SIR WILFRID LAURIER

A great man has fallen. One of Canada's foremost sons has passed away. In the sudden death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier Canada loses her leading statesman, who for nearly fifty years has faithfully given the great wealth of his ability in the service of the country he loved so well. For fifteen years he was Canada's prime minister, and no premier in the history of our country administered public affairs with greater skill and statesmanlike ability. With absolute honesty of purpose and with sterling integrity he governed the affairs of state. Ever alert to Canada's best interest his regime as Premier stands out on the pages of our country's history in the clear light of an honest, unselfish purpose and with unqualified credit to his revered memory. It was well-known that he earnestly desired to spend the closing years of his busy public career at his beloved home in his native county in the Province of Quebec, but the claims of his country and the leadership of his party, which he held as a sacred trust, kept him virtually in harness until the very hours when his sun went down in happy release from the exacting responsibilities of public service. Canadians everywhere, irrespective of party or creed, unite in feelings of sincerest respect and esteem to the memory of this great and useful, noble and good Canadian. Sympathy for the sorely bereft Lady Laurier, his life's partner and close companion, is nation wide.

Editorial Notes

The United Farmers of Ontario won another victory on Tuesday in the election of J. W. Widdifield to represent North Ontario in the Legislature. Mr. Widdifield's majority over Major Harry S. Cameron was 280. Mr. Widdifield's majority is about the same as that of the late Hon. W. H. Hoyle, the former Speaker, a turnover of more than 500.

The Daylight Saving Plan will certainly have no friends among the farmers this year. At the meeting of Nassagaweya Township Council last week a resolution was passed with the unanimous vote of the members recording disapproval of the Daylight Saving Bill. It was characterized in the resolution as undue and annoying to the municipalities.

There is a feeling among retail merchants that amendments should be enacted stiffening the restrictions on transient traders, so that they cannot as they often do under existing laws, do transient business for several months in a town in competition with settled merchants who are regularly paying taxes, and then remove without paying any taxes themselves. The Retail Merchants' Association is now seeking legislation to combat this injustice to permanent merchants and to the municipalities where such transient trading is done.

This is an important hour in Canada. The nation is entering upon a new era. It is passing from war to peace. There are thousands of soldiers returning from overseas. The Government has a large problem in getting these men back to civil life, but is actively engaged in the effort to satisfactorily accomplish it. It is giving a war service gratuity to keep the soldier going until he gets a job. It gives him a pension, where his usefulness is impaired. It teaches a man a new trade when he is unfitted for his former trade. It is bringing back to Canada at the public expense the soldier's dependents now overseas. Let us all join in making the returning soldier welcome, and don't let the welcome die away with the cheers.

There is a strong movement throughout the Dominion for making the prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating liquors a permanent act. Resolutions to the following effect are being passed with great unanimity: "Resolved that we most respectfully urge the Government of Canada to grant the request of the Dominion Prohibition Committee as follows: 1. That the Order-in-Council now in effect prohibiting the importation, manufacture and interprovincial shipment of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes be enacted into law by the Parliament of Canada; 2. That this legislation be effective until the electors of Canada shall have opportunity of voting at the time subsequent to the return of the soldiers from overseas, and, 3. that at least six months' notice shall be given of the time of taking the vote."

The splendid position occupied by Canada in the estimation of the great leaders of great Britain was emphatically shown during a discussion at the Peace Conference, as to the future of the German colonies. Sir Robert Borden had spoken strongly supporting the claims of Australia and South Africa and Secretary Lansing, of the United States followed with the question: "What interest has Canada in European politics?" Premier Lloyd George at once retorted: "Canada was in the war from the start and sacrificed more of her manhood to bring peace to Europe than did the United States." This caustic reminder was richly deserved and men like Secretary Lansing will, or at least, should be careful not to provoke similar odious comparisons in future discussions.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier leader of the Opposition, passed away at 2.50 this afternoon.

Sir Wilfrid was stricken with paralysis on Sunday. He gradually sank and it was soon known to his physicians that recovery was hopeless. He was about as usual on Saturday and looked forward with keen interest to the opening of parliament which was announced for Thursday.

New Clerk and Treasurer now Imperitive

Ex-Reeve Hynds, who has Held the Position the Past Three Months Positively Declines to Continue in Office

APPLICATIONS WILL BE ADVERTISED FOR IN 30 DAYS

The special meeting of the Council on Monday evening found all the members present and Reeve Barber in the chair. There was a full gallery of spectators on the qui vive for vocal fireworks, but the business in hand went off as quietly as a game at the Checker Club.

The object of this meeting was to hear Mr. Hynds' decision, and the subject was immediately opened for discussion.

Every reasonable citizen will admire the quiet straightforward manner in which Mr. Hynds put the case. Many citizens interested in the progress and satisfactory administration of the important routine business falling within the duties of the Clerk will regret exceedingly that Mr. Hynds has declined to continue in office longer than the time required to put his books in satisfactory shape and give the Council an opportunity of securing a successor.

