—A choir of thirty children and young people from the Junior League and Mission Circle led the singing at the Methodist Church very creditably last Sunday morning.

—A splendid programme has been provided for the Knox Church Garden Party this evening. Everybody will desire to hear our own prima donna, Miss Lina Craine, Toronto.

—Mr. R. Rawson had the misfortune to lose part of the first joint of his thumb on a circular saw on a portable saw mill being operated at Mrs. Black's by Mr. D. Henderson, one day last week.

—Burglars were busy in Milton one night last week. Goods were stolen from Dawson's hardware store; a five gallon keg of wine from the Grand Trunk station, and a motor car from an Italian resident.

—H. R. Frankland, who conducted a large stock farm at Hornby, and died last month, left an estate of $121,776, and his two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Vick and Mrs. Beatrice Burry, of Toronto, are the chief beneficiaries.

—Fred Blow's machine shop is a hive of industry these days. He has just put in two new lathes and is turning out Chevrolet and Ford motor axles by the thousand. Another car of steel bars was delivered last week.

—It is reported that the Bolton bank bandits rode into Georgetown on the top of a G. T. R. freight last Saturday. The chief was at the station to catch them but they got away. If Jack Tracy had only been there a different story would have been told.

—A Guelph burglar bungled his job on Sunday morning when he attempted to remove a diamond ring from the finger of Mrs. Gardiner, of Chatham, when she was asleep in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Jackson, whose house he was burglarizing.

—Winnipeg has passed a by-law under which owners of cats have to pay a license fee of $1.00 for each feline. A good many citizens of Acton would like to see a similar law in effect here, especially if the municipality would provide that all unlicensed cats be chloroformed.

Our Soldiers Showed up Well at Camp Niagara

Gave Good Account of Themselves in Drill, in Marching, and at the Rifle Butts

WHITEWASHING THE "LAST POST"

The advance party of the Halton Rifles left Acton and Georgetown on Thursday morning, June 16, and proceeded to the Military Camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake, via Toronto, and across the lake. Upon arrival they drew from the stores, tents, stoves, blankets and all the camp equipment for the main body which was to arrive the following day. Under the supervision of an Officer and Sergeant of the Permanent Force 55 bell tents and a number of mess tents were pitched. This work was done under very unfavorable conditions of wind and weather as it rained the whole time, until late in the afternoon. The Battalion arrived at midnight on Friday, June 17. After a meal had been served everybody was ready for rest.

Training started at 9.30 a. m. on Saturday and continued up to Friday last, when the Brigade was reviewed by a General Officer. A very marked improvement was noticeable in the men, even as early as Monday, after only one day's training. The writer saw the local company march from the company lines to the Battalion parade ground and was bound to remark, "That's really very good." The improvement continued and on Friday afternoon we watched the march past. It is not the intention to say anything here which would seem to be regarded as undue praise, but we must say that the local men showed that they had learned something about drill and marching. The correct "slope" of the rifles upon the shoulders, the swing of the disengaged arm and the regulation step were more noticeable with the Halton Rifles than with the other Battalions in camp.

One half day was devoted to musketry and here again our men showed that they had learned how to shoot. The possible score was 50 points and Pte. Harold Reed was the best shot from Acton with a score of 49. The other men did well, there being but one or two scores below 40.

Since arriving home we have heard rumors of inferior and insufficient food being served to the men, but men who have served before and who should know, say that the food was the regular army fare, and was plentiful. For breakfast there was served, porridge, eggs, bacon and bread and butter; dinner, beef, potatoes, cabbage, carrots, beans, beets and bread; supper, bread and butter, jam, meat and cheese. To be sure there were no chocolate or lemon pies or any kind of cakes, but the food was wholesome. There was only one occasion when there was any cause for complaint. The breakfast bacon was not up to the mark, but at this time the orderly officer arranged for more bacon to be served. Soldiers fought for years in France on the same quality but less quantity of food than was issued to the men at Niagara Camp last week.

After work each day games of baseball and football were played by those who cared for such. The camp was full of music from the time of the gun at "Reveille" to the "Last Post," and very often far in to the night.

Some jokes, of course, are played and there's generally someone "warned" to go and whitewash the "Last Post" or take the report of the gun to the Colonel. One lad who was too late for the report of the gun was sent back for the recoil. The Acton lad who was hauled out of bed at 3 a. m. to whitewash the "Last Post" enjoyed the joke himself and he says he must go back to camp next year because the post has to be kept white. There was only one case of sickness among the Acton men. Pte. Masters suffered severe pains for a day or so but recovered in time to parade with the Battalion for the trip home. Surely none of us are any the worse for the nine days under canvass.

