DIED

ALLAN—At Guelph, on Tuesday, January 9, 1923, Kate Bullock, wife of Sheriff A. S. Allan, in her 74th year.

STRACHAN—At Guelph, on Tuesday, January 9, 1923, John Strachan, of the Customs Department, aged 44 years.

HASSARD—At Mono Mills, on Saturday, January 6, 1923, Jane Snell, widow of the late James Hassard, and mother of E. J. Hassard, Acton, aged 73 years.

IN MEMORIAM

REID—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Daniel Reid, who passed away at Glenwilliams on January 11, 1921.

It was hard to lose you, mother dear,
But God, who knows best,
Held wide His loving arms and said,
"Come unto Me and I will rest."
DAUGHTERS.

COON—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. I. Coon, who died on January 8, 1921.

My dear mother, how I long for you,
Because mothers like you are very few.
I miss you so in the morning
And I miss you so at night;
The days are long without you
And nothing seems just right.
A better mother never lived,
Nor one more true and kind,
Worthy of everlasting love,
By those you left behind.
Sadly missed by Husband and Daughters.

New Dairy Building at O. A. C.

The $250,000 Structure One of Finest Equipped on the Continent

The new dairy building, which has recently been completed by the Ontario Government at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, was officially opened on Tuesday evening by Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture. The opening of this fine building, which cost over a quarter million dollars, marks a new era in the advancement of the dairy industry in Ontario. It is generally considered to be the finest equipped building in America.

The large lecture room of the building was filled, with an overflow into the corridors, and every department was open for inspection. In addition to a large number of local citizens, there were also present the delegates to the Ontario Experimental Union and the annual meeting of the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association.

Prof. Dean, in his opening remarks, extended a welcome to all former students and instructors. He gave credit to Hon. Handing Doherty for making such a building possible.

The chair was occupied by Mr. J. N. Allen, B. S. A., president of the Western Dairymen's Association, who referred briefly to the development of the dairy industry in Ontario, and expressed the opinion that the new building would serve further the great needs of dairying.

President Reynolds extended a formal welcome on behalf of the O. A. C. to the guests of the evening. The advancement of the dairy interests in the province, he said, had made the construction of this new building and its equipment necessary, and he hoped that the dairy industry would receive full recognition by the various dairy interests in the Province.

Hon. Manning Doherty officially opened and dedicated the building to the dairy interests of Ontario. He did not desire to take any credit for himself for its construction, but felt that the dairy industry of the Province, which was one of the most important branches of agriculture, was deserving of better facilities for instruction in cheese and butter making. He traced the history of the development of the department at the college, and hoped that with the aid of this building, the people of the Province would receive the benefit, which it was intended they should receive.

—At the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, of the Methodist Church, at Moorecroft this afternoon, Mrs. Henry, of Guelph, one of the District Officers, will deliver an address.

—Ald. William Stephens was elected Mayor of Guelph by his colleagues on Monday. He is a native of Guelph, has spent his life in the city, and his father, James Stephens, who is 93 years of age, is still living.

—One of our local residents can beat the report of the Brantford man, who saw a meadow lark on Monday. Mr. Donald Robertson, while out strolling on Christmas Day, saw a meadow lark near the railroad track.

—A Palmerston boy, who was out shooting with some chums on Sunday afternoon, stumbled, his gun was discharged, and the contents of both barrels entered the lower part of his abdomen. He is not expected to recover.

—M. Cone has arrived in the United States to tell the people that day by day in every way they are getting better and better. This was not exactly the message of the other distinguished Frenchman who recently sailed for home.—Mail and Empire.

—The graduation exercises in the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday afternoon were full of interest. The youthful graduates from the Primary to the Intermediate Department of the school gave ample evidence that they had carefully studied and learned the scriptural requirements for promotion.

—Mr. John J. Smith, who recently purchased the meat business of Mr. W. Landsborough, took possession last week. Mr. Smith had several years experience and should do well. Mr. Landsborough served the people well during the five years he was in business and had a long list of well satisfied customers.

—Yes, Mr. Merchant, the holidays are past, but that doesn't mean that the public is going to stop buying. The business man, who, satisfied with a bumper holiday trade, lapts in his advertising efforts now, only invites an after-holiday business slump which aggressiveness, including creation of the proper atmosphere by advertising, will go many to forestall.