Mr. Hynds thanked the Council for the week's consideration granted him. Several questions naturally arose in his mind. Why had he been asked to resign? Had he not fulfilled the duties of Clerk and Treasurer faithfully, or was it a question of salary? He was not receiving any more salary than the late Mr. Mackinnon when pickings were considered. There had seemed to be quite a misunderstanding in town concerning this. Some had seemed not to want to understand it. He had taken the office of Clerk and Treasurer when the duties were heavy, and had kept the town's business running smoothly and legally. He had no regrets for the action he had taken. If he had the same thing to do over again he would not alter his course. He had, however, decided that he would accept remuneration at the rate of $400 per year for the time he had filled the office. For private reasons he had decided to create the vacancy asked for. The duties of the office were heavy and a man who said anyone could perform them did not know whereof he spoke. The new incumbent would find out that it was no snap. He simply asked for time enough to balance his books and leave them in good form for the new Clerk and Treasurer.

In answer to the query of how long it would take to balance the books Mr. Hynds explained it could be done in three or four weeks. At the end of that time the Council would be in a position to advertise for applicants for the office. Mr. Hynds stated that he would not put in an application for the position.

Reeve Barber said he did not wish to type Mr. Hynds down. He had hoped he would apply, but the manner in which this subject had been dragging on had been embarrassing. He had felt duty bound to call for applications in order to make his position in Acton tenable. He believed the majority of the people were in favor of the course he was pursuing. He then asked for the opinion of the rest of the Council.

Dr. Gray expressed his satisfaction with the manner in which Mr. Hynds had fulfilled the duties. He wanted an efficient and capable man to work for the town's interests. Mr. Hynds deserved credit for the manner in which he had taken hold of the business so suddenly dropped by the late Clerk. He had supported Mr. Hynds purely on merit and had no other interest in the matter. He simply desired to have the most efficient man for the difficult problems before this year's Council. His past experience in other councils had taught him to beware of having a green man on the job and he cited an instance of a Council he had been a member of where this course was taken and the Clerk had to be discharged within six months.

All the Council was in favor of giving Mr. Hynds a month to properly balance his books and assured him that if he would apply he would be as open to consideration as any other applicant.

The office will therefore be vacant in thirty days and applications then advertised for.

The auditors' report was examined but could not be dealt with at this special meeting.

The Sons of England awaited a reply regarding the plot requested in Fairview Cemetery. Mr. Barber who the only member of the Council who had visited the Cemetery and looked over the ground. No decision was given on the matter and the whole Council will go to the Cemetery this week and decided what course to take.

Council adjourned about 8.45.

PALMER'S UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

This old time play is as attractive now as it was years and years ago. Palmer's Amusement Company will give it in the town hall on Friday evening in all its original entirety. There will be four acts divided into twelve scenes and culminating in twelve tableaux and bewildering transformation scenes. It is not a moving picture show but a genuine original performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," in which living, breathing characters of the story are portrayed by first-class players. It has superb, spectacular surprises. The company has gorgeous costumes, special scenery, sweet singers, artistic actors, skilled musicians, the most faithful Uncle Tom and the funniest Topsy, Ophelia and Lawyer Marks, imaginable. Admission 35c; children 25c.

MILITARY NEWS

Pte. George Lazenby returned from overseas last Wednesday. He looks well and was accorded a cordial welcome home.

Capt. W. G. B. Kenney, of the R. A. V. C., is still in Cairo, Egypt. He expects it may be a year before he will be able to reach home.

Bergt. Baylis, who had just returned from overseas, stopped off here last Wednesday evening enroute to his home at Kitchener, to visit his sister, Mrs. Fred Green, and other friends. Bergt. Baylis had a happy English bride with him. The Bergt. went overseas with the 118th Batt. and was wounded, gassed and shell-shocked while at the front in France. Three brothers were also overseas. Mr. and Mrs. Green gave the soldier hero and his bride a warm reception.

Pte. Philip Holmes arrived home from France on Tuesday afternoon. He was first attached to the Army Service Corps and after being in England for some time was transferred to the infantry and attached to the 164th Batt. Pte. Holmes was in a number of hot engagements in France. He got as far as Mons when the armistice was signed. Further than being slightly gassed a couple of times and an attack of influenza he escaped all casualty. Pte. Holmes is the third member of the Pam Pams honor roll of ten to reach home.

Bergt.-Major R. J. Irwin, who enlisted in Toronto in 1916, returned home to his wife in Acton last week, after spending two years and ten months overseas. He was not only welcomed at Toronto station by his wife, but by a little son, who was born since he went away. When he arrived in Acton last Wednesday night a large company of friends welcomed him home and a very warm reception awaited him at the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. John Barr, Park Avenue. Bergt. Major Irwin went overseas with the 83rd Batt. and was then transferred to the 4th C. M. R. in which he went through a number of hot engagements. He sustained shrapnel wounds from which he has fully recovered. He was also engaged in taking troops across the channel and made the trip eighteen times. He is very glad to be home again.
