Harvest Thankgiving

Large Congregations Attend Services at St. George's and St. Alban's

The Harvest Thanksgiving services on Sunday last at St. George's were all well attended. The sacred edifice had been beautifully decorated with grain, flowers and fruit. The music by the choir was much enjoyed, the soloist being Mrs. Wilfred Preston, with Mrs. Annandale at the organ. The Rev. J. Samuel, Rector of St. Stephen's Church at Hamilton preached two appropriate and eloquent sermons.

The opening meeting of the Women's Institute for the season was held on Monday afternoon and took the form of a reception in honor of Mrs. Beamont Sr., for 30 years the beloved president. The Ladies' Guild of St. Alban's were also guests of the Women's Auxiliary, and a good number were present. Tea was served and a beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Beaumont on behalf of the members by Miss Dade.

ST. ALBAN'S

One of the most successful Harvest Festivals in the history of the church was held on Friday and Sunday last and large congregations were present on Friday evening and gave a splendid rendering of the choral service. The preacher was the Rev. R. A. Allen, Rector of Brampton, who gave a helpful and practical address. Sunday's preacher was the Rev. J. Samuel, Rector of St. Stephen's, Hamilton. Splendid music was given by the choir.

Dr. Webster Re-appointed Sheriff of Halton

Dr. Webster who was displaced by the Drury government on the eve of the recent election, has been reinstated Sheriff of Halton and is to-day receiving the hearty congratulations of his many friends throughout the county.

Sheriff A. L. MacNabb, Milton, the Drury appointee, has received his official notice from the Ferguson government to vacate his office and make way for Dr. Webster, who has been reinstated as sheriff of Halton county. Sheriff Webster will be required to be sworn in again, but this will be done in time to allow him to officiate at the fall assizes next Tuesday.

Premier Ferguson issued the following statement regarding the matter:

"I have had reports from the Inspector of Legal Offices, and he advises me that Sheriff Webster's administration was among the best in the province. While the appointment of McNabb was passed by Premier Drury on June 9, Webster was not notified until the day preceeding the election. It was purely a political move, made in the best of the election, and one that could not possibly stand."

Norval

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hustler visited friends in St. Catharines during the week.

Mr. L. H. Douglas is returning from his mission in Saskatchewan and is expected home on Thursday of this week.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held a corn roast last evening.

Harvest Home Services will be held in the Methodist church next Sabbath 23rd. Sunday School at 10.30 a.m. Service at 11 a.m. conducted by the pastor, and at 7.30 p.m. conducted by Rev. D. G. Ridout of the Methodist Mission Rooms, Toronto. Special music by the choir at both services.

Mr. Greenwood's selections in the program at Terra Cotta on Monday evening were very much enjoyed.

Thanks

Having disposed of my confectionery and ice cream business in Georgetown to Mr. Harold C. Black, I hereby thank my many customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and solicit a continuance of the same for my successor who will continue to serve the public with the best procurable.

Fine Display of Flowers

Georgetown's First Flower Show a Huge Success

There were one hundred and seventy entries in the various classes at the flower show in the Public Library auditorium last Saturday, and a magnificent display of bloom which was much admired by the many people who attended the show during the afternoon and evening.

Most beautiful displays not entered in competition were made by the following: Gladioli, Georgetown Floral Co., H. L. Hutt, J. H. Jackson. Dahlias, A. B. Ormsby, Mimico, and C. W. Papst.

There was a good musical program during the afternoon and evening. In the afternoon three choruses were sung by Public School children led by Mr. A. B. Castell, and instrumentals rendered by Misses Jean Mackenzie, Maude McDonald and Maisie McDonald. In the evening there were choruses by Public School children and instrumentals by Misses Ruth Orr and Ida Caldwell; Miss Jean Adams, accompanist.

The Horticultural Society is to be congratulated on the success of their effort which no doubt means an annual flower show for Georgetown and the planting of more flowers by our citizens.

The Georgetown Floral Co. and H. L. Hutt very generously donated their exhibits of gladioli to the society for sale.

Following is a list of those who won prizes:—

Educational Meeting

On Friday evening last a meeting under the auspices of the Trustees and Ratepayers' Association was held in the assembly room of our Public School.

Mr. Morris, the President of the association, was unable to be present on account of illness but sent Dr. Carr, director of rural education, to give the address of the evening.

Dr. Carr gave a very clear and concise talk on the rural school and some of its problems as it exists to day. He claimed that the organization of our rural school system to day is practically the same as when organized by Dr. Ryerson nearly a century ago. The present system he claimed was very expensive and comparatively inefficient and he advocated the establishment of consolidated schools as the only remedy yet advanced. Dr. Carr made an eloquent plea for the country pupil to whom the advantages of higher education were denied. The consolidated school would give him this boon in an environment that was rural, and as a result he would be more apt to remain on the farm.

Several reels of moving pictures were also shown during the evening.

While the attendance was not as large as it should have been, those present felt that the evening had been well and profitably spent.
