Brief Local Items

—Fish stories are in no wise rare now.

—The tulips are now blooming profusely.

—Band concert at the town hall this evening.

—Boating on Fairy Lake is quite popular again.

—Plant early potatoes now. Early corn next week.

—May showers are coming with encouraging regularity.

—Spray your fruit trees, berry bushes and shrubs now.

—Stop listening to idle rumors and give your ears a vacation.

—The sad thing about spending vacations is spending money.

—The wild flowers are blooming profusely in the woods now.

—The swagger sticks are quite "the go" with some of the girls here now.

—Next Sunday will be Mother's Day. Wear a flower for memory of mother.

—The music of the lawn mower is added to other springtime melodies.

—There is this to be said for "bobbed" hair. You know how it is fastened.

—The Simcoe Reformer is to issue an Old Boys' Souvenir Book in the near future.

—Mount Forest and Shelburne Oddfellows have radios installed in their lodge rooms.

—The swallows are back in the old grey barn! Its stillness thrills to their edger calling.

—Seeding and speeding came in with a rush last week when the balmy days settled down.

—Some of the many fishermen who were out on expeditions on May 1 report gratifying success.

—Gardening operations have been rather slow, owing to bleak northerly winds which have prevailed.

—Things could be worse. Just suppose now that you had to lather your lawn before cutting the grass.

—The weather man always keeps one more cold day in stock to use when you take down the stove.

—The only difference a man notices after spring cleaning is that the davenport is against the other wall.

—Two or three chickens can scratch apart in five minutes a cable-strong friendship that took years to weave.

—According to the assessor's figures Fergus this year has a population of 1,756. Last year's population was 1,737.

—Messrs. McMillan and Philips are having a commodious verandah erected at their residence on Frederick Street.

—This is clean-up week in numbers of towns. It was made the subject of a proclamation by the Mayor in Owen Sound.

—Mr. Fred Brown and family, who were recently burned out at Stayner, have removed to Angus, near Camp Borden.

—Clean up, build up, help up and keep up is good advice. If citizens generally will do it Acton will be much benefitted.

—A few bright flowers well placed adorn a home like the latest models in millinery adorn the lady members of our homes.

—Mr. Fred McLaughlin, who is in the Crescent City, has kindly remembered THE FREE PRESS with New Orleans papers.

—Now the hedged meads renew rustic odor, smiling hue, and the clear air smiles and tinkles as the world goes busily through.

—Band concert, free, to all, in the Town Hall to-night. Miss Muriel Mason, niece of Bandmaster Mason, will play several violin solos.

—It used to be that a girl wasn't in fashion unless she had been operated on for appendicitis. Now she simply gets her hair bobbed.

—Dragging the highway has been in operation the past week between Georgetown and Rockwood. This has greatly improved the roadway.

—The three bridges on the Provincial Highway in Norval are nearing completion, and it is expected they will be open to traffic on May 24.

—If Luther Burbank ever perfects a radish or carrot that will lean over and choke a weed until it is black in the face, he will make a fortune.

—A. M. McCann, of Acton, has disposed of the west half of lot 16, concession 5, Amaranth, to Messrs. John Swing and John Wesley, of Lowell.

KINDLY WORDS FROM FELLOW-WORKERS

On the eve of leaving Boissevain, Man., for Acton, Mrs. Alfred Soper was made the recipient of the following address and a beautiful brooch by the members of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church.

Dear Mrs. Soper:

It is with regret that we meet with you to-night to say good-bye. In your removal from Boissevain the community loses a valued citizen, and St. Andrew's Church a faithful member. Your unselfish and cheerful work in the church has won for you the respect and love of those who have labored with you these many years. As members of the Ladies Aid Society we wish you to carry with you our sincerest wishes for your future prosperity and felicity. We also ask you to accept this small remembrance as a token of our esteem. It is our hope that, by the grace of God, you may have many years to continue your noble work among new friends.

(Signed) Mrs. George McDonald,
On behalf of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid.

The farewell gathering was held at the Manse. The gathering concluded with the singing: "Blest be the tie that binds."

CITIZENS OF ACTON

Editor of FREE PRESS:

Sorry to bring before you the need of assistance for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winterburn, whose son, who was their only support, paid the supreme sacrifice on July 8, 1916. He was one of the first. I appeal on behalf of Mr. Winterburn, who has been seriously ill for two months or so, and has no money coming in to meet the needs of himself and his aged wife. Would kind friends kindly give this their consideration and think of the sacrifice his son paid for us. Now, what can you give for him? Any small contribution will be thankfully received, and greatly appreciated by Mr. and Mrs. Winterburn.

