STAND BY YOUR TOWN

If you think your town's the best,
Tell 'em so.
If you'd have her lead the rest,
Help her grow.
When there's anything to do
Let the fellows count on you,
You'll feel bully when its through,
Don't you know.

If you want to make a hit,
Get a name.
If the other fellow's it,
Who's to blame?
Spend the money in your town,
Thus keep your prices down,
Give the mull coterie a frown—
That's the game!

If you're disposed to giving knocks,
Change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of rocks,
For a while;
Let the other fellow boast,
Slap him as you would a ghost,
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.

When a stranger from afar
Comes along,
Tell him who and what you are—
Make it strong;
Need't flatter, never bluff,
Tell the truth, for that's enough;
Join the boosters—that's the stuff,
We belong.

Recalled '37 Events

While in Halton last week Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, accompanied by A. R. McMaster, M.P., visited the residence of W. D. Gregory, in which his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, was hidden for some time during the rebellion of 1837. Later Major John Kaitting, aged 84, and John Biggar, 81, two of Trafalgar's oldest sons, showed Mr. King the spot at which Mr. Mackenzie tried to cross the Sixteen Mile Creek, but failed on account of a freshet which had carried away the bridge. J. D. McGregor, Trafalgar's historian, told the story of Mr. Mackenzie's call at the house of Wm. Comfort at Barberton, how he left for Niagara with Mr. Comfort, who drove a grey team noted for its speed, who whipped his horses up when challenged by a sentry and drew several shots, proceeded down the gravel road to Dundas Street, reached the creek, failed to cross and took refuge in the house of Squire Tiller, whose seven beautiful daughters hid the fugitive, and, when four soldiers came to look for him, entertained them so well with coffee and cake that they did not make a search. Before leaving for Milton Mr. King visited the Triller residence, which is still standing and in good repair. If Mr. King had had any time to spare after coming here he could have ben taken to other places in which his grandfather was hidden when evading capture, the Stewart farm in the Scotch Block, where soldiers prodded hay under which he was concealed in a barn, and the Joseph Bowes farm, near Boyne. The late John Stewart, uncle of Postmaster Stewart, was active in the rebellion, was captured, tried, convicted, and sentenced to transportation for life to Van Dieman's Land, but he and several others escaped near Kingston and crossed to the United States. Mr. Stewart returned to Canada after a long stay in the republic. He died at Paisley some years ago.—Milton Champion.

Farmer Killed by Thresher

David J. Moore of Ellice Township was fatally injured last week while assisting in threshing on William Bean's farm in Fullerton township. While adjusting a belt on a threshing machine his arm was dragged into the machinery and terribly mangled. He died from shock before medical aid could be secured.

Don't All Get This Kind At Once, Girls

The first "show" of Paris fall fashions has scared off American buyers on account of the shortness of the women's skirts. The new style skirts put out by Parisian designers are the shortest since fig leaf days. One model which the Parisian dressmakers admit is "fairly daring" comprises a skirt composed of front and back panels reaching to the knees. The panels are sewed together only part of the way so that a puff of wind blows them apart.

Guelph Merchant Left $182,000

An estate of $181,757.20 was left by the late George Byron Ryan, merchant of Guelph, who died on June 2nd, 1920. Application for probate of the will of the deceased has ben made to the Surrogate Court of Wellington County by the executors named in the will. They are the widow, Selina Ryan, Harold G., and Norman Claude Ryan, merchants of Guelph, and by William S. Middleboro, K.C., of Owen Sound. The property consists of $131,286.61 personality, and $50,470.59 realty.

Booze in Cemetery

A barrel of booze was recently unearthed in a cemetery near Dresden from what looked like a fresh dug grave. It had been hidden there by bootleggers. A hearse without mourners aroused the suspicion of Whiskey detectives in the vicinity of Windsor. Beside the driver of the hearse was a priest with a prayer book in his hand. The one in priestly garb turned out to be a bootlegger and several gallons of high proof whiskey were found inside the hearse. The driver and fake priest were arrested.

Recurrence of Small Pox Feared

Fearing another outbreak of the smallpox epidemic of last winter, the medical authorities at Windsor have issued an order compelling all school children to undergo vaccination before being admitted for the fall term. Three new cases reported within the past few days have been largely responsible for the action of the Border City Board of Health. All three cases were contracted in Toronto, where, it is claimed, the epidemic of last winter had its origin. An official warning to all who intend attending the Toronto Exhibition to become vaccinated has also been issued.

Man of 90 Has Party

There was a birthday party at No. 2 Wright Avenue, Toronto, last week to celebrate the 90th anniversary of the birth of Andrew Leslie. Mr. Leslie was born on August 19, 1830, on his father's farm, Esquesing Township, Halton County, north of Glenwilliams. He spent a large portion of his life near Mount Forest and retired to Toronto fifteen years ago. He still enjoys the best of health and takes a keen interest in affairs of life. Two brothers, John of Erin, and Thomas of Hamilton, are still living. His children are five: Addison in Montana, Albert Leslie, Windermere Ave.; John Leslie, 2 Wright Ave.; Mrs. Scott, Sheridan Ave., and Miss Elizabeth Leslie, at home.

