Sunday Cigarette Sale Punished

Charged with selling cigarettes on Sunday, the proprietor of the Tecumseh Hotel, London, was fined $10 and costs by Deputy Police Magistrate P. H. Bartlett in the police court. The prosecution was concluded on instructions received from Attorney-General Raney, and it is understood that a campaign against the selling of cigarettes on Sunday will be waged against all hotels and other such places where tobacco is sold.

Milton Shoe Factory Closed Up

The Milton Reformer says: "The machinery under lease at the Milton shoe factory, which has not been in operation for some time, was removed by the owners last week, which means, we suppose, that it is no longer to be used for the manufacture of footwear. This is a fine factory property, and with the improvement in the industrial world in the near future, it is to be hoped that the factory will again be in operation affording work to hands now idle."

Charged with Keeping a Still

On the 10th inst., Edward Floody, of the Inland Revenue Department and a Dominion officer visited Acton and in their inspection came across apparatus and mash suitable for the manufacture of spirits on the premises of Charles Provost, Mill Street. A quantity of the mash was taken to the Provincial analyst and found to contain a larger percentage of alcohol than the Inland Revenue Act permits. A charge has been laid which will come up for hearing at Police Court here to-morrow.

The Murray v. Murray Case

The hearing of the charge of Mrs. Marietta Murray against her husband James Albert Murray, for alleged cruelty and refusal and neglect without sufficient cause, to supply her with food and other necessaries, came before H. P. Moore, Police Magistrate, on Tuesday afternoon. A number of witnesses for the prosecution were heard but at 6 o'clock there were still several witnesses whose evidence in Mrs. Murray's behalf had not been taken. The case was therefore adjourned until Tuesday, 27th at 1.30 o'clock.

The Sportsman's Hunting Fever—When the summer days are over an' the nights are getting chill, an' the green has turned to gold on grassy plain an' wooded hill, when the frost in early mornin' shines upon the yellow sward, an' the flies an' the mosketers have gone to their last reward, when the song birds have departed for a more congenial clime, an' the ice man now at hauling coal is putting in his time, it is then a feelin' grips you—'tis a longin' most profound, to go huntin' with the hounds, here and there the country round.

Rally Day at Methodist Sunday School

Special emphasis is being given to the Rally Day service in the Methodist Sunday School next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. An interesting Rally Day programme has been prepared. This includes an address by Rev. A. C. Stewart, M. A., the new minister of Knox Church, who will receive a cordial welcome to the school. An effort is being made to secure the full attendance of every officer, teacher and scholar. A badge will be presented to each scholar in attendance. The parents and friends of the scholars have been invited. There will be an interesting service of song with orchestral accompaniment and selections.

Another Road Improvement Suggested

The work on the second line from Prof. Denny's to the Brick Church is nearing completion. Great improvement has been effected. When the gravel is all on and spread the roadway will be much better than ever before. When this work is finished a few days spent at the intersection of the first line with the Esquesing and Erin town line would greatly improve that point and remove an element of danger now existing. The steep hill at this crossing and large quantity of rolling stones render the place dangerous to both horse vehicles and motors. If cut down two or three feet and levelled across to the Erin side the work will add a decided improvement and remove the present danger.

Visiting His Boyhood's Home

Mr. John Ramsay, of Syracuse, N. Y., son of Mr. William Ramsay, of Glenorraville, N. Y., who left Acton with his family over thirty years ago, was here during the week visiting the place of his birth and the scenes of his boyhood. Mr. Ramsay, who was accompanied by Mrs. Ramsay and their two children, Miss Lucretia and Master Roderick, motored over in their fine Hatfield sedan, arriving here on Thursday from Toronto. They visited his birthplace on the Check Line, near where the home of the late George Douglas now stands. His father was employed at Smith's mills in those early days. The latter moved to Acton where he was foreman in the Glove Leather Tannery of Storey, Moore & Co., where the central building of the Acton Tanning Company's works now stand. Mr. Ramsay also visited the homes of his progenitors in the vicinity of Eden Mills, and inspected the unique monument of the late John Ramsay in Ebenezer cemetery, Nassagaweya. A few days were spent with friends in Acton, and in and about the familiar places of boyhood days. Mr. Ramsay is a prosperous business man of Syracuse, and has interested himself largely in religious matters and for the moral uplift of his adopted city. He has been prominently identified with the prohibition forces in Syracuse, and last year was nominated for the Mayoralty with a view to the proper enforcement of the Volstead Prohibition Act. When, however, he was able to secure a satisfactory undertaking from Mayor Farmer, who was in office, that enforcement would be effected under his administration, Mr. Ramsay retired from the contest. Mrs. Ramsay and their daughter are also workers in the church and community activities. Their visit here was very pleasant and many old friends met our former resident and his family. The Free Press is quite proud to acknowledge Mr. Ramsay as one of its apt apprentices back in the eighties.

