The Logan Fire Investigation

Provincial Fire Marshall Decides the Fire Which Destroyed the Barns was Incendiary

It required two days last week for Provincial Fire Marshall Heaton, of Toronto, to hear the evidence of between thirty and forty witnesses at the enquiry in the burning of Hugh Logan's two barns, near Glenwilliams, the night of Logan's trial in Acton. An effort was made to establish the cause of the fires and to place the responsibility upon the guilty parties.

The Fire Marshall said he would report to the crown attorney certain facts that have been submitted in evidence. He declared that some circumstances arising during the investigation had not been as clearly established as they might have been. He expressed the opinion that the fires were of incendiary origin and said that neither pains nor money would be spared to bring the perpetrators to justice.

The investigation will be continued privately with the assistance of the crown.

Mrs. Lydia Merriday, a sister of Mrs. Hugh Logan, testified that on the day that Charles McNally was found dead in Logan's stable Mrs. James Norton visited her in disguise and asked her to tell the Logans that if they did not withdraw the charge of selling liquor against Jim Norton, he would leave Hugh Logan without a house or home and it would take every dollar he possessed to clear himself.

"Norton said he could send the Logan boys down for years, while Logan could only send the Norton boys down for months."

Mrs. Jessie Davidson told of her endeavors to prevent Jim Norton from supplying a man with liquor. "Norton said: 'Hugh Logan has sent that man to make trouble for me, let me get hold of Hugh Logan and I will make his long neck short. He gets off with fines, but before I get through with him he won't have means to pay fines.'"

The witness wrote down the name of the man in question and denied that Logan had sent him.

The investigation was not completed until Friday afternoon.

Milton G. W. V. A. Re-union

Three Days of Sport, Pleasure and Recreation

Great enthusiasm marked the three days of the war veterans' re-union at Milton.

Only one untoward incident occurred. George Stokes of the Woodbridge lacrosse team was accidentally knocked unconscious by George Yeates of the Brampton team, who rapped him over the head with his stick. Stokes was removed to a hotel, where he regained consciousness and was sent home. As a result of the accident the game was called off, with the score standing 3-all. Milton defeated Acton in a 10-inning league ball game, 4 to 3.

On Sunday special services were held in all the churches, and the citizens' band gave two concerts in Victoria Park. There was also a public service of worship in the park.

Monday afternoon there was a ball game between Bronte and Milton and a big open air dance on the Main Street pavement.

A Pastor Faithful to His People

The friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. Ralston Brown, B. A., both of whom are esteemed Acton young people, will be interested in knowing that they have continued on their charge at New Brigden, Alberta, for a fourth year. This was the earnest desire of the people of this circuit. When it is known that crops have failed in this section for three or four years in succession, and the work of this charge has been continued largely because Rev. Mr. Brown has fulfilled the duties of school teacher in addition to his arduous pastoral work at three or four appointments, and used the salary thus earned to augment the, willing, but necessarily limited, giving of the people, for the maintenance of the church's activities, the heroism of this Godly young couple will be appreciated. It is hoped the crops of 1921 will be ample and people and pastor be encouraged in their noble efforts.

—Farm dairy equipment, demonstrations and milk tests will take the place of the butter-making competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

Methodist Sunday School Pic-nic

The annual pic-nic of the Methodist Sunday School will be held on Tuesday, August 30, in Mr. Fred Denny's grove on the first line. It is hoped, now that the harvest is pretty generally in, that all the farmers of the congregation and their families will be able to participate. The committee hopes that sufficient motor cars will be placed at the disposal of the school so that scholars and teachers may enjoy a motor ride as a part of the afternoon's pleasures. It is expected that both Rev. Mr. Moyer and Rev. Mr. Barker will be present.

—The world's largest collection of war photographs from the Canadian Official Records will be shown at the C. N. E. this year.

BUSINESS EDUCATION.

If your son is heading for the professions of Dentistry, Medicine, Law, Ministry or Teaching, we are of very little service to him; but, if he is going into the more remunerative and greater world of business, or to remain on the farm, you are not treating him fairly if you do not equip him with a business education. When you are about to go to your long home, you will feel that your duty has been well done by putting your daughter in an independent position, able to earn her own living at any time through the uncertainties of life. Then too, you should give serious and searching thought in choosing a school. The Canada Business College, Toronto and Guelph, with ten other branches, are the largest trainers of young people in Canada. "A position for every graduate," is our slogan. Let the Canada Business College, over Bank of Nova Scotia, Guelph, train you. It is Western Ontario's high grade commercial school. Four out of every five stenographers and bookkeepers in this vicinity look to Toronto for a situation; so, you would be doing yourself a positive injury if you did not take your training at the C. B. C., Guelph, and then have the Canada Business College, Toronto, to take care of you, by way of positions for all time. Write Canada Business College, Guelph, corner Quebec and Wyndham Streets, for particulars re College and Home Study Courses. Special courses for farmers' sons. 5-3

Canadian music will be a feature at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.
