Georgetown Defeats Acton Students

Although the lid is down on the local hockey season, some of our hockey teams still journey into foreign fields for one last gallop after the old rubber. Last Thursday the local High School team were defeated by Georgetown students by a 3 to 2 score on Georgetown's new arena. The local boys evidently expected easy picking and only took six players along. Before the game was nearly over the local boys were "all out of puff" and slowly began to weaken. Georgetown continually used subs and so were fairly fresh most of the time. The game was rather rough, both teams "mixing it up" more than necessary. Reid starred for Acton, while Ross and Filkin were the goal getters. Play was fairly even until the locals grew weary of the battle.

A Pretty Home Wedding

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at 2.30 on Wednesday, March 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Near, Erin township, when their eldest daughter, Pearl Drusilla, was united in marriage to Alexander Ivan Dessey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dessey, Orton. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father and took her place under an arch of evergreens and carnations, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. L. A. Worden. The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk and wore a bridal veil arranged in cap effect, with bridal wreath, and carrying bridal roses and maiden hair ferns. She also wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. Rev. Charles Hackett, Acton, officiated. During the signing of the register a solo was rendered by Mr. L. A. Worden. After supper the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and best wishes for Toronto. The many gifts received by the bride and groom testified to the esteem in which they were held by their large circle of friends.

A Tribute to the Late Mrs. Lindsay

A beautiful tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. N. F. Lindsay was paid by Rev. Chas. Hackett at the memorial service in the Methodist Church last Sunday evening. Basing his discourse on 1 Cor. 13: 12, "Now I know in part, but then shall I fully know." "We are met to-night to study the problems of life and to pay our tribute to one who has lived for many years among you," Rev. Mr. Hackett said in his introduction. You have known her fine womanhood, her splendid motherhood, her family life, and her Christian character and influence. At times like these we pause to ask: "What is the reason of these things?" Such a loss is common but it does not make our own loss any less bitter when it comes to us. Paul faced the questions we have to face; the problems and perplexities of life. At present we see only dimly, we know only in part, but some day all will be changed, and fully we shall understand. There is a hope that inspires hope. There is that spirit which thinks not of the nightfall, but of the daybreak. There is a confidence that will not be confined. There is the conviction that in this world all things are not haphazard; a plan divine which God only can reveal. There are experiences and crises which need the divine explanation. There is the sure hope of immortality; the maturity of the life beyond. The anticipations of the larger life. Ideals will then be realized as they cannot be realized here. Personality shall be perfected; the life eternal will be one grand sweet song. Then shall I fully know, even as I am fully known. Death is the preparation for life's new day. The special music by the choir was appropriate and comforting.

The house on Church Street belonging to D. H. Lindsay has been sold to Ernest Cripps, Erin township, also the double rough-cast house on Main Street, owned by Mrs. J. A. Mowat, has been sold to Walter Lamb. Both these sales were negotiated by R. J. Kerr, real estate agent.

Tried Swanson's Yarn About Pig Feed

The Alliston Herald tells of a man in New Lowell who was fined last week $300 and costs for having 40 gallons of mash which would make liquor. It contained wheat, raisins and potatoes. When being examined at the trial Alfred Thompson, the accused, said "It was just pig feed."

No Gun Without a Permit

At the annual meeting of the Game and Fisheries Association at Toronto last week the following motions were unanimously supported: "That a close season be placed on beaver, otter, martin and fisher for three years; that trapping licenses be granted to British subjects only; that no person be allowed to carry a gun into the bush without taking out a permit, and that permits be issued only to British subjects or bona fide settlers."

Halton Deanery Anglican Choirs

A meeting of the musical committee of the Halton Deanery Anglican Choirs was held at the rectory last Thursday and a choral festival, to be held at Oakville on the evening of Thursday, May 10, was arranged for. Music for the festival was selected. A rehearsal will be held on the afternoon of the festival of all the church choirs in the deanery, and the massed choirs will be entertained to supper by the ladies of St. Jude's Church, Oakville, prior to the service. Canon Plummer, of Toronto, an accomplished musician himself, will probably preach the sermon. Mr. Fletcher, of Oakville, organist and choir leader of St. Jude's Church, will conduct the service, which will be fully choral.—Burlington Gazette.