Don't Disfigure the Streets

Someone is responsible for a dirty tar barrel with a plug a foot long sticking out of the bung and an old rag hanging to it, which has been disfiguring the corner of Mill and Main Streets for three weeks or more. A load of brick bats, and an old lime box has disfigured Mill Street, where the brick work of a new building was completed two weeks ago. Two or three piles of earth have disfigured Frederick Street, near Mill, ever since the pavement was laid last summer. A teamster's wagon has been unnecessarily standing at a new building on Frederick Street, when there was ample room on the lot inside to have it stand. All of these unnecessary and neglected matters give our streets an untidy appearance. Let's get them cleared away and say others which disfigure streets or boulevards.

Neighborhood News--Town and Country

OSPRINGE

In the death of Stewart McCutcheon on June 8 another name is stricken from the ever lessening roll of our old settlers. His widow in the autumn of life with the family are left to attest how sadly they will miss him. Yet in such a death there is no cause for grief. His life work was done and well done. He was born in March, 1835, on the old homestead, near Ospringe, where he made his home for eighty-three years. He then removed to Erin village, where he spent the declining years of his life. In 1870 he was united in marriage to Sarah Kennedy, to this union a family of seven were born; Mrs. H. Barbour, Erin, Hugh, James, David, and Robert; William in Rockwood and Clarence in U. C. Mr. McCutcheon was a member of the Presbyterian Church and a Conservative in politics. The funeral service was held at the Ospringe Presbyterian Church on Friday, June 10, Rev. John Lindsay officiating, after which the interment was made at Everton cemetery. His five sons and son-in-law acted as pall-bearers.

CREWSONS CORNERS

Mrs. Wm. Dennis met with an accident last Friday evening that might have proved serious. She and her daughter Kathleen were returning from visiting another daughter, Mrs. Melvin Burns, when the horse became frightened and ran away, running through the orchard. Miss Kathleen jumped out of the buggy and escaped injury, but Mrs. Dennis was thrown out against a fence and was severely bruised and shaken up and a gash cut in the side of her head. The services of a doctor and nurse were secured and she is improving. Her many friends hope she soon will be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Cripps, Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. D. A. Cripps were in Hanover during the week attending a convention.

Miss Lillian Alderson, Guelph, spent the week-end with Miss Olga Moore.

Rev. I. M. Moyer, who is visiting the Crewsons Corners members of his congregation this week will hold a prayer-meeting in the Methodist Church on Friday evening.

BALLINAFAD

The annual garden party of the Methodist Church on the lawn of Mr. S. H. Lindsay, last Wednesday evening, was a great success. The evening was one of the finest for an outdoor function of this character. The programme was a lengthy one but full of interest from beginning to end. Rev. W. L. Findlay, B. A., Acton, Mrs. J. C. Rush, Georgetown, and Mrs. Nicol, Acton, rendered solos of merit that were thoroughly appreciated by the audience. Mr. L. F. Greenwood, of Norval, delighted the assemblage with his various numbers. Messrs. Harold Rich and Will J. White, the comedians, provided barrels of fun for the crowd and kept everyone in first-class humor. The Acton Citizens' Band contributed a generous programme to the evening's entertainment. Interesting speeches were given by the chairman, Rev. Mr. Jewett, the pastor of the church, Rev. I. M. Moyer, of Acton, and Rev. N. Waddell. The warm evening made a brisk demand for the delicacies of the booth and swelled receipts from this quarter. This annual function of the Methodist Church of 1921 certainly surpassed all previous efforts.

NASSAGAWEYA

This is a week of special events in connection with Ebenezer Church. On Sunday Ladies' Day was observed with special services at which Rev. Roy M. Geiger, B. The baseball matches will take place on the grounds of Mr. Elwood Wilson in the afternoon, and tea will be served at the church. At eight o'clock there will be a grand concert with splendid talent.

Rev. J. T. Strachan, B. A., who is the interim moderator at Knox Church, Acton, during the vacancy, held a meeting with officials there on Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Stanley and Drew Fulton, of lot 30, concession 4, raised a fine bank barn last Wednesday afternoon. There was a good crowd gathered to assist them. Everything went up without a hitch. After the supper the young people cleared the floor and had a social dance.

The Ebenezer boys' baseball team played a game with the Knatchbull boys in Mr. Harvey Bridgeman's field at Knatchbull on Monday evening. The score was in favor of the visiting team.

The second anniversary of the opening of the Gordon Home was celebrated on its grounds last Thursday evening by a delightful garden party which was well attended, not only by Halton but by Peel people.

For some time the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks has been common here and a dangerous nuisance. A few days ago a little girl was knocked down by a wheel and her arm broken. On Monday evening a boy was paraded for this offence before Police Magistrate Dice, and two more yesterday evening. They were fined $1.00 each and costs, total about $5.00 each.—Champion.

BURLINGTON

Rev. G. W. Barker, who for four years was the pastor of the Methodist Church, Burlington, was remembered in a tangible manner by the congregation a few days ago, as he was about to leave for St. Catharines, where he becomes the pastor of the Welland Avenue Methodist Church. At a congregational meeting Mr. Barker was made the recipient of a purse of $200 in gold and a handsome club bag, while Mrs. Barker was presented with a beautiful tea service.
