SNYDER—In loving memory of our dear mother, Olive Snyder, who passed away, November 17, 1947.

This and that

—Just five weeks from Saturday until Christmas.

—There was a skiff of snow on the week-end which went as far south as Speyside.

—You can help yourself to reduce living costs by shopping through the ads each week.

—Better examine the Voter's List to see that your name is there. This is the last week for filing an appeal.

—Acton Voters List recently issued gives a total of 1441 voters in the municipality. There are 826 property owners and 327 tenants listed.

—Christmas shopping can be done early and economically by careful perusual of the advertising messages each week in our local stores.

—Better put the anti-freeze in the car, put on the storm sash, and keep your goloshes and winter longs handy. This fall weather can't last much longer.

—If at any time your local paper is delayed in publication, the cause is very liable to be attributed to shortage of Hydro. Production just stops in a newspaper office when there is no power and often is delayed for an hour after power is resumed.

BUGS ARE BUGS

The popular conception that human beings are of primary importance gets many sad shocks. One of these occurred in the dying days of the last session of the United States Congress. Two appropriations were passed. One provided $492,000 to fight the Long Island potato bug. The other provided $500,000 for the fight against heart disease. Just how much trouble and loss the potato bug occasions we do not know. We know the record of heart disease better. It affects one in every sixteen persons in the population, causes one out of every three deaths and the loss of ten or twelve million work days a year. Of course bugs are bugs and, according to some scientists, are one day to inherit the earth. But it does seem that we who provide the money might give ourselves a break. — J.L.R.

The LETTER BOX

To the Editor:

Last Thursday was Remebrance Day. Except for during the second World War it has been continuously observed since the cessation of the First World War hostilities. We are aware of what the day commemorates and the end of peace supposed to be served in its continued observance. May this never be forgotten even though the passing years make us more remote, moved from the memories of carnage and death. At least that is our prayer.

Of this civic Remembrance Day service we are all well aware. I wonder if we are equally aware of another service rendered in our midst at a later hour of the same day. At this later service there is no marching, no music, no saluting, no "Last Reveille", but as I saw it there was meaningful simplicity, affection and appreciation. This ceremony was conducted in the local cemetery grounds. I had often seen the "Wooden Crosses" —some placed by the side of family tombstones, and some standing in a row—the latter presumably bearing the names of fallen comrades whose forbears do not lie at rest in this particular burial place.

I had been invited to accompany a small band of women—just four in number — who quietly walked from cross to cross bearing small Union Jacks, depositing one at the base of each wooden symbol of sacrifice. Then I heard the common prayer uttered for God's protection upon home and country, and all this in remembrance of the boys whose names were there inscribed. I observed with what reverence and quiet dignity this was done, something apart from the gaze of the populace only understood in its fullness by the all-seeing eye of the Eternal.

I learned that this part of our Remembrance Day observance was sponsored and has been carried out by the Lakeside Chapter of the I.O.D.E. and that this local branch of the Order has been in existence for thirty years. Hence this cemetery ceremonial has been exercised since shortly after the first World War. I was deeply impressed by this little band of devoted women, by the thorough quietness in which they did that which in the name of their ogranization they had been commissioned to do.

It is the fall of the year, our cemeteries are usually considered bleak places in the cold weather. This year the weather was reasonably fine; sometimes it must be a real physical hardship to spend a full hour at the cemetery on November 11th. No wonder not many are commissioned to be present. Since then I have wondered if a Cemetery Service Day might not be arranged say on the Sunday afternoon nearest May 24th or June 3rd when what was done there last Thursday could be suitably attended to, providing also an opportunity for other simple acts of love and devotion to be rendered by the attendance of many who would gather out of respect for relatives and friends whose mortal remains were conveyed to their last lasting place in our cemetery.

Signed, Louis Pickering

Latest Times for Copy for Each Week in Effect

Just as a reminder and in order that there will been no disappointments we will repeat from time to time the present deadline for acceptance of copy for each week's issue of the Free Press.

Monday at 4 p.m. each week is the latest hour we can accept mats for casting in advertising or news items. Tuesday at 4 p.m. is the deadline for all display advertising. If you can let us have your copy earlier your service will be better and it will be most helpful.

Late news copy and classified will be accepted until Wednesday. We reserve the privilege, however, of choosing between late news copy for setting and copy that could have reached us earlier in the week. Correspondents are asked to send in copy on Monday and make a second mailing later if necessary.

The uncertainty of Hydro and reduced hours of production make it imperative that we adhere to these hours rigidly. Please do not ask the staff to deviate from them and the earlier the copy, both news and advertising, the more helpful it will be in maintaining regular hours of publication of your local newspaper.

SCOTCH BLOCK W.I. HEARS ADDRESS BY DISTRICT PRESIDENT

The November meeting of the Scotch Block W.I. met at the home of Mrs. S. Love on November 11. In the absence of our president, Mrs. Murray, first vice-president, presided.

It was decided to send 3 boxes of food to Mrs. Tucker in England to distribute among the members of her Institute. We decided to send $50 00 to the Red Feather Campaign. Mrs. D. Lawson read a copy of the report from the meeting concerning reforestration. The roll call, my worst fault, was answered by all members present.

We were favored by a lovely piano selection by Mrs. N. Lawson. Mrs. Murray read a few verses entitled "Rural Telephone". Some community singing was enjoyed. The district president, Mrs. Rinehart brought some good points to our Institute. In getting up papers to read at our meetings, prepare them yourselves, not copy it all out of papers. She read a paper, "Does your face show your personality," then ended with "Recipe for Happiness." Mrs. C. Service thanked Mrs. Rinehart for her splendid talk. Mrs. Murray conducted a contest, Mrs. C. Hardy being the winner. The National Anthem brought our meeting to a close after which lunch was served.

There were about $934 worth of life insurance in force for every Canadian at the end of 1946 — a total of $11,500,000,000.

Mackenzie News

We hear that the hockey team has started this week with a practice at Guelph. We saw the school boys at six-man football, under George O'Donaghue playing Georgetown last week. Give the local boys another game or two and they will take Georgetown.

With the cold weather coming we will again remind people that come January, anthracite coal will be in very short supply. If you have some money, a good way to invest it for a warm winter is by ordering your coal now.

We won't be there but there is an I.O.D.E. Bazaar at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday.
