School Fairs in Peel County

Wide Interest Taken by the Pupils of the 74 Schools

The staff at the Department of Agriculture at Brampton has been exceptionally busy this week, preparing packages of seeds and grains and also packing eggs for the young competitors of the annual school fairs.

An unusually large number of eggs, 307 settings, were asked for. Following is the list of seeds, grains, etc., sent out: Carrots, 284; grain, 146; garden peas, 124; mangels, 114; turnips, 78; parsnips, 82; potatoes, 294; beets, 314; field corn, 65; sweet corn, 100; flowers, 396.

Six school fairs are held at Brampton, Cooksville, Inglewood, Caledon, Ebenezer and Bolton, including 74 schools, with nearly 1,600 pupils.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES

As a result of the installation of a waterworks system, should there not be a reduction of insurance rates on property within the municipality? This was surely expected.

The Writer's experience in policies recently renewed, has been that a higher, instead of a lower, rate is demanded.

No doubt the Council will look after the people's interests in regard to this matter in which all are concerned.

ENQUIRER.

[The Council has the matter of reduced rates of insurance in hand. Tests have been made by officers of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, and a survey been taken of all insured property. The Council is awaiting results, and hopes to be advised of a reduction of at least ten per cent. in rates.—The Editor.]

WATCH FOR "JUNGLELAND" NEXT WEEK

The date of the Kellogg "Jungleland" campaign advertising has been set forward one week, April 18 to May 3, instead of April 11 to 25.

The demand for Kellogg's Waxtite Corn Flakes with the "Jungleland" book for children has already been so great and so far exceeded expectations, that the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., of Toronto, find it impossible to take care of the orders received to date and at the same time produce sufficient goods to get proper distribution in this locality. The first advertisement will appear in this paper next week.

R. J. KERR'S LIST OF SALES

Thursday, April 20.—C. A. Downes, farm stock.

Saturday, April 22.—Mr. J. Wilderspin, household effects.

Monday, April 24.—Mrs. Wm. Cudick, Moffat, farm stock and implements.

This Man Really Loves Babies

Harry I. Dalsey, architect, who is building at Chicago a 33-apartment house with a perambulator stall for each tenant, has announced that each tenant who receives a call from Dr. Stork will receive a cash present of $25. Should twins be left, he'll make it $50. "I want to see lots of children around my building, for they make happy homes," Mr. Dalsey said.

Shine Your Own Shoes, Young Fellows

The London Advertiser says, rather ironically, it surely is an inspiring thing to see a string of able bodied young men, some of them in knee pants, sitting in a shoe shine chair having their shoes shined for them at 10 or 15 cents a pair. The Renfrew Mercury comments as follows: "You're right, brother. We're glad to know that we are not the only one who still indulges in that fine old indoor sport of shining our own shoes."

—Mr. N. Forbes has sold one of his building lots on Knox Avenue to Mr. Lawrence Williams, who will erect a residence for himself there at once.

—So far, look where they may, and experiment as they have, no person has yet found a successful substitute for an advertisement in a newspaper.

—Palm Sunday morning was rather gloomy, but the day was delightfully spring like. Bright warm sunshine and spring weather is hoped for by all for Easter.

—Wellington Singular, proprietor of the Western Hotel, Guelph, was fined $1,000.00 and costs by Magistrate Watt on Saturday for having liquor on his premises.

—Traffic laws do not say that a pedestrian must jump six feet when the honker honks. It's optional with him. He has the right of way, if he only knows it.

—"Grandmother's Day" was observed by Bowmanville Women's Institute last Friday. This Society has 22 grandmothers and three great-grandmothers.

—Merchants who advertise are bidding for your trade. Behind their advertising are their best efforts to please you, in price as well as in other particulars.

—Housecleaning will likely reveal articles that you will not need, but are still serviceable. Advertise them in the Free Press and turn them into ready money.

—A euchre, party and social evening will be held on Wednesday evening, April 19, at St. Joseph's Parish Hall. Father Goodrow would like the pleasure of your company.

—Kindly keep off the boulevards. Some thoughtless people evidently have poor eyesight in this respect and consequently the boulevards suffer in their present soft condition.

—A few handy men to assist in cleaning carpets, washing windows, assisting generally with the annual Housecleaning could pick up profitable employment in Acton.

—Good Friday will be a statutory holiday when business places will be closed. Easter Monday is a bank holiday, which fact should not be overlooked by business people.

—Guelph Horticultural Society has 1,200 members and aims to reach 1,500. Acton has relatively as many with 210 members, or a member to every ten of the population.

—Easter is Easter to us now, not because Jesus rose long ago, but because Jesus still lives, and because there are among us those who know that He lives.—Youth's Companion.

—That the April showers bring May flowers is true, and very soon the pale sweet-scented blossoms of the bloodroot and hepatite will be found at the Breezes and other neighboring groves.