Send Your Easter Greeting

Easter is coming again in another week, the festival of hope and springtime. How the youngsters love to get those fascinating Easter cards, with their snow-white bunnies and fluffy yellow chicks, or a wonderful chocolate egg. Mail time to them at Easter is next thing to Christmas. And to the older people, well, at least it marks definitely the ending of the long cold winter, the coming of sunshiny days, and flowers, and new growth of all kinds, to some, perhaps, a flutter in new raiment, to match the radiant springtime. But, besides all these more frivolous considerations, comes the deeper and the real significance of this season; the reminder of the first Easter and all it meant to mankind. Remember the kiddies when the time comes; send them at least a post card of the real Easter kind, or perhaps a nice big chocolate egg to divide among them. If you send the egg, though, be sure it is carefully done up for mailing, in a substantial box with lots of fluffy packing so that it will arrive in good condition. And be sure you mail your cards and Easter eggs in good time. Help the postal service and give folks a good time all around.

OBITUARY

JOHN WESLEY ELLIOTT

Much sympathy is felt for David Elliott, Church Street, in the death of his first-born son, John Wesley Elliott, on Monday, in his twentieth year. The young man had been ill for several months with stomach trouble, and during the long tedious winter he gradually failed. He was an Acton boy, born here, and lived all his life in town. He had great love for his home, and spent most of his leisure there. The death of his mother a year ago, was a great sorrow and loss to him. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, Rev. A. C. Stewart, M. A. officiating.

SAMUEL McCLURE, Glenwilliams

One of the sturdy highly-esteemed residents of Esquesing passed away at Glenwilliams on Sunday, in the person of Samuel McClure, who was born seventy-four years ago, a mile or so from the place of his death. Two years ago Mr. McClure suffered from a stroke and has never been well since. A second stroke followed a couple of weeks ago, accompanied by an attack of congestion of the lungs. The enfeebled body was unable to throw off this trouble. For many years Mr. McClure conducted the farm which was the family homestead, lot 25, con. 9, Esquesing, just above Glenwilliams. Twenty-five years ago he retired from farming and settled in the Glen. On April 15, 1885, he was married to Margaret McGillivray, who survives him. They had no children. Of his parents' family of nine sons and daughters the following survive: Benjamin, at Lucknow; William, at Vancouver, B. C.; David, at Regina, Sask.; and Mrs. John Harvey, Acton. Mr. McClure was a quiet reserved man, of upright character, a good neighbor, and a splendid citizen. He was a member of Union Presbyterian Church. Although in very poor health Mr. McClure attended the great McClure family re-union at Churchville on June 15 last. It is a co-incidence that Mrs. Thomas McClure, mother of Garfield McClure, Brampton, the president of the McClure Association, who also attended the re-union, also died on Sunday, and her funeral was held at the same hour on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. McClure's funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Patterson, his pastor, and interment was made at Norval.

MRS. CAROLINE MacPHERSON

Mrs. Caroline MacPherson had been in poor health for over a year; though only confined to her bed for the last six weeks. Death came peacefully and quietly early Friday morning, March 16, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Hynds, 556 St. Clarens Avenue, Toronto. Mrs. MacPherson was in her seventy-ninth year. She was born in England and came from Liverpool to this community fifty-three years ago. She married her late husband in 1870. He predeceased her sixteen years ago. Mrs. MacPherson was a respected resident of Acton and vicinity for over forty years. She left the farm on the second line twenty years ago and settled in Acton. In 1919 she went to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Hynds, in Toronto. Four sons and two daughters are left to mourn her loss: James, of Govan, Sask.; Robert of Acton; William, of Hartney, Man.; Christopher, of May, Y. T.; Mrs. Chas. Erwin, East Rochester, N. Y.; and Mrs. Chas. Hynds, Toronto. Mrs. Erwin, James and Robert were privileged to be with their mother at the last. The funeral service, largely attended by relatives and friends, was held at eleven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hynds, in Toronto, and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. James Wilson, of Dovercourt Road Presbyterian Church. The body was brought by the one o'clock G. T. R. train to the home of her son, Robert, where a second service was conducted by the Rev. A. C. Stewart, pastor of Knox Church, Acton; of which deceased was a member during her residence here. The large number of beautiful floral tributes spoke highly of the esteem in which Mrs. MacPherson was held by her many friends. The friends and relatives from a distance attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. John MacPherson, Mr. Wm. MacPherson, of Oakville; Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of Port Nelson; Mrs. H. Noble, Mrs. Wm. Snyder, Mrs. Al. Colby, Mr. M. Kerns and Mr. F. Saxton, of Toronto.

