Chautauqua Concluded

The program on the last day of Chautauqua, July 20th, proved a rare treat to the large gatherings both afternoon and evening. Miss Ruby Gall and her old song singers were much appreciated and their rendering of the songs of long ago delighted everybody. Dr. Robert Norwood's lecture on "The Dominion and its Destiny," was interesting from start to finish, full of information mixed with sound common sense advise, such as is needed and should be heeded to make a truly loyal Canadian Dominion.

Correspondence

July 26, 1921.

Editor Herald—Sorry to have to contradict the statement in last week's paper in regard to withdrawing my appeal. I have never thought of such a thing and as for going to the Council Chamber, I never went there. I went to the hall as it was voting day. While there I told Chief Melville, as I told him before, it must go through. I have a witness to this statement.—Mrs. Wm. Anthony.

Stone Smashed Windshield

On Monday evening about 10 p. m. when driving midway between Centreville and Norval, Mr. P. L. McDermott had the windshield of his car smashed by a stone thrown from the roadside. Mr. and Mrs. LeGrow, Miss Olive LeGrow and Mr. Eddie Gibbens were in the car with Mr. McDermott. No person was visible, nor was any further attempt made to molest the motorists. Mr. McDermott got to Norval as quickly as possible and telephoned Georgetown and Brampton police who were soon at the scene. The boy who threw the stone is likely to be put under arrest at any time.

L. V. Hourigan Co., Ltd.

This week we announce the granting of letters patent to Mr. L. V. Hourigan, druggist, whose business will be conducted hereafter as the L. V. Hourigan Company, Ltd. From a brief review of the prospectus we note that the Company is incorporated for $100,000. The object of incorporation is the opening up of branches in various parts of the Province. We understand that two branches are to be opened immediately. Mr. Hourigan will remain at the head of the Corporation and judging by the success that has been attained at the Georgetown store, we predict a brilliant future for the new Company.

Stole Auto and Express Parcel

About 1 a.m. on Wednesday morning last, Mr. Andrew McDonald, of Chinguacousy, near Terra Cotta, was awakened by his dog barking, and on looking out discovered some men pushing his car out of the lane, where they started it and headed toward Terra Cotta. Mr. McDonald phoned Ben Petch and Fred Lyons who with himself and Frank Petch pursued the thieves. They came on them at Terra Cotta station where they had put a stolen express parcel into the car and were in the act of getting away with it when discovered. The thieves made good their escape but were later arrested, one at Norval Station and the other three at Geo. Love's, 1st line west Chinguacousy.

Two of the thieves evidently carried revolvers as two were found where they had been thrown away near where the men were arrested.

The four men were taken to Brampton where they appeared before Magistrate R. Crawford charged with theft of the auto, stealing goods from the depot and with breaking into the station. They pleaded not guilty, and, as the Crown was not ready to proceed with their case, they were remanded for a week. The names of the men are:—Fred Parker, formerly employed as a farm hand in this district; Joseph Hopson and Arthur O'Brien of Toronto, and Vernet Delaney of Orangeville.