—The shipping of turnips and potatoes is over for the season at this market. The last turnips shipped were bought at 25c per bushel. The last two cars of potatoes brought only 50c at the car.

—On Saturday, the first of April, farmers came to town with their sleighs and cutters. Last Saturday, with the temperature at 65 degrees, the snow had absolutely disappeared, and the bare roads were nearly hub deep in mud.

—Mrs. Peter McDonald, Park Avenue, received word that her son, James, at Barnaby Lake, B. C., who broke his ankle during the Christmas holidays, had just been unfortunate enough to again break the ankle, which was just nicely healing from the first fracture.

A Kindly Farewell

By the Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Binnie, of Erin

One evening last week the friends of Mr and Mrs. Frank Binnie, of Erin, who are removing from the old home, met to spend a social evening.

The following address was accompanied with appreciated tokens of friendship:

To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Binnie:

We, your friends and neighbors, have gathered here to spend a social hour with you on the eve of your departure from your old home.

We feel that your removal from our midst will be a distinct loss to the neighborhood. Your many acts of kindness during the long period in which you have resided amongst us have been much appreciated.

We are glad to know that in going to your new home you will not be far removed from us, and we look forward with pleasure to future sociabilities with you. We congratulate you on the fact that you are leaving such a worthy successor in the person of Mr. McKechnie, a respected citizen of this neighborhood.

May we further say that it is our earnest desire that you may have much happiness in your new home and that God's blessing may abundantly rest upon you, and now in leaving us, we would like you to carry with you some token of our esteem and affection. We ask you, Mr. Binnie, to accept this pipe, and Mrs. Binnie, this cassero; that in their use you may enjoy some pleasure and serve as a medium to recall pleasant memories of your old friends and neighbors.

Signed on behalf of the friends and neighbors.

Mr. Binnie made a feeling reply and thanked the donors for their kind words and beautiful presents.

"BIG PETER," BY ARCHIBALD MARSHALL

Archibald Marshall is one of the popular English authors of these days. His previous works, "The Squire's Daughter," and "The Hall and the Grange," won a large place in the favor of readers of fiction on both sides of the Atlantic. Mr. Marshall is best known and loved for his stories of English country life, as depicted in the above books, but he has occasionally permitted himself the luxury of an excursion into more imaginative fields as in "The House of Merriless," and "Upidonia." "Big Peter" is different. It has sufficient of the charming English country atmosphere, and yet it is quite melodramatic in its plot. The hero, a fine manly young man, who grew up in Australia, in the bush, in fact, suddenly finds himself most unexpectedly the rightful heir to a large titled estate in England. Quick surprises and complications follow, including Peter's arrest on the charge of a serious crime alleged against him. In the course of these exciting events he discovers the girl of his dreams and finally comes into his own with his undisputed right to title and estate, and a heartful of happiness. The Ryerson Press are the Canadian publishers. Price $2.00.

APRIL ROD AND GUN

The April issue of Rod and Gun in Canada is a particularly attractive one, and from cover to cover it abounds in bright, interesting features. The stories include a splendid contribution from the pen of Frank Houghton, entitled, "The Trail of a Golden Hour;" while "Birds," by Phil H. Moore, is also worthy of special mention. Bonnycastle Dale is the author of "Our Wild Decoys." The various departments contain a wealth of valuable information, as usual. A complete report of the annual meeting of the Northern Ontario Outfitters and Guides, is given. A handsome art cover by F. V. Williams, who also contributes a short story, will likewise attract attention to this month's issue. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly at Woodstock, Ontario, by W. J. Taylor, Limited.

THE NATURAL COMMENT

London children certainly get some quaint views of life, says the Bellman. An instance of this recently occurred in an East-End Sunday School, where the teacher was talking to her class about Solomon and his wisdom.

"When the Queen of Sheba came and laid gold and jewels and costly spices before Solomon, what did he say?" she asked presently.

One small girl, who had evidently had experience in such matters, promptly replied:

"Ow much d'yer want for the lot?"

PUT SOMETHING DIFFERENT INTO YOUR DAY

Life was not meant to be monotonous. You may search the garden through and never find two blossoms just alike. Even though our days have much the same programme, it was never intended that they should be tedious and dull for lack of variety. Instead of grumbling about the monotony of existence, set about putting something different into every day, a little fun here, a little kindness there. A quick wit and a willing heart will provide all the variety needed.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

Professor (in engineering class)—What's a dry dock?

Stude—A physician who won't give out prescriptions.—

WHAT KIND OF BAIT

Young Lady (on first visit to Western Ranch)—For what purpose do you use that coil of line on your saddle?

Cowpuncher—That line, as you call it, lady, we use to catch cattle and horses.

Young Lady—Oh, indeed! Now, may I ask, what do you use for bait?
