LOCAL NEWS

—Snowdrops and crocuses are out in some gardens.

—At last week's meeting of the Y Camera Club, members divided into two groups to take pictures and do dark room work.

—On the front cover of the latest issue of Junior Farmer News is a picture of the championship Halton county debating team.

—The Y secretary, Bob Brayshaw, will be leaving his position here after a decision has been made about his successor.

—Firemen, scout and cub leaders' senior course in First Aid, being put on by the St. John Ambulance, began Tuesday evening at the town hall.

—The Georgetown newspaper, the Herald, expresses the best wishes of Father Vincent Morgan's friends there, now that he will be serving the Acton Roman Catholic church only. "He is familiar to many Georgetowners not of his faith, and they with his church people will be missing his cheery presence in future. He has always had a pleasant hello to all he met, and it was a mutual pleasure when he stopped at the municipal office, at one of the stores or the Herald office," the item reads.

—The town's new garbage truck started collecting this Monday. The used vehicle was just recently purchased.

—James Callan of Roseford Terrace suffered painful injury to a finger while changing a tire on his car last week. Several stitches were required.

—Winter grime has been scraped from the main streets and carted away in the town's front end loader. Both parking and appearance are aided.

—Carl Rosly reported to police that 60 laying hens were removed from his home, No. 25 sideroad and the town line, early Wednesday morning. Police are still investigating.

—Monday a special vote will be held on the parks board of management question. Citizens are urged to vote with understanding on this question which affects every Actonian.

—A fire call Sunday afternoon took the local fire department out to the Second Line of Nassagaweya where a field and section of rail fence was burning. By the time the pumper arrived the fire was nearly under control.

Four Cars Stop Short Three Are Damaged

A rear-end collision on No. 7 Highway near the Ballinafad corner on Sunday afternoon caused $175 overall damage to three of the four cars involved, reports Police Constable Howard Gunn.

A car making a turn stopped. A second car driven by Jack Marshall, R.R.4, Acton, stopped. A third car driven by Lorne Roberts, Acton, collided with the rear of the Marshall car. The fourth car, driven by John McKerrow of Georgetown, collided with the rear of the Roberts car.

Personal Notes . . .

Of Actonians Visiting Out-of-Town Points and of Visitors in Acton Homes

It's a Small World Mrs. Brooks Finds

Mrs. Albert Brooks was surprised by a 5 a.m. telephone call to hear Victoria, Australia, calling. A friend, Mrs. Muriel Welch, renewed friendships and asked about a proposed visit next year. It was 8 p.m. there.

The world is really getting smaller! A generation ago it was unbelievable that this could happen.

Rev. McFarlane of Georgetown conducted communion service the past Sunday and baptized three babies, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Swackhamer, and the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kidd.

Mrs. Fred MacArthur, Mrs. Dave Williamson and Mrs. A. Kerr attended the W.M.S. gathering at Millgrove on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Swackhamer and girls visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. Swackhamer on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Moles and Jack, the farm commentator, visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. Denney on Saturday.