PRINCE OF WALES LIKES CANADA'S EXHIBIT

London, May 5—The Prince of Wales spent this afternoon in the Canadian pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition. His Royal Highness expressed his delight at every section of the Canadian exhibits and promised to visit the Canadian pavilion again when there would be less of a crowd than that of to-day.

—Enquiries are being made as to when the Methodist Choir is to arrange to repeat its Easter cantata. Many are anxious to hear it again.

—A lady we know says getting your hair bobbed is something like buying an automobile: It isn't so much the first cost that counts—it's the upkeep.

—E. K. Cook is removing his store and shoe-repairing business from the Fairbank's building to the Plank store, recently vacated by the Acton Laundry.

—Work is now progressing at the cemetery. Chairman Nicol has men engaged in trimming the evergreens, clearing the walks and improving the drives.

—Norval Mill was lighted with electricity last week. The first night it proved to be a sight that drew people out of their homes to gaze and make remarks.

—When warm showers bring the flowers out in every sheltered nook, we like to have a friend come along and say: "Let's take a day off and go fishin'."

—As a measure toward the curbing of reckless automobile driving, Magistrate Gundy, of Windsor, on Saturday suspended the licenses of three men for 30 days.

—In connection with the impressive communion service in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening eight new adult members were received and the right hand of fellowship extended.

—The Mount Forest Confederato was burglarized on Sunday, and $43 in cash stolen. Too bad to rob Bro. Wright of the spending money he had saved for his overseas trip in June.

—Just a song at midnight, when the lights are out, just a howl and spitting, then an angry shout, just a poor, dazed tom cat, hurt by flying boot, just a night's lost slumber—aw, finish the poem yourself.

—George Malcolm, of Trafalgar, sustained a painful accident by which he lost the third and fourth fingers of his right hand in a cutting box, which he was operating in the barn at his farm last Friday.

—The Hydro Shop is giving real service now. It is a comfort for citizens to call in the day time and have their wants supplied. Sales of electric fixtures and utensils are also being freely made.

—The work of further coating the highway between Acton and Rockwood will soon commence. There will be several inches more of gravel coating put on and the gravel will be spread a foot or so wider.

—A citizen says if there is one thing that arouses his admiration more than any other, it is a neighbor's hens with so great a sense of fairness that they lay eggs on his premises to pay for any feed they may gather.

—The stone masons and bricklayers are having quite a contracted experience in the work of building a new wall for the Fairbank's bakery in a 14-inch space between the Starkman block and the east wall.

—The Guelph Motor Club has established three tourist camps for the convenience of visiting motorists to the city, and has applied to the City Council for an appropriation to cover the cost of equipping them.

—The love of flowers lifts one above the sordid life. It's worth while then to promote good citizenship by the charming way of cultivating flowers, and this is being done more largely this spring in Acton than ever before.

—The six or eight-inch depression in the Frederick Street sidewalk, where it joins the Mill Street walk at Dr. Bell's corner, requires attention. It has been a dangerous spot for months, and very annoying to people who use that walk.

—A robe was taken from a rig in the Baptist shed on Saturday evening and hidden, presumably with the intention of the party who removed it to return and get it. The services of Chief Macpherson were called in. He found the robe, but missed the culprit.

—The new silver plated C. G. Conn recorder circular Eb bass for Shelburne Citizens' Band came to hand on Monday, and is now being "tooted" into good humor by Bandsman Harry Jolly. The new horn just makes a dint of $182.50 in the band committee's bank account. The instrument, together with [illegible]

CHURCHILL

Mrs. John McIntyre, who has been very ill for some time, is now improving slowly.

There was an unusually large attendance at the church service on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Howard preached an interesting discourse.

The spring wheat looks exceptionally well in this section.

There have been numerous fishermen tramping the trout streams since the first of May, but so far no large catches have been reported.

NASSAGAWEYA

Mr. Herbert Fletcher, of Darbyville, lost a valuable horse on Monday from distemper.

Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Nightingale and family, of Guelph, visited relatives in Nassagaweya, on Sunday.

The friends of Mrs. George Gordon, who was operated on a short time ago, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering.

Miss Eliza Darby, of Guelph, is visiting friends in Nassagaweya.