JAMES BROWN, Los Angeles, Cal.

The news reached Mrs. John C. Nelson on Tuesday of the death of her father, James Brown, at Los Angeles, Cal. This was not unexpected, as Mr. Brown has been failing for several months. On March 4 Mr. Brown celebrated his 87th birthday. He was a son of the late Squire Alexander Brown, of Acton, and was born on the homestead on the Acton cross-road—the farm now owned and occupied by Mr. N. F. Lindsay and family. He was a twin of his sister Mary (Mrs. Joshua Freeman.) On May 15, 1863, he married Ruth Ann Hall, daughter of the late Asa Hall, Esq. From this union there were three children, Mary (Mrs. John C. Nelson) James and Ruth. James died in 1899, and Ruth in 1919. Mrs. Nelson is therefore the last remaining member of her parents' family. Sincere sympathy is felt for her in this community in her sorrow. When Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married they settled on lot 1, third line, Erin, the farm now owned by Arthur Swackhamer. Mr. Brown conducted a saw mill there for a number of years. In 1873 they came to Acton. A saw mill was built on the southerly border of Mr. Asa Hall's farm near the G. T. R. tracks. Later a new site was chosen on James Cameron's farm at the edge of the pond, where Mr. D. A. Henderson's mill now stands. Great sorrow came to Mr. Brown when his only son, "Jimmie," in whom he had great expectations, died very suddenly in 1889, from appendicitis. Again, in 1903, he suffered a sore affliction in the death of Mrs. Brown, his life's partner for forty years. Their home had been a very happy one and his bereavement was heavy indeed. Shortly after this his health began to fail, and nineteen years ago he decided to remove to a less rigorous climate and went to California. There he had since resided, making two or three trips back to the old home to visit kindred and friends. His last visit was in 1914. Sixteen or seventeen years ago Mr. Brown married his second wife, Miss Lucinda J. Brown, whose early days were spent in Meadowvale, but who went to California several years before Mr. Brown. During his declining years Mrs. Brown has been a very devoted helpmeet and has given him every care and solicitude. During his last illness he was visited by Mrs. John Secord, of Hamilton, Mrs. Swenerton, of Vancouver, Mr. Albert E. Matthews, of Denver, and other old-time friends. He was able to attend church on January 28, and it was a real sorrow to him when he had to forego this privilege further; but he remarked in the home, "I have learned to say Thy will be done." Mr. Brown was a son of a truly noble

His father and mother were pioneers of this community; U. E. Loyalists of a fine type; were among the founders of the Methodist Church here and for four generations their descendants have been active workers there. Mr. Brown was a most interested member. For many years he was treasurer of the church, and at his death was a member of the trustee board. Of the nine brothers and sisters of the Brown family, only two now survive: Mrs. Thomas Somerville, Acton, and Mrs. Samuel Sterling, Ridgetown. The deceased member are: Mrs. John Matthews, Toronto; Mrs. Joshua Freeman, St. Marys; Mrs. Daniel Freeman, Ridgetown; Richard, William and Alexander. The funeral was held at Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. William Adkison Brown, the pastor of the First Methodist Church in that city.

Provincial Officers Discover Liquor in Two Places Here

Jim Forbes, Scene Street, had a Cache Behind the Parlor Door, Underneath the Floor

A BOTTLE FOUND IN THE POOL ROOM BASEMENT, THE PRESENCE OF WHICH THE PROPRIETOR WAS UNAWARE

On Wednesday afternoon David McCutcheon came before H. P. Moore, P. M., charged by School Attendance Officer J. H. Reid with having refused or neglected to send his son, who is between 7 and 14 years of age, to school. Mr. McCutcheon pleaded guilty and agreed to send the boy regularly to school hereafter. He was fined $5.00 and costs.

