A Whiskey Still at Milton

Fred Morley's House Raided, Still Found, and a Fine of $500 Imposed

A few weeks ago officers of the Inland Revenue Department went to Speyside to search for a whiskey still alleged to be in operation there by a man living in Milton. The officers found the location, and indications that a still had been at work, but the apparatus had been removed.

On Wednesday evening of last week Maitland C. Beasley, excise officer, of Toronto, visited Milton with two detectives, and made a raid on the house of Fred Morley. There they found a distilling outfit consisting of a copper worm, an ordinary copper boiler and a hard pail, capacity about five gallons, to hold cold water and the worm.

The three parts were hidden in different places. There was no mash.

On Thursday morning Morley was brought before Police Magistrate Dice, charged under the Inland Revenue Act with having in his possession a still. He pleaded guilty and was fined $500, with $25 costs.

Very Successful Concert

By the Pupils of Acton Schools Last Wednesday Night

Never before was the town hall so completely jammed with humanity as at the school concert, last Wednesday evening. The pupils were there in full force, those who took part in the programme and those who came to see the others "say their pieces." Of course the fathers and mothers were there to see how the kiddies got along, and the uncles and aunts were there, just to encourage the little things, you know. And there were some grandparents there, and they were just as much interested as any of the kiddies; renewing their youth, no doubt. The hall was alarmingly jammed. Really there were more persons present than should legally have been permitted admission to the auditorium.

And the programme. Here it is. Sufficient of it for two good full evenings, and every number one of merit and interest. The pupils certainly acquitted themselves with credit to themselves and their teachers:

Part I—Selection, High School Orchestra; chairman's address; recitation, "We Help," Pompy Gibbons; opening number, Top Senior Primary Pupils; dialogue, "The Meaning of Christmas," Marion Rigby and Mildred Walsh; recitation, Jack Savage; folk dance, "Chimes of Dunkirk," Junior Primary; recitation, Arthur Lawson; recitation, Lillian Perry; song, "The Little Bakkero"; recitation, Nora Waterhouse; chorus, Senior Primary Class; recitation, "Seeing Things," Helen Outrander; recitation, "Ma's Tools," Harry Wyatt; shoemaker's dance, Boys of First Book Class; recitation, "Hide and Seek," Meryl Grindell; exercise, "The Days of the Week," First Book Pupils; solo and chorus, "Kentucky Babe," Senior Second Class Girls; recitation, Eight Senior Primary Pupils; chorus, First Book; recitation, "Just So," Dorothy Campbell; recitation, Jack Reid.

Part II—Selection, Orchestra; song, Six Junior Second Pupils; recitation, "How the Leaves Come Down," Lucy Goldham; dialogue, "Professor Frog's Lecture"; song, "Holes in Our Stockings," Five Girls; recitation, Stewart Malcolm; recitation, "Black on One Side," Two Boys; exercise, "Our Christmas Dolls," Eight First Book Girls; Wand Drill, Fourth Book Boys; chorus, "Santa Lucia," Junior Second Class; recitation, "Mike's Prayer," Elsie Parsons; Danish dance of greeting, First Book Pupils; recitation, Willie Little; recitation, Martha Wilson; instrumental solo, Jean Orr; tableau, Third Book Pupils; dialogue, "The Ruggles," High School Pupils; recitation, Max Starkman; Flag Song and Drill, Fourth Book Girls; recitation, Marjorie Lawson.

A feature of the evening was an excellent address by Chief McDonald, of the Fire Brigade. He was appointed to present the medal donated by the Ontario Fire Prevention League to the pupils who had been awarded medals for the best essays on "Fire Prevention." Howard Hatham and Francis Gibbons were the successful essayists. Chief McDonald congratulated them upon the excellence of their essays. He thought it an excellent plan to inoculate in the boys and girls at the schools knowledge respecting the destruction wrought by fires annually in Canada, and to formulate effective methods for fire prevention. The Chief also invited the interest of citizens generally in supporting and encouraging the Fire Brigade and assisting them with their apparatus in going to and from fires.

Rev. L. M. Moyer, Chairman of the Trustee Board, made a brief address congratulating the school upon the success of their annual entertainment.

H. P. Moore, Police Magistrate, was the chairman of the evening.

Mail Your Christmas Parcels Early

Remember that thousands of others are mailing an unusual number of letters and parcels too at this season and if they all pile up together the last few days, it is impossible to get everything handled and delivered on time, and somebody is bound to be disappointed. Mail early, and see that your friends get your Christmas greetings before the day's festivities are over.