Make Protest Against Paying Waterworks Tax

Upper Main Street Residents Claim They are not Liable Because Main Does Not Reach Them

TOWN HALL REPAIRS ORDERED

Council met in regular session on Monday evening with all the Councillors present and the Reeve in the chair.

The Finance Committee presented their nineteenth report and recommended payment of the following accounts:

General Accounts

John Gibbons, labor on drain	$186 60
Thos. Storey, Jr., labor on drain	24 80
George Dills, labor on streets and in cemetery	5 20
A. E. Cripps	1 85
Acton Free Press tax notices and poll book	21 25
J. W. Kennedy, supplies	2 20
W. F. Mooney, tile drain	182 24
	$423 54

Waterworks Accounts

J. W. Kennedy, supplies for services	$ 6 40
Dr. H. A. Coxe, supplies	30
Jas. Morrison Brass Mfg. Co., pumps	13 84
	$20 54

The report was adopted.

A deputation from that section of Main Street where no waterworks have been installed waited upon the Council and protested against payment of the taxes on the waterworks assessment.

Mr. McIvor, who was in the delegation, claimed he had had legal advice that the assessment for waterworks was not collectible by the town.

The Council assured the delegation that all properties in town paid taxes on this $40,000 of waterworks debentures, that the bonds were legally established, and that all proceedings were carefully registered and would stand any suit and the taxes would be collected.

The same delegation also requested that repairs be made to the sidewalk on Main Street. The Council agreed to temporarily repair the plank sidewalk at once.

Mr. L. Starkman requested that a tile be put under the sidewalk on Mill Street to drain the water from the lane between his property and Lindsay's Feed Store. The Council agreed to fix the drain as requested.

Repairs to the windows in the auditorium of the town hall were then discussed. The matter was turned over to Councillor Cordiner, chairman of the town hall committee, to hire competent men to do the work of making necessary repairs to the sash and putrying of windows and putting in new glass where necessary.

Various other repairs at the spring, the park and the road leading to the park, were also discussed, but no other action taken and all repairs were laid over until after the fair.

Council adjourned at 9.50 p. m.

Three Candidates To be Nominated In This County

The Conservatives, the Liberals, and the People's Political Party will be in it

DR. ANDERSON, M. P., NOMINATED ON MONDAY

At a largely-attended meeting of the Liberals of the county, held in Milton Friday night, it was unanimously decided to put a candidate in the field to contest the county in the coming Federal election. A convention for this purpose will be held there on Tuesday, September 27. The names of Dr. McCall, of Milton, ex-Warden Duncan Campbell, of Moffat, and Charles Readhead, another former warden, W. D. Gregory, of Oakville, and W. F. W. Fisher, of Burlington, are each mentioned as possible candidates.

The National Liberal Conservatives held their convention in Milton on Monday afternoon. The meeting was addressed by H. C. Hocken, M. P., of Toronto, Dr. R. K. Anderson, the sitting member, was the unanimous choice of the convention.

The nomination was made by George Hillmer, Reeve of Oakville, and Walter Elliott, of Nassagaweya. Short speeches were made by Mayor Davis, of Oakville, and George W. Morley, of Toronto.

On rising to speak, Dr. Anderson received an ovation. After thanking the large audience, the nomination candidate began his address by dealing with the three leaders in Dominion politics and the fiscal policy of each. There was a large attendance.

The Halton People's Political Party will hold their convention at Milton on Monday, 26th inst., and the towns have each been invited to send ten delegates to make up the truly people's party, according to Premier Drury's broadening-out policy. Mr. Drury will be the chief speaker. It is rumored that either James Waldbrook, of Oakville, or Harry M. Pettit, of Freeman, will be chosen as standard-bearer by the convention.

Indications are that Halton will have a triangular contest this time.

The Bowling Trophies

Preston Defeated in the Aim to Secure the Guelph Mercury Cup

A rather exciting contest was up on the greens of Acton Athletic Association last Saturday afternoon when one of Preston's strongest rinks came over to corral the Guelph Mercury cup. W. J. Gould's rink successfully defended the trophy again with the following score:—

R. Craig	Jno. Wood
J. King	G. Hynds, Jr.
R. Lumby, sk. 15	W. J. Gould, sk. 24
Preston 201,100,100,100,020,001.00—15

Burglar Fatally Shot

Constable Smith, of Burlington, Shot Naush Wasby Reid on Wednesday

Last Wednesday night, a little after 12 o'clock, Chief Constable Smith, of Burlington, found two men in an alleyway, in rear of stores. He went forward; heard the clash of breaking glass and just as he did so was hit in his face by what he thought was a stone.

