IN MEMORIAM

CAMPBELL—In sad and loving memory of my beloved wife, Bessie Campbell, (nee Mann) who departed this life one year ago, March 18, 1920.

This day brings back sad memories,
Of the one who has gone to rest;
And the ones that think of her to-day
Are the ones who loved her best.
HUSBAND.

ALLAN—In loving memory of my dear friend, Winnifred Allan, died March 17, 1920.

Sleep in dear Win. and take thy rest;
They miss you most who loved you best;
Friends are friends, if they are true,
But to-day, those friends are few.
Ever remembered,
SADIE.

ALLAN—In loving memory of our daughter, Mrs. W. C. Allan, who died March 17, 1920.

For many years our family chain
Was closely linked together,
But oh, that chain is broken now,
And one link gone forever.
Sadly missed by her father and mother,
Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Spear,
Brothers and Sister.

Hill, Acton, at Victoria Hospital, London, from pernicious anaemia. He was a bright young man, was engaged in banking with his father, was a vocalist of considerable fame, and was an active worker in the Baptist Church in his home town. "THE HOUSE OF SONG FAME"

Hoosey & Co., music publishers, Toronto, are issuing in sheet form the latest productions in popular songs and ballads, as well as new and standard sacred songs, and the older favorites, which have become classics and are in constant demand. They are beautifully printed on excellent music paper, and are well adapted for service both on the piano and in the hands of vocalists. Some of the new popular songs deserving of mention are, "The Barefoot Trail," by Alvin S. Wiggers; "Rose of Perfect Love," by Wilfrid Sanderson; "The Road that Leads to You," by W. H. Squire; "A Song of Home," by Fred Royle; "My Pearl of Memory," by T. Wilkinson Stephenson; "Mother My Own," E. Richardson Caldwell. A long list of fine new sacred songs has lately been published, and Amy Woodforde-Finden's "Four Indian Love Lyrics," is also on the list of "The House of Song Fame."