A week ago last Saturday night Provincial Constables Riepert and Cousans arrived in town in pursuance of the duties for which they were appointed. They had received complaints from several quarters that liquor was still being sold or kept unlawfully in certain places. They visited Leishman's pool room and in making a survey of the basement came across a quart bottle of "moonshine" in a box near the furnace. This was seized, sealed and sent to the analyst of the department at Toronto for evidence as to its content of alcohol. The analysis showed 72.84 per cent. of proof spirits. Constable Reipert laid a charge and Mr. Leishman was summoned to appear before Police Magistrate Moore on Saturday. The defendant claimed that he knew absolutely nothing about the liquor being in his cellar. He had not been dealing in liquor. The only way that he could account for the presence of the liquor discovered on his premises was that he had seen a man who was the worse of liquor go into his basement a few days before, and that he must have left the liquor there. The charge was for having liquor in a place other than the dwelling house where he resides. The liquor was found on his premises and he supposed he was therefore guilty in the eyes of the law. He had been careless in not keeping a more careful oversight of his premises. The minimum penalty of $200 and costs was imposed under the circumstances.

Provincial Constables Riepert and Cousans were in town on Wednesday afternoon and with the authority of a search warrant made a search of Jas. Forbes' dwelling house on Scene Street. There they discovered Forbes' cache containing fourteen quart bottles of "moonshine." The place of hiding was simple "when you know the ropes," but quite secure to the uninitiated. The officers entered the front door, turned through the first door to the left and, in that room, behind the door, lifted the carpet, three or four short pieces of flooring and about fourteen inches below, between the joists, the bottles were found lying in the sand. The constables seized the stock, loaded the "moonshine" into a bag and took turns at toting the cargo down to the office of the Police Court. An information was laid charging Jas. Forbes with having liquor for sale or barter in contravention of the Ontario Temperance Act. When the case came up for hearing Forbes pleaded guilty, was fined $200 and costs, or three months in jail at hard labor. He paid the fine and costs, and remarked: "Never again; there's no money in this for me."

An appeal was heard before Judge Justin, of Brampton, on Tuesday against a conviction made by Police Magistrate Moore on January 17, when Leo. Cronin, of Bolton, was fined $25 and costs for being drunk during Christmas week. The judge reserved decision.

Farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Cubberly

Neighbors and Friends in Nassagaweya Present Easy Chairs and Good Wishes

Mr. and Mrs. James Cubberly, who have lived in Nassagaweya for a number of years, sold out and removed to St. Marys this week.

A few evenings before their removal their neighbors to the number of forty surprised them by gathering to spend a social evening with them before their departure.

The following address was read and on behalf of the company Messrs. Alex. Near and Chas. Ryder presented them with a pair of beautiful easy chairs:

To Mr. and Mrs. James Cubberly:

Dear Friends:

We, your friends and neighbors, have assembled here this evening for the purpose of extending to you our good wishes and to express in some tangible way our friendship.

It was with regret that we learned some time ago of your decision to leave our vicinity and make your future home at St. Marys. We have found your good neighbors, who were ever thoughtful of others and ready to lend a helping hand whenever it was needed. We shall miss you.

As a token of our appreciation we ask you to accept these two chairs. We wish you to view them, not for their intrinsic value, but as conveying the esteem and sincere good wishes of your old friends and neighbors.

We heartily wish you all success in your new home.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,

ALEX. NEAR,
CHARLES RYDER.

Mr. and Mrs. Cubberly voiced their great appreciation of the kind words spoken and the valuable gifts, and declared they would never forget the kindness of their Nassagaweya friends wherever their lot may be cast in the future.

An enjoyable social evening was spent in games and social intercourse and the ladies served a delightful lunch.

Social and Personal

Get Your Motor License at Once

Provincial Constable Atkins, who has been stationed at Acton, has received instructions to prosecute all motor car owners who have not secured their licenses for 1923. A month's grace was given by the Highway Department from January 1. Nearly three months have now elapsed. It is not likely that action will be taken against those who can prove that they have now sent for their licenses. But the owners of any cars appearing without the 1923 markers after this week are very likely to get into trouble. No valid excuse can be offered in court for neglecting to secure licenses so late in the year as the last of March.