NASSAGAWEYA

Little Miss Pearl Ramshaw, aged 2 years and 1 month, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Ramshaw, of Knazzhull, died on Friday morning, after about two weeks' sickness. Mrs. Ramshaw, her mother is also ill. Pearl was a bright and cheerful little girl, and was loved by all who knew her. The funeral took place on Sunday to the Friends' Cemetery, Rockwood, and was a very large one. Rev. G. S. Cassmore of Ebenezer Church, officiated. The bereaved family have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

The Nassagaweya Council met for organization and business last Monday.

The sleighing is fairly good again, and those who have wood and logs to team are making good use of it.

Mrs. George Norrish passed away on Tuesday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Wilson. She was in her 87th year.

OSPRINGE

In the election for Deputy Reeve D. J. Sinclair won out with a fine vote of 272 to D. Ferguson's 196.

The Councillors elected were: J. McIntyre, 299; G. Bryan, 295; and H. Wheeler, 285. W. Graham received 183 votes.

Ospringe stood by Sinclair with a good vote. At Leslie's School he received all the votes polled but two, at Hillsburgh every vote was cast for him.

The annual school meeting was largely attended by the ratepayers and the following trustees were again re-elected for another year, W. Robertson, T. D. McCutcheon, Robert Van Norman. Miss Cooke, teacher, continues in charge of the school.

The skating is excellent on our ponds and river, with the young people enjoying many delightful moonlight evenings.

John Cutting, of the second line, has purchased a farm near Guelph and Mr. McArthur will again take charge of his farm.

ROCKWOOD

Mr. James Stovel, of Edmonton, is visiting his brother, Mr. Jos. Stovel. Mr. Stovel, who was a hardware merchant in Edmonton, has disposed of his business there.

Mrs. A. Fitzmaurice, of Detroit, spent the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Henry Holman.

Miss Helen Barry came home from London for two months on account of ill health. Mr. M. P. Barry was also confined to the house for a few days with a severe cold.

The annual meeting of the Agricultural Society will be held in the town hall on Saturday, January 20.

The annual meeting of the Horticultural Society was held in the town hall last evening.

The Girls' T. I. S. Bible Class, of the Presbyterian Church, met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. J. A. Little, one evening last week. After a dainty supper had been served by the hostess, the class presented Mrs. John Locker (nee Edna Barlow) with a beautiful sandwich tray and plates to match. Mrs. Locker, who, previous to her recent marriage, was a faithful member of the class executive, thanked the girls for their remembrance. During the evening all enjoyed a social hour together.

The village municipal elections were held on New Year's Day, and, considering the icy condition of the streets, a very fair vote was polled; 126 ballots were cast out of a possible 175. Many voters found difficulty in marking their ballots as all the candidates were worthy citizens. The commissioners elected are as follows: W. M. Harris, 69; Fred McWilliams, 64; S. H. Pearl, 63.

The splendid short courses arranged by the Agricultural Department are in progress this week with an attendance of between two and three hundred.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thaker, of North Battleford, Sask., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thaker. Friends here are glad to welcome this popular young man and his wife to his home town.

Mr. John McPhail, of Carmen, Man., arrived last week to visit his mother, Mrs. Wm. McPhail.

Mr. Walter Bernard, of Regina, is visiting relatives here after a long absence.

Miss T. Sanderson, Wreelton, and Miss Clarke, Woodstock, arrived last week to take up their new duties on the staff of the Public School.

The resignation of Miss M. Milroy, of the Public School staff, is much regretted by her friends. Miss Milroy has secured a position on the Public School staff in Toronto.

Mr. Ross McPhail had the misfortune to fall on the ice the other day and fracture his collar bone.

General sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Ramshaw in the death of their little daughter, Pearl, after about two weeks' illness.

OBITUARY

REV. S. C. PHILP

After sixty years of married life the earthly partnership between Rev. S. C. Philp and his wife has been severed by death. After a brief illness, Mr. Philp passed away last Wednesday, 3rd inst. He was in his 87th year. The deceased was one of the old school of Methodist preachers, and had held charges in Acton, Markham, Cookville, Port Perry and other places throughout Ontario. He was his father's assistant when pastor of the church here in 1856, and his next charge was at St. Marys. He is survived by his wife and eight daughters. Rev. Mr. Philp was superannuated sixteen years ago, and has since resided in Toronto.

