Mark-Downs
on Women's Coats, Dresses and Children's Coats

The fact that Christmas is little more than five weeks away and that floor spaces now occupied by fashionable apparel will be needed for Christmas displays and the fact that the Fall season has been unusually mild, leaving larger stocks on our hands than is usual for this time of the year—both facts make immediate stock reduction necessary, and price reductions are the means to be used toward that end.

The Secretary was instructed to charge the poles to the Hydro Commission that had been used in rural construction.

"WE'VE GOT TO GET OUT OF HERE"

Was the Expression Used When Two Young Men in Car Drove Over Grader and Injured Mr. Duncan McDougall

On Saturday morning, about eleven o'clock, Mr. Duncan McDougall was driving the road grader along the second line toward his home, doing grading on this roadway, when a Ford coupe came from behind him and, without sounding the horn or giving a warning of any kind, attempted to pass. The car ran over the back axle over the grader blade and locked with its front wheel inside the front wheel of the grader. Mr. McDougall was hit on the hip by the fender of the car and on the head by the knob of the door. He was thrown ten feet off the grader and into the ditch. Fortunately he was thrown sideways and clear of the machine. If he had been thrown forward he would have been crushed between the car and operating levers of the grader.

The motorists got out of the car, took a look at Mr. McDougall lying in the ditch and they were sorry, but they had thought they could make it all right. They then said they must get out of there in a hurry. They were not successful however in getting their car extricated from the grader and Mr. McDougall, from his position lying in the ditch, directed their efforts and instructed them how to move the blade and get the auto free from the grader.

The pair then drove off leaving Mr. McDougall lying in the ditch. He did not secure their number and they drove off without offering assistance. Mr. McDougall is able to be around but the injury to his hip is very painful and the doctor has ordered him to cease work for a week or so at least.

HAVOC OF WINDSTORM

Roof and Curtain Damaged at the New Creber Factory

The windstorm of Friday night and Saturday played havoc at the new Creber factory. A section of the roofing on the upper part of the roof was blown off for nearly half the length of the building. The wind also proved that the canvas curtain that was intended to be used to cover the end of the building where the crane came out to the railroad was inadequate. It tossed the curtain about and finally tore it from its fastenings. Workmen are now busy building in a wooden section in this end with doors and shutters to allow the electric crane to operate in and out of the building.

The stock of stones at the factory in Toronto is being removed this week to Acton and trucks are busy bringing the machinery and equipment from the Toronto plant. The compressor is installed and operating and its piping for the air ready to connect up the machines as they arrive. Two new machines, one for rounding and the other one for polishing, are erected and ready for operation, and have been tested out this week. The workmen are gradually getting moved here and will in a few weeks have the factory operating in full swing.

POLICE COURT NEWS

A number of cases of violation of the Liquor Control Act have come before Police Magistrate Moore during the week. In nearly every case of intoxication evidence has shown that it was Ontario dispensary liquor which caused the trouble.

Of the twenty three cases of infraction of the game laws in Halton County on Thanksgiving Day tried in Police Magistrate Moore's court here, Overseer Robinson reports that one of the persons charged had an English pheasant in his game bag covered up under a mass of [illegible]. [illegible]

A young man who was arrested by Constable R. Dunham early Saturday morning, pleaded guilty to breaking into [illegible] store, Watson's coal office and Donkin's store at Burlington and was remanded for sentence by Police Magistrate Bart.

A prolonged case under the Deserted Wives Maintenance Act between a wife and husband residing in Glen Williams came to a conclusion in the Police Court at Georgetown on Wednesday afternoon. A two and a half hours sitting had been held last week at Acton. After hearing the volume of evidence adduced Magistrate Moore issued an order for the husband who is in somewhat poor health and has earnings of but $40 to $45 per week, to pay $4.00 per week into the Bank of Montreal, Georgetown, to the credit of his wife. H. G. Meir appeared for the prosecution and John J. Thompson for the defence.

D'Angelo Wins His Appeal

Is Freed by Jury at Halton Assizes on a Charge of Manslaughter

Bert D'Angelo, self-confessed bootlegger, alleged vendor of poison alcohol, was acquitted Tuesday by the Assize Court jury retrying him at Milton on a charge of manslaughter.

And the jury, in finding him "not guilty" of causing the death of Wm. Maybee by providing him with wood alcohol, wrote finis to the story of the poison liquor cases of the summer of 1926.

