenery over here, as we had no idea what it was like. The rose bushes were in full bloom here then and there seems to be such great quantities of them. The holly hedges were also very interesting to us. Perhaps the reason for it looking so good was the fact that we had been on the water so long without seeing anything much en route.

Our camp at Fresham is a very nice one and is situated in a valley with hills all around it and a nice pond at one side of it. Here we go in bathing quite often.

On Saturday afternoon I was quite surprised and delighted to have a visit from Earl Brown from Witley Camp. Earl makes a fine soldier and he was able to tell us a lot of the news from home, as we have not yet received any. Also Frank McPherson came into the camp the other day and we were glad to see him too. The first night we were here we met Sergt. Ralph Swackhamer and Pte. Jack Watson from Acton and we were certainly pleased to see them. Then one night Sergt. Smethurst of the old 164th Batt., who is an instructor here, handed us a couple of copies of the Free Press, but as the dates were in April we didn't find much real news to us in them. Through seeing all these fellows from home it has made it much nicer for us. You know I suppose that Cameron Lelshman and Dave Carty, of Hamilton, formerly of Acton, are in the same bunch as I am.

To-day is the glorious First of July and it is surely a nice day. I am spending it differently from any other Dominion Day I ever spent, but still we are having a pretty good time. It is a general holiday in camp and there are all kinds of sports going on, baseball and football matches, foot races, swimming races, novelty races, etc. So I think we will have a very good time after all.

We are living in tents in this camp and we like it fine, although it is quite cold at nights. I expect we will go on to Witley Camp in about a month and then we will be in huts.

I appreciate very highly the wrist watch that the Sunday School and Epworth League gave me and often think of them. It is a good watch and I value it highly.

Well, I must close this letter. I hope that you are all well. I will be glad to hear from any of you at any time and will try hard to answer at once.

Sincerely,
ERNIE BROWN

Address—No 3109912, Pte. Ernest A. Brown, 2nd C. O. R., 8th Reserve Batt., Army P. O., London, England.

SGT. STEPHEN GEORGE IS IN HOSPITAL

But Expects to be Out and Back at the Front in a Few Days

65th General Hospital,
France, July 1, 1918

Dear Mr. Moore:—

You will see I have been admitted into the above base hospital, suffering from quinsy. I expect to be here for a couple of weeks and then up the line again.

This is Dominion Day, and up the line the Canadians will be holding sports. There are a great number of entries for events in the Canadian Corps.

I am in a bed here and twenty-five yards away the sea is dashing upon the cliffs of the English Channel. On a clear day I can look across and see "Blighty."

It is very warm over here now, and we would like it to keep so for a while.

Many thanks for receiving the Free Press so regularly. I guess I'll miss it though for a week or two now, but will get all the copies as soon as I get back to my unit.

I hope you and all Acton friends are in good health.

Yours sincerely,
STEPHEN GEORGE

Fish! Fish!!
A WONDERFUL SEA FOOD CAMPAIGN

Have you noticed the advertisements in the Toronto papers?

Did you know that last week for instance more Mackerel were sold in Acton than I have sold in any six months of my business here.

Do you know that the Campaign is proving a phenomenal success?

Some of the comments of my customers are amusing. They seem to think that Haddock, Mackerel, Market Cod, etc. are strange and wonderful animals of another planet. Also that everything that comes from the sea is salty.

Hark back for a moment to the time pineapples and grapefruit were introduced. They were unfamiliar and hard to sell. Not so to-day, however. Millions of them are consumed in Ontario.

It is the same way with the delicious Fresh Sea Fish.

Why do I harp on this Sea Fish stuff you ask?

Simply because it is the only avenue there is to cut down the high cost of living and save beef and pork, which our Allies need at the front, and also for the increased consumption.

The lakes fisheries are developed to the limit of production. Their daily catch is practically sold before it is taken from the water, but if Ontario will consume 100,000,000 more Sea Fish than at present they can be provided.

All Fresh Sea Fish quoted now arrive in refrigerator cars by express at Toronto, and my order is expressed at once to Acton. So it is always fresh.