He dropped to one knee and fired his revolver at one of the men. Both ran in different directions. He followed one for about a block, when the man stopped, throw up his hands, and said he was shot.

He appeared to be about 40 years of age and refused to give his name or any account of himself. The bullet had entered his abdomen. The constable took him to St. Joseph's Hospital, where doctors tried to locate the bullet.

The other man escaped.

The injury sustained by the burglar proved fatal and he died at the hospital on Saturday evening.

Deceased's name was Naush Wasby Reid, and he came from Oshawa. His identity did not become known until he passed away. He refused to give his name to the police officials, but on a solemn promise that if he lived the name would never be divulged he told Dr. Pearl, of Burlington, who he was.

Reid was about fifty years of age, and for thirty years he had been known to the police. His record is a long one, and includes many of the more serious crimes on the criminal calendar. He had a wife and two children.

The Fall Fair This Week Scores Again

Magnificent Showing of Inside Exhibits and Much Good Stock Entered

EARLY MORNING SHOWERS LAID THE DUST

The showers and cloudy morning yesterday did not hinder the merry time of the turnstile yesterday afternoon at the park when visitors to Acton Fall Fair crowded in. Co-operation between the directors and the residents of town and country generally made this popular fair one of the most successful in years in point of entries.

As the Free Press went to press before noon, to permit the staff to spend the afternoon enjoying the exhibition with the rest of folks, our report of the proceedings of yesterday is deferred until next issue.

Rarely has the hall display offered so attractive an appearance, and every class was represented with an exhibit highly creditable to the exhibitors and pleasing to the visitors to the fair. Upon stepping in at the main entrance the perspective was very striking. On 16 long tables in the centre of the hall there were, in well grouped sections, the surprisingly large showing of entries in Domestic Science, Baking and Dairy and Honey products; the unusually attractive display of Plants and Flowers and Cut Flowers, with a splendid variety invitingly arranged further along. To the right was the roots and vegetables department. This was well filled, and the artistically banked arrangement of collections of vegetables proved that "the year dropped fatness" in numbers of fields and gardens. The space on the north side of the hall was well-filled with a very attractive showing of entries in Fine and Decorative Arts, and a most creditable exhibition of Children's Work. The tables and walls at the rear of the hall were devoted to one of the finest and most comprehensive displays of Ladies' Work, Useful, and Ladies' Fancy Work that ever honored the fair. The arrangement by the directors and the ladies assisting them rendered the excellent collection attractive to the cursory inspection of visitors and readily examined by those more critical in their examination.

Altogether the hall display was a most attractive one and it received constant and complimentary comment from the streams of visitors on both days of the fair.

The entries in Domestic Science formed a great centre of attraction. It was declared by observant judges at many of the other fairs to have been more comprehensive and superior in many respects to the larger fairs held this season. The display of baking was certainly very commendible.

The floral department held a gratifying surprise to all. With the advanced season it was thought the entries in these classes would be very meagre; but the showing was magnificent. Of course numbers of classes such as sweet peas and other early blooming varieties were absent, but there was a wealth of bloom and fine showing of plants.

The fruit exhibit was very fine. Mr. Breckon, of Trafalgar, who swept Toronto exhibition, with thirty-three firsts, brought the same exhibit to Acton and it made the fruit department stand out with unusual prominence. Mr. J. H. Lane, of Georgetown, also had a fine list of entries.

In the Vegetable and Root classes there were many individual entries, but the collections in the society lists and specials, were very attractive. Those made by J. W. Savage, gardener for Mr. O. A. T. Beardmore, and George Skinner, the veteran truck gardener of Guelph, were greatly admired.

The classes in the Fine and Decorative Arts were fuller than usual. The usual list of professional exhibitors were largely in evidence as usual. It was a matter of much local pride, however, that the entries of Miss Mary K. Gibbons, the fifteen-year-old daughter of our townsman, Mr. Thomas B. Gibbons, won a large number of the prizes in these classes. This little lady is showing artistic talent of a high order, and a prominent place is opening to her as an artist.

An attractive exhibit in the hall was the display of bathroom and kitchen fixtures shown by W. F. Mooney. One piece commanded much attention. This was the new drinking fountain donated to the town by Acton Women's Institute. It is a dainty fixture and will be installed at the Government Building pavement in a few days.

Other mercantile exhibits were made by Johnstone & Co., furniture; Frank King, Brunswick gramophones, Georgetown; C. W. Kelly & Son, Heil pianos, Guelph; Mason & Risch, Guelph; J. Roberts, apiarist, Nassagaweya, and others.

The exhibit of the products of Acton Shoe Factory was a centre of attraction. The variety of boots and shoes for children was much admired.

The list of premiums won by the live stock and outside classes and the balance of the inside exhibit will be given next week.