Following the tragic deaths of bootleggers' patrons a year ago last July the Crown started 30 prosecutions. In D'Angelo's case only was a conviction registered. Then this was set aside when he was granted a retrial. And now he too, like all the others said to have been links in the chain of death, has been declared not guilty.

There is another charge against D'Angelo, but yet it may be certainly understood that he is free. This was the forecast in the words of McGregor Young, K. C., special Crown Prosecutor.

When the jury had retired Mr. Young told His Lordship that there was another charge against D'Angelo, under a different provision of the Criminal Code, it being alleged that he had "administered poison" to one Patrick Lyons.

"I appreciate the difficulties existing in the case in the hands of the jury," said the special Crown Prosecutor, "and these may be enhanced in this charge. A material witness is absent, and the difficulty of connecting the liquor with the accused is even greater than in this case."

Mr. Young continued to say that his intention was to ask that this "administering poison" case might stand so that he might recommend to the Attorney General that prosecution be dropped. He suggested that if D'Angelo were acquitted on the Maybee charge he might be allowed out of custody on his own recognizance until the Attorney-General's decision was given on the application in the latter charge.

Burglars Blamed for Fire

Minor damage was done to the interior of the coal office of Samuel Gowdy, Paisley Street, Guelph, by fire about midnight on Saturday. Suspicious circumstances connected with the blaze led police to investigate. It was discovered that the window sash of the office had been cut with a knife and entrance gained. It is surmised that the careless handling of matches by would be burglars when they got into the building resulted in the fire.

Acton Observed the Armistice Silence

On Armistice Day last Friday Acton factories and citizens generally observed the usual impressive two minutes of silence at eleven o'clock. The annual armistice service here is held on Thanksgiving Day and on November 11 the silence is observed by citizens wherever they are in their usual vocations. The tannery whistles sounded the time for the observance and factories were closed down. At the schools, classes came to attention and standing with eyes closed observed the impressive two minutes silence.

Injured in Fall Down Well

Mr. Thomas Guest, 42 Mill Street, Guelph, is suffering at his home from painful injuries sustained when he fell down a disused well on a vacant lot on Woolwich Street, while hastening to assist at a motor car fire. It is thought that Mr. Guest has several broken ribs. The car burst into flame on Woolwich Street on Friday night and Mr. Guest ran across the empty lot to see if he could be of any assistance. In the dark he failed to notice the hole into which he fell, striking a boulder at the bottom. First aid was rendered by Fire Chief Kniseton who also summoned a doctor. The automobile fire was extinguished without difficulty.

Playing Havoc with "Detour" Roads

The construction of the concrete road on the Highway from Acton to the seventh line has required detour roads. The heavy traffic on these roads especially that of the buses and heavy trucks has worn them through badly. The crossroad from Speyside to Stewarttown, which was put in splendid condition with a fine coating of broken stone in the summer time, has been torn up sadly, the broken stone being turned out beyond the travelled roadway. The sections of the seventh line used in the detour also have been sadly damaged. The question of repairing these roads when the bridges are "lifted" is giving anxiety to both County and Township Councils. It would seem that inasmuch as the detour roads were used for the convenience of the contractors who are constructing the Provincial Highway that the Province should be responsible for necessary repairs.

Bush Fire at Forster Farm at Oakville

It is supposed some parties lighted a small fire in the woods on the Forster farm on Thanksgiving Day, and when the flames began to spread they speedily decamped. By three o'clock flames were discovered and a number of men after an hour or more of fighting checked the flames. Chief Hillmer and some members of the brigade joined in the fray. Again after midnight the fire broke out afresh and kept five men busy fighting for two hours. By this time the flames had cleared over two acres of leaves. Large pine stumps were set ablaze and burned steadily for two days and night burning roots nearly two feet under ground. Numerous trees fell as a result. This is an illustration of the danger of setting fires especially when everything is as dry as at present. Thanks are extended to the good neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted in getting the fire under control.—Star.

Oil Derrick Wrecked

Failure of the brakes on the large drum which winds and unwinds the drilling cables at the oil well on the Neubauer farm, Puslinch Township, resulted in the drum being torn loose from its fastenings and the derrick toppled to the earth. F. L. Snively, the driller, and his assistant escaped from the drilling shed without injury.

Burlington High School Addition to Cost $31,150

At a special meeting of the Burlington High School Board held last week the secretary was instructed to write the Town Council asking them to provide $31,150 for an addition to the present High School. Before deciding to do this the Board discussed the matter at every angle and unanimously agreed that the addition was a necessity.

