THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1928

This and that

—And this is November.

—The last two months of the year are with us now.

—It is time now to start preparing for Christmas.

—The second instalment of taxes comes due in a couple of weeks.

—The Hallowe'en visitors were numerous with their calls last evening.

—The snow flurries of the week are a real reminder that winter is at hand.

—Acton's annual Armistice-Thanksgiving service will be held on Monday, November 12.

—Mr. A. McCann has sold his residence on Mill Street to Mr. Hiram Pisher, who will remove to Acton.

—The turnip crop is turning out remarkably good in this section. Some farmers are harvesting exceptionally fine yields.

—The brick work of Mr. William Smith's bungalow, at the corner of Wellington and Peel Streets, is now completed.

—Mr. Hugh McCutchson has recently had his barn and stables wired and electric lights installed throughout the buildings.

—The arrangements of the impressive Thanksgiving-Memorial service of Acton are under way by the clergy and Council of the town.

—J. B. Mackenzie is building a new house on Young Street, on that section of Arthur Street recently closed by by-law of the Municipal Council.

—The new issue of postage stamps, just out, are a real work of art and with the larger figures denoting the denomination are readily distinguished.

—On either Saturday or Sunday night some motorist crashed into the concrete railing on the bridge on Main Street and tore away several sections of it.

—Master William Chisholm, during the Hallowe'en frolic last night, had the misfortune to run into the rear end of a passing motor and injure his shoulder.

—Thanks to the watchful and untiring eye of Chief McPherson, and the common-sense of the pranksters, very little property damage was committed last night.

—For the information of the parties who took two hens from Mr. John Kenney's chicken house on Saturday night, it is said these birds were not roasters, but should be treated as boilers to be most digestible.

—It was a pretty sane Hallowe'en we had last night. Many of our citizens opened their homes to the masqueraders and treated them to toothsome treats. One home we heard of had 133 callers during the evening. Others may have exceeded this.

—Judge Moore held a session of Juvenile Court at Cooksville on Tuesday. One lad, who was on probation, was again charged with theft and other offences. He was sent to Victoria Industrial School, where he will have the opportunity of learning a useful trade.

Neighborhood News

DUBLIN

Dublin Branch of the Women's Institute held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Barber. Mrs. Stewart, the President, had charge of the meeting, and the branch entertained Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Merry, the district officers. After the routine business Mrs. Atkins gave a splendid talk on Institute work and Mrs. Merry, on music, which was followed by musical numbers from different members of the branch. It is planned to put on a play, by the members of the branch, in the Dublin School, entitled, "The Seven Stages of Life." The next meeting will be held as a Grandmothers' Meeting, at the home of Miss Minnie Somerville.

NASSAGAWEYA

Anniversary services will be held in the Ebenezer United Church, Nassagaweya, next Sunday, in the morning at 11.00 o'clock, and in the evening at 7.30, conducted by Rev. A. O. W. Forman, B. A., of Preston. Music will be furnished by the Ebenezer choir. A concert and banquet will be held during the week, when a good programme will be given.

The ground was covered with a blanket of snow on Tuesday morning, and made things look quite wintry.

Wedding bells are ringing in our midst.

The Trustees of Ebenezer Cemetery are going to put up a new fence in front of the property soon.

EDEN MILLS

On Wednesday, the 24th ult., the Women's Institute met at Mrs. J. D. Lowrie's home, with a good representation present. The opening exercises were conducted by the President, Mrs. J. Gilbertson. Appeals for financial assistance were read by the Secretary from the Navy League; O. A. Putnam, for northern sufferers; and the Neighborhood Workers' Association. After these matters were disposed of, the President called on Mrs. J. Marshall, convener of the meeting, to give her talk on "Hygienic Dinners." The words hygiene and sinners were defined, many unsanitary practices of the day in homes and public places were pointed out, and note was made of the sanitary measures required in the daily life of the homemaker, including cleanliness of the hands in preparing food for the family. Ventilation of public meeting places was a point of error noted, and also the thoughtless, and still more dangerous habit of expectoration in public places. Also the danger of promiscuous kissing was dwelt on. Lively discussion followed, pertaining to some phases of the subject. The convener then called for a "Blind Stitch Contest," in which all the ladies were blind-folded and asked to sew a hem, all of which created a lively bit of fun. The prize was awarded to Mrs. Emily Wilson for the best hem, and the consolation to a very youthful contestant, Miss Alice Tuck. A social half hour was spent and lunch was served.

A good representation of the United Church Women's Missionary Society attended the Rockwood Convention of the Guelph Presbytery, and returned home full of enthusiasm for the cause of missions.

The sick people of the vicinity are all improving.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Rudd, of Fergus, visited friends here over Sunday.

—The Family Herald and Weekly Star with its wonderful improvements, is now regarded as the great Agricultural Paper of Canada and the Family Circle's best Magazine.

HANNOCKBURN

Miss Genevieve Clarridge, of Brampton, spent the week-end at her home here.

Miss Josephine Ham, of Cardiff, South Wales, spent a week with her friend, Miss Betty Lowrie.

The Women's Institute held a splendid Hallowe'en social on Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Clarridge, when about seventy of the members and their families attended. Mrs. Atkins, the District President, and Mrs. Merry, the District Secretary, were present and addressed the meeting. An excellent programme was provided by local talent, followed by progressive euchre, and all present report a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Clarridge and family attended the anniversary services and fowl supper at Claude Presbyterian Church last week.