MISS JAMES HASSARD, Mono Mills

With great suddenness Mr. E. J. Hassard, druggist, was bereft by the death of his mother, who resided with her son John, at Mono Mills, last Saturday. The old lady was in her usual health the day before, and was out for a drive and enjoyed it. An arterial rupture in the heart was the cause of her sudden passing away. Mrs. Hassard's maiden name was Jane Spiell. She and her husband, the late James Hassard, who predeceased her three years ago, spent their married life in Peel county. She was one of a family of nine brothers and sisters. Three brothers and three sisters attended the funeral on Monday. Last spring Mrs. Hassard had the misfortune to fall and fracture her arm. This naturally was a serious accident to one of her age. She was a mother beloved, a neighbor highly esteemed, and a member of the Methodist Church from her girlhood days. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. Alfred Laycock, Methodist minister, of Caledon East, assisted by Rev. Mr. Matheson, Mono Mills. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hassard attended the funeral.

JOHN STRACHAN, Guelph

Following an illness of comparatively short duration, death removed one of Guelph's prominent citizens on Tuesday afternoon, when John Strachan, of the Customs Department, passed away. While he had been in failing health for a few weeks it was not thought that his illness was of a serious character until Sunday afternoon, when he suffered a slight stroke and was removed to the General Hospital. On Monday there was another, and from that time until death relieved his sufferings he gradually became weaker. There was no more well-known or highly esteemed citizen in Guelph than the late Mr. Strachan, and his death will be sincerely regretted by a host of friends throughout this part of Ontario. The funeral will take place this Thursday, afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence, 44 Arthur Street, to the Guelph cemetery. John Strachan was a son of the late Rev. Donald Strachan, Rockwood, and a brother of the late Rev. Dr. D. Strachan, Toronto. He spent his boyhood days in Rockwood, and while still making the Manse his home attended the old Rockwood Academy and spent a number of years in teaching in the public schools. About thirty years ago he was appointed to the staff of the Customs Office at Guelph, which position he occupied until his death. For several years, during the holidays of Customs Officer McDonald, of Acton, Mr. Strachan has taken his place and conducted the business of this port of entry. For more than forty years John Strachan was an accomplished elocutionist and many an audience he entertained in Acton, Rockwood, Fergus, Elora and in all the countryside, with his splendid Scottish dialect selections and his witty well-told anecdotes and stories. He was a social favorite—a great bowler, an efficient officer, a useful man. He was prominent in many circles in the life of the city, and was well known as an entertainer. He was a past master of Waverley Lodge, No. 161, A. F. & A. M., past president and bard of St. Andrew's Society, chairman of the School Management Committee of the Board of Education, past president of the Guelph Lawn Bowling Club, president of the Burns Club, member of the Guelph Choral Society, and took an interest in everything which pertained to the interests of the city. He was unmarried.

Can't Fool Post Office Department

Time and Trouble Wasted in Sending Liquor Parcels by Mail

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Earnest citizens who attempted to defeat the ends of prohibition by parcelling as "crock" to look like a baby's doll or a bundle of bonds and then mailing it to a friend in a distant city usually lose the bottle, the stamps and the time and ingenuity required to arrange the parcel to look like something else.

"Do you discover much liquor going through the mails?" an inspector of the Post Office Department was asked to-day.

"Quite a lot," he replied.

"What do you do with it?" asked the interested inquirer.

"Give it to the hospitals," the postal man replied.

—Now that the elections are over let us indulge in a little Coueism and every day and every way make the town better and better. It can be done by all getting down to the job.—Collingwood Bulletin.

A SHOPPING TEMPTATION

An original reason was given by a woman who has adopted the "shop by post" habit for doing her purchasing by her own fireside. She explained that by shopping through the medium of a letter she was spared the awful temptation of buying articles that she had no actual need for. When she sallies forth in person she usually comes home with half a dozen things that she never intended to acquire but on the stay-at-home principle she is spared the temptation.

AWFUL

"Oh, I'm in such a perspiration!" cried a high school girl, as she fanned herself with her tennis racket.

"Miss Frankland," rebuked the austere head mistress, "I hope I shall never again hear such an expression. Kindly remember that oxen sweat, man perspires, but young ladies glow."