Paving on Highway Progressing

The laying of the cement on the Highway east of Acton is progressing, but is getting more and more hampered with the weather. The strip east of town is laid to opposite Mr. Richard Brown's farm. It is stated that if possible at all this section will be completed this fall and opened for traffic. Business people and residents of Acton and vicinity will be glad indeed when the detour is done away with.

Knox Young People's Society

At Monday evening's meeting of Knox Young People's Guild, Dr. Schofield, of Guelph, gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on the Orient. The United Church Next Sunday

After Rev. Mr. Poole's removal from Acton to the two United Churches of the home town decided to amalgamate. The consummation services will be held next Sunday and Mr. Poole has accepted an invitation to preach on this important occasion and to address the Sunday School. Mr. Edward Jolliffe, a student of Victoria College, Toronto, will occupy the pulpit here. He is a son of Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, a returned missionary from China, was himself born in China and is a very forceful and acceptable speaker and last year was the oratorical champion of Guelph Collegiate Institute last year.

Classmates Would Like to Meet

In a letter from an old classmate, friend Mr. Andrew O'Brien, now of New York, he suggests that the class of his High School days get together for a sort of re-union, possibly taking the form of a banquet in the Town Hall and a social time. He mentions the teachers of the High School at that time, Mr. W. H. Stewart and Miss Hammond and a number of the class as to participants in this affair, which would undoubtedly be a real joy to the entire class. Following his suggestion we are giving the question publicity and if it meets with favor it can of course be organized and carried out. Few, indeed of the class remain in the home town and the addresses of many are not now known so that this means is probably the only one of getting such an affair under way. An expression of opinion and suggestions will be welcomed from classmates.

A Masonic Gathering of Interest

Credit Lodge, A. F. & A. M., No. 219, G. R. C., Georgetown, held a gathering last Friday evening which was unique and highly interesting. Credit Lodge has itself the honor of having two Grand Lodge officers among its members, Right Wor. Bro. L. W. Lawson and Right Wor. Bro. Sandel Kirk, both of whom are largely esteemed among the members of Grand Lodge. Among the distinguished visitors were Past Grand Master Rowland and Deputy Grand Master Dr. [illegible]. A very enjoyable banquet was held in the Public Library at the close of the proceedings of the lodge. Wor. Bro. Lawson, W. M., was toastmaster and was ably assisted by Right Wor. Bro. Barraclough. Interesting speeches were made by the grand officers and other visitors. A feature of the evening was the investiture of Rt. Wor. Bro. Chairman Harrison Resigns from Board

Debentures for $28,000 Requested to be Issued for Cost of New Building

The monthly session of the School Board was held last evening. Trustees Agnew, Scarrow, Beswick and Ramshaw were present. In the absence of Chairman Harrison, Trustee Agnew was moved to the chair. Mr. Harrison arrived later.

The Finance Committee in their eleventh report recommended that the following accounts be paid:

Public Utilities Commission, light	$11.25
Geo. M. Hendrie Co., supplies	47.01
The Acton Free Press, printing and advertising	11.90
A. E. Capps, freight and cartage	1.96
J. E. Poole, ink	5.30
	$81.42

The report was adopted.

The Secretary was instructed to make application to the Council for the amount of $28,000 for the purchase of the site of the new High School and erection of the building. The Board requested that they issue debentures for this amount.

A letter from Miss M. Z. Bennett, Principal of the Public School, requested the Board's support in their concert and purchase of the Elson pictures for the school.

The Secretary read the report of Chairman Harrison from the Board. He pointed out that the necessity of him having to be away from town often made his resignation obligatory. Under the circumstances the Board regretfully accepted his resignation. He had served on the Board for four years.

Moved by E. J. Ramshaw, seconded by E. Beswick that the resignation of Mr. C. H. Harrison, Chairman of the Board, be accepted and that the members of the Board express their regrets at his decision owing to his valuable services for the four years which he has served on the Board. Carried.

The Secretary reported that the Government Inspector had gone over the heating system and the new boiler at the school. He was well pleased with the system and reported the installation as highly satisfactory.

The Board decided to have a joint meeting with the Council and request [illegible] made on the taxes [illegible] property. The [illegible] larger water main for [illegible] Acton to the buildings will [illegible] discussed at this meeting.
