Georgetown churches to join together at Unity service

Ten Georgetown area churches are joining together on Sunday, Jan. 25 for a candlelight reading of the Gospel According to Mark.

The shortest of the gospels, Mark speaks in a dynamic narrative voice, which lends itself to hearing the whole story read through. Music and silence will be woven through the reading, inviting contemplation and reflection in the peaceful atmosphere of the candlelit church.

Participating in the event are Anglican, Pentecostal, Presbyterian and United Church congregations.

The reading will take place at St. Alban's Anglican Church, 537 Main St., Glen Williams at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, January 25. A collection will be taken to support Community Unity, the joint outreach effort of the Georgetown Area Ministerial. Info: Fr. Aaron Orear, 905-877-8323.

Is your older home trying to tell you something?

In many older homes, electrical hazards are lurking behind the walls. Your home may give you some warning signs:

- Lights that flicker or dim
- Breakers that trip – fuses that blow
- Plugs that fit loosely into receptacles
- Lights bulbs that burn out sooner than expected

Electrical hazards are linked to thousands of catastrophic home fires every year, yet they are 100% preventable.

Attend a FREE home safety seminar that will help you protect your family, and your investment.
