Georgetown Chautauqua

Georgetown Chautauqua for 1924 opened yesterday with large and appreciative audiences. Both the afternoon and evening programs had larger attendances than on any similar occasion in the past, showing the popularity of this splendid entertainment. The work of the Dunbar Male Quartette well warranted the hearty applause it received. It is not often that one has the opportunity of hearing such a splendid example of bell ringing or pleasing harmony of voices. In the evening, following the musical numbers, Dr. Fox of Pasadena, California, gave a lecture on "The Philosophy of Common Sense," that was very good, full of wit and humor, that shook the audience with laughter, yet carrying such an earnest message of appeal for the betterment of all humanity through the English speaking races that he held the people enthralled to the very end. Certainly, if the balance of the Chautauqua programs live up to the sample we had yesterday Georgetown is indeed indebted to the citizens who made this possible and we can only urge all to take advantage of the opportunity.

Second Chautauqua Programme

Housed in between a screen door which she could not open and an overturned coal oil stove which set fire to its surroundings, Miss Lois Meldrum of Cheltenham, daughter of Rev. T. E. Meldrum, pastor of the Baptist Church in that place, showed great presence of mind Tuesday of last week when she seized a buffalo robe which was stored in the summer kitchen, spread it on the floors, and then walked over the robe to the outside entrance. Miss Meldrum was coming with the coal oil stove, which was placed in the summer kitchen, when a pile of cordwood, stored for the winter, collapsed against the stove and upset it, also falling against the screen door so as to shut it shut. Mrs. Meldrum, who has been an invalid for the past five years, assisted in fighting the fire, and, with the help of the maid, the ladies managed to extinguish the fire without calling in assistance. Some five cords of wood were piled in the woodshed adjoining the kitchen, and had the back of the stove not rolled over with the opening upwards, there would have been little chance of saving the garden sage.

Fire Destroys Sawmill

During the severe electrical storm which visited this district on Friday last the sawmill in Esquesing Township, belonging to Councillor Thomas Coxe of Milton, was struck by lightning and reduced to ashes in a short time. The Milton fire brigade, which answered the urgent call for help with their fire truck and chemical engine, succeeded with the assistance of many farmers in saving the lumber and everything else but the mill. The loss is estimated at $5,000 and the mill was not insured. Mr. Coxe stated that he did not expect to rebuild the mill.

An Acknowledgement

We beg to acknowledge receipt of a new song entitled "When First We Met." As the editor of this paper doesn't know a demi semi quaver from a diapason, or a bass cleff from a bone tumor, he will not be expected to give an extended notice of this production. We can say, however, that the type used in printing the song is clear and plain, the paper seems to be the best quality of rag, the design on the front page is artistic and the words are tender as veal steak and as poetic as the song of a meadow-lark on a May morning. The melody is sound and all right with no wind galls or collar marks. The harmony also seems to be in a healthy condition, with no patent effects or noticeable blemishes. The totality is clear and resonant, and rest on harmonic relations and melodic elements.—Orangeville Sun.
