

Local man to share $10 million 6/49 lottery win

Playing the lottery as a group has paid off for three colleagues— Yeng Gaw of Markham, Chi Leung of Stouffville and David Robinson of Georgetown— the winners of the $10,052,203.30 jackpot from the Jan. 31 LOTTO 6/49 draw.

“Even though the draw happened Saturday, I only checked the ticket last night,” recalled Gaw after arriving at the OLG Prize Centre in Toronto yesterday (Wednesday) with his group members to claim the winnings, following a sleepless night.

It took Gaw a couple of tries before he was able to reach Robinson, who was in disbelief about the win. Robinson said, “I made Yeng scan the ticket on his computer and send me a copy. When I checked the numbers myself I was in utter shock. You always wish for something like this to happen and finally it does!”

Gaw, Leung and Robinson have been playing LOTTO 6/49 and LOTTO MAX weekly as a group for a year. Robinson plans to buy his wife a car with his share of the winnings, Leung would like to take a vacation and Gaw wants to put his share into a bank account and decide what to do with it later.

“We won’t be changing our routine going forward. We will continue to play because you never know,” said the group.

Halton Region approves 1.5% budget hike