Messrs. Gilbertson Brothers, of Eden Mills, moved their saw-mill outfit to near Galt last week, where they will be sawing lumber for Duncan Campbell, of Moffat, the rest of the season.

TERRA COTTA

The anniversary services, held in connection with the Terra Cotta Methodist Church, on Sunday, April 27, were another splendid success. The weather for the occasion was ideal. There was a large turnout. Rev. Mr. Snider, who was to have taken the services, was unable to come. But the Rev. Capt. Dodds, of Cheltenham, preached a very appropriate sermon in the morning, while in the evening the Rev. Walter Paterson, of Norval, very ably officiated. The Glenwilliams choir furnished excellent music for the morning service, while in the evening the Norval choir very ably supplied the music. Miss Greenaword, of Norval, sang a solo in a very pleasing manner. Liberal collections were received at both services.

The Quarterly Communion Services were held in the Methodist Church here last Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Douglas officiated.

The Terra Cotta ball team were highly elated over the scoring of another victory over Georgetown High School boys on Saturday afternoon. The score was 9-7 in favor of Terra Cotta. The game was played on the High School grounds at Georgetown. Hepburn's pitching and Icam's fielding were among the special features of the game. An extra inning was required in order to make a decision of the game. The batteries were: Georgetown High School, Muldoon and Burnsides; Terra Cotta, Hepburn and J. L. Craine.

Mrs. J. Coulter, who has been seriously ill for some time, is still very low, but good hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Mr. H. Webster is able to be around again after his recent illness.

Mrs. Pulling, nee Miss Norma Thompson, of Kansas, U. S. A., is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Thompson, of the 10th line.

An epidemic of hair bobbing has struck Terra Cotta. They are all doing it.

The Big Bridge at Oakville

Oakville people are now daily expecting an announcement about the famous highway bridge over Sixteen-Mile Creek. It seems reasonable now to hope that the condition of the structure, which exhibited ominous cracks shortly after its completion, is not as serious as was at first believed, and it is expected that in a short time announcement of the date of its opening to traffic will be made. It was authoritatively stated this week that the opening would not be long delayed, and that little more than the actual preparation of the approaches was necessary to permit traffic to use the bridge. Until the date of opening, however, traffic along the Toronto-Hamilton highway must still make use of the detour down to the floor of the valley.

ANOTHER CAR

An unusual incident in connection with a recent trip of the Boston Symphony Orchestra from New York to Boston by special train is reported. The train, it appears, left New York shortly after midnight, and somewhere on the way the conductor received a despatch which read, "Stop at Westerly to take on D. R. car."

To a railway man "D. R. car" means "drawing-room car." When the train got to Westerly, therefore, it stopped, and the conductor looked round for a drawing-room car. There was none in sight, and he waited to make inquiry about it.

Nobody around the station had seen any drawing-room car. As soon as the train stopped, a man who had been waiting at the station got on board and took a seat in a smoking compartment. When he had been seated there for a few minutes the conductor came in.

"Conducton," said the man, "why doesn't the train start?"

"Why," said the conductor, "I have orders to stop here for a drawing-room car, and I can't find it. You have just got on: did you see any drawing-room car around here?"

"No," the new passenger answered, "I haven't seen any."

"Well, here is the despatch," said the conductor: "'Stop at Westerly to take on D. R. car'."

"Oh," said the passenger, "that does not stand for 'drawin-room,' that stands for 'doctor.' I am Doctor Carr. I have been called suddenly to attend an important case in Providence, and the train was ordered to stop here for me."

Then the train went on.

A STUDY IN HOMILETICS

Dr. H. M. Hamill brings back from his wanderings many strange tales, which he delights to serve up with all the taste and skill of the experienced raconteur. Among the latest is the following.

One of our four Tennessee preachers was conversing with an old-time negro preacher on the subject of sermon-making. The plan of the sermon was under discussion. The white preacher was moved to ask: "Do you colored preachers have a regular plan in preaching a sermon?"

"Yes, us niggers has a plan same as you white folks. Yes, sub," was the reply.

"Well, what is it?" the white preacher asked.

"You see, reverend, it's dis way. When we niggers preach, we tell 'em, in de fust place, what we is gwine to tell 'em. Den, in the second place, we tells 'em. Den, in the last place, we tells 'em what we done tol'e 'em."

We commend this to our preachers and suggest that it would be good exercise for us all to see if we can improve on the old negro's plan.—Nashville Advocate.
