Dying at the age of 108 Years

So old that the date of her birth has been lost in the mists of time, Mrs. Matilda LaFrance, supposed to be the oldest woman in Canada, is dying in the Peel County House of Refuge. It is stated by those who are intimately acquainted with her life that she has reached the unusual age of 108. The biography of Mrs. LaFrance is practically that of Peel County. Born on the banks of the Credit River, her early days were passed on the Indian reservation where the village of Port Credit now stands. During the entire course of her long life, Mrs LaFrance has never left Peel county, and, indeed has lived almost continuously at the scene of her birth. Although reaching a remarkable age with equally remarkable preservation, it was not until a year or so ago that Mrs. LaFrance was placed in the House of Refuge by the county authorities, where she had lived ever since. A few months ago her health began to fail and she has gradually sank lower until all hope has been abandoned. Her death is now believed to be but the matter of a few days. Mrs. LaFrance is a full blooded Indian.

Presentation

Prior to her departure from Georgetown Miss Pringle was on Saturday evening last presented by her friends with a handsome solid gold bracelet watch.

Laymen's Missionary Banquet.

All men in town who are interested in this great movement are invited to partake of an excellent supper which will be served in the Presbyterian church next Friday evening, Feb. 14th, from 6.30 to 7.30. Addresses by prominent men in the work will follow.

$400,000 in Good Roads.

Wellington County is going to spend $400,000 on the construction of permanent roads. A motion to expend that amount was carried on Friday night's session of the county council by a vote of 14 to 8. It was not unanimous always of clock that the standing committee for the county roads had prepared its report, recommending that such a sum should be expended, and the adoption was finally decided at 3 o'clock Saturday morning.

Chicago Glee Club

One Canadian writing he about the Chicago Glees tells us not to be afraid to advertise them, that we will have no regrets after hearing them. He thinks they will be without doubt the best concert of the kind ever listened to in Georgetown. Plan at Nixon's drug store open Friday for holders of course tickets and Saturday for others.

Address to H. S. Pupils

Dr. Alfred Gandier, principal of Knox College, gave a very interesting and instructive address to the pupils of the high school on Tuesday afternoon on "How to Make the Most of Life." This is the first of a number of addresses that the High School Board is arranging to have delivered in the school. If the others are as helpful as the first the course will be of great value.

A Successful Church Concert

The concert in the Baptist church on Monday evening under the auspices of the B. Y. P. U. was well attended and the program thoroughly enjoyed. Those who took part were: Miss Aileen Barr, Miss Ina Clark, Mr. E. A. Warren, Mr. Roy McLelland, Mr. F. J. Barber, Mr. Mr. H. Jarmyn. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Halton Insurance Co. Officers.

At the annual meeting of the above company held at Acton last week, the following officers and board of directors were elected for the ensuing year:—

James Kirkwood, Oapringe, President; Richard Graham, Ashgrove, Vice-President; John Ramsay, Eden Mills; H. W. Cook, Streetsville; Geo. Castle, Milton; Geo. E. Fisher, Freeman; N. F. Lindsay, Acton; W. A. Lasby, Rockwood; John Wilson, Erin, Directors. Mr. Colin Cameron, Rockwood, was re-appointed Secretary-Treasurer.

P. S. Inspector Appointed

The appointment of a public school inspector for Halton by the county council was something of a problem. There were no less than 20 applicants, many of them exceptionally well qualified, but only eight of these appeared before the council and no others were seriously considered. J. M. Denyes, B.A., of Belleville, was chosen. Mr. Denyes was principal of Oakville high school for two years, removing to Belleville about a year ago. He is a graduate of Queen's University, has been a most successful teacher and a clever writer on educational subjects. This by-law under which he was appointed requires that he shall live in Milton. His duties will commence on March 1st. Until then Mr. Deason will remain in office and he will complete the report for the last school year.

Foresters' Concert

The concert in the town hall last Wednesday evening under the auspices of Court Credit, No. 133, Independent Order of Foresters, was largely attended. An excellent program was rendered by Miss Maude Bigwood, soprano, who, in her various numbers, won repeated applause; Miss Lillian Dillon, pianist, in solos and duets with Miss Bigwood and Harvey Lloyd was also heartily received and her selections enjoyed. Mr. Harvey Lloyd, the funny man of the evening, made everybody laugh and was compelled to respond to repeated encores.

During the evening Mr. George A. Mitchell, Ass't Supreme Chief Ranger, gave an instructive and interesting address on "Fraternity." Mr. Mitchell is an able and fluent speaker and his earnest appeal to all present to protect those dependent upon them was very convincing. He cited the great work being done by the Independent Order of Foresters in caring for the widows and children of deceased members, and of their efforts to help stamp out the white plague by establishing a sanitarium for the treatment of members who become afflicted with tuberculosis.

Mr. Massey, organizer, who is in town at present, also spoke a few words, stating that a large number had already signified their intention of becoming members of the Order. J. M. Moore occupied the chair.