Notes and Comments

In order that the farmers who constitute the majority of the members of the Ontario Legislature may be through their attendance at the session early in the spring, so as to be able to attend to their farming interests at home, it has been decided by the Drury Government that the session will be called to open in January next, instead of February, as in the past.

Members of the Drury Government Commission which is investigating Hydro radials, have been making an inspection within the last few days of some of the lines projected.

Portions of the proposed lines to Niagara have been gone over, and also sections of the Toronto Eastern route. The commission members are using autos to make their inspection.

It is expected, before the next sitting that they will have had a chance to survey a considerable portion of the lines proposed under the Hydro radial scheme. Hydro-Electric engineers are accompanying the party.

With a view to perpetuating the heroic work of Dr. Wilfrid T. Grenfell's mission along the coast of Labrador, friends of Dr. Grenfell in Canada, the United States, Newfoundland, England, and elsewhere, are banding themselves together into a society, according to word reaching the capital. The headquarters of the organization will be in New York. The objects of the association are said to be to ensure the continuance of Dr. Grenfell's mission, and to take steps, while Dr. Grenfell is still able to direct the work, to guarantee that the work will go on after he has been compelled to give up its direction.

Much harm has been done in the past by foolish persons throughout Canada stirring up a feeling of animosity between town and country. We have no room for such a feeling. We should endeavor to work out our destiny as a great nation, as a united people. If there are wrongs to right, let us right them, but no good can come to us by the cultivation of ill-will. What we need is co-operation, a spirit of good will and fellowship, a realization of our responsibilities as citizens of a great nation within a great Empire. Only by the cultivation of such a spirit can Canadians really best serve their country and do their duty by their fellows.

The Provincial Inspector has sent out notice to the constables and magistrates throughout the province complaining about the lax enforcement of the law in respect to driving of motor cars and has stated that unless the law is immediately better enforced he will appoint special officers to enforce the same.

On account of motorists running into or colliding with horse-drawn vehicles in the country, an agitation has begun to remedy matters, and it is expected that before long Hon. H. F. Biggs will be asked to introduce legislation compelling all vehicles, including horse-drawn rigs, to carry lights at night. Milton people are taking aggressive action along this line.

Copies of the Motor Vehicles Act revised up to date, were received by Hamilton Highway constables recently. One of the principal revisions made in the act is that contained in Section 24, which now provides that every person who violates Section 14 of the act, i.e., "No intoxicated person shall drive a motor vehicle" shall for the first offence be imprisoned for a period not exceeding 30 days nor less than seven days. The sentence for a second offence is not to exceed three months nor to be less than one month, while for a subsequent offence the sentence shall not exceed one year or be less than three months. No provision is made for a fine and it would seem that the magistrate trying the case has no option.

It has been finally decided not to attempt the amalgation of Dufferin, Peel, and Halton county jails, as it is believed it would be an unwise move to have only one jail at Brampton for three counties. One reason is that it would cost sixty thousand dollars to enlarge the Brampton jail. Prisoners to be tried in Dufferin and Halton would have to be conveyed back and forth, and as far as the Milton jail is concerned, it costs less to maintain its prisoners than any other jail in the Province. Milton jail held nine prisoners during the past week, the most it has had at any one time this year. Three were released this afternoon. Three Toronto men are waiting transportation to Burwash for individual cases of stealing. They are all young men between 16 and 20 years of age.

A gentleman who has a number of girls employed in his office has confided one of his present difficulties to us. His young ladies are stylish young ladies who wear silk stockings and decidedly abbreviated skirts. One of them, who is ultra-stylish, appeared for duty a short time ago, with skirts shorter than ever. Apprehending a general shortening on the part of the rest of the staff, the employer felt it necessary quietly to admonish the leader of fashion, and request that her skirts be somewhat lengthened. His admonition was not ignored, to the extent that the dress appeared to have dropped from the top, so that she obeyed orders, but still showed quite as much of her shapely person only from the other end. "Bowled again" the employer says and throws up his hands.

Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, has intimated that as a part of the good road program it was the intention to increase the motor license fees for next year. With a fee for automobiles there is no quarrel, but why the autoists should be the special target for provincial taxes to provide money to build roads, and other traffic on the highways go scot free is difficult to understand. All should be treated alike, and now that we have the Minister's declaration that the Department is run on a strictly fair business basis, the question arises, Why is one conveyance taxed and not another. Well might Mr. Biggs give the matter careful attention. Were he to adopt a system that would equalize the taxation, he would not be establishing a precedent at all but simply adopting a principle set overseas, where everything using the roads contributes to the public funds. If roads must be maintained, and they must be, provision should be made that all should contribute and not one section of the people made the goat.

Notice to Ratepayers

Ratepayers who have purchased property since the assessment was made, please notify the Hydro Office, so that tax papers may be sent to proper persons.
