SIX FEET OF EARTH

I'll sing you a song of the world and its ways,
And the many strange people we meet,
From the rich man who rolls in his millions of wealth
To the struggling wretch out on the street;
But a man, though he's poor and in tatters and rags,
We should never affect or despise
But think of the adage, remember, my friend,
That six feet of earth makes us all of one size.

There the rich man with thousands to share, if he likes,
But he haughtily holds up his head,
And he thinks he's above the mechanic who toils,
And is honestly earning his bread.
But his gold and his jewels he can't take away
To the world up above when he dies,
For death levels all, and conclusively shows
That six feet of earth makes us all of one size.

There's many a coat that is tattered and torn,
That covers a true, honest heart,
But because he's not dressed like his neighbors, in style,
Why society keeps them apart.
For on one fortune smiles, while the other one fails;
Yes, no matter what venture he tries;
But time calls them both to the grave in the end
And six feet of earth makes us all of one size.

Then when you see a poor fellow that tries
To baffle the world and its frown.
Let's help him along and perchance he'll succeed;
Don't crush him because he is down.
For a cup of cold water in charity given
Is remembered with joy in the skies;
We are all but human—we've all got to die,
And six feet of earth makes us all of one size.

BOY KILLS HALF-SISTER WAS PLAYING WITH GUN

Sad Shooting Accident the Result of Boy Playing with Loaded Gun

As she was setting the table for luncheon, Mrs. Jean Comber, aged 23 years, was shot and instantly killed last Saturday at noon by a .22 rifle bullet, unintentionally fired by her 7-year-old half-brother, Tommy Gemmel.

Mrs. Comber dropped to the floor dead. The bullet had penetrated her brain, entering directly behind her right ear through the conical prominence which the skull assumes at that point.

Coroner H. A. McColl of Milton, investigated the case late Saturday afternoon and announced that the shooting was accidental, and that an inquest was unnecessary. The little boy, eyes reddened with crying, sobbed that he had "only been playing," while Thomas Comber, husband of the dead woman, who brought the gun into the house, stated that he had not known it was loaded.

Comber, an employee of one of the mills here, had planned to go rabbit shooting on Saturday afternoon. On his way from work, he borrowed the rifle from a friend and proceeded home to luncheon.

Entering the kitchen, where his wife was getting the meal ready, he laid the gun on the table. The boy walked over to the table and picked up the rifle, boylike, to handle it.

He did not have it in his hands more than a few moments when there was a sharp bang, and Mrs. Comber, standing a few feet away, fell to the floor in a heap.

Dr. Reginald Paul was in the house within five minutes, but all the speed in the world could not have got him there soon enough.

The family is Scottish, and had not been in Canada very long. The young couple had come here first, and a few months ago were followed by the little boy and his mother, who is also the dead woman's mother. The latter was in the kitchen at the time and corroborated the accounts of the shooting given by Comber and her son.

MILTON

While on a visit to her brother, J. H. Harrison, at Port Colborne, Mrs. F. C. Willmott of Milton was run into and knocked down by a bicycle, which a boy was riding on the sidewalk, and sustained a broken left arm.

During Sunday night Fleming & Armstrong's butcher shop here was burglarized. The robber gained entrance by unlocking the front door with a skeleton key, stole nearly $12 in silver from the cash register and made his escape through a small door at the rear. The burglar's tracks were traced through the snow, but finally lost.—Reformer.

GOLDEN WEDDINGS

Georgetown Citizens and Former Residents of Stewarttown Celebrate 50th Wedding Day

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wrigglesworth of Georgetown, Ont., was celebrated on Monday, December 6, when about fifty guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cowles, 57 Strathcona avenue, Toronto, to shower congratulations on the happy couple and share in the banquet given in honor of the event. The bride and groom of December 6, 1876, were the recipients of a purse of gold from the immediate family, presented by the youngest grandchild, Master Donald Wrigglesworth, and they also received many beautiful presents and messages of congratulation from their friends, showing the high esteem in which they are held. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown of Carlisle, Sask., were present, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Wrigglesworth, and the bridesmaid of fifty years ago. The groomsman, Dr. T. Wrigglesworth of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, was prevented by sickness from being present, and in a message conveyed the congratulations of his wife and himself to the happy couple.

Mr. Wrigglesworth was born in Halton county and is a staunch Liberal. He was for many years a member of the municipal council of Esquesing township, and of the county council of Halton, having held the position of reeve for three years.

Mrs. Wrigglesworth was also born in Halton county and before her marriage was Miss Mary McDowell. Like her husband she is a Methodist.

Among those present were: Mrs. R. C. Cowles, the only daughter, and her husband, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wrigglesworth, Erin, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wrigglesworth, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wrigglesworth, Georgetown, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wrigglesworth, Toronto, with their families, comprising eleven grandchildren; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cameron, the latter being a sister of the groom, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Martin, Hamilton, cousins of the bride; Rev. and Mrs. Caldwell, Limehouse, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Mann, Miss McKenzie, Miss Davidson, Mr. Mercer of Toronto, and a number of others.

After the guests had partaken of the banquet arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Martin the evening was spent in music and games, the music being supplied by the Misses Olive and Bella Wrigglesworth. After a very delightful time the guests departed wishing the bride and groom many years of health and happiness.

One of the most interesting and enjoyable events in the annals of the family history of Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh occurred at "The Maples," their residence, on Frederick Street, Acton, on Monday evening, Dec. 6th. This was the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of James McIntosh, of Esquesing, to Mary Jane Graham, of Erin, which occurred on the 6th of December, 1876, at the Baptist parsonage, Georgetown, with Rev. Mr. McGregor, the pastor, officiating.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh spent the day quietly, grateful for the many blessings they were in possession of, including good health, and extremely trankful for the half century of happiness which had been their portion. Towards evening Mr. McIntosh quietly remarked, "Well, mother, I guess we'll spend the whole of the day quietly together, and enjoy the anniversary without any visitors. Anyway, you know we decided long ago we weren't going to make any fuss over it when our golden wedding did arrive."

But a genuine surprise awaited them. Just as the clock struck six there was a knock at the door, and there walked in Mrs. McIntosh's sisters, Mrs. George Scott, of Detroit; Mrs. Robert Waite, of Sudbury; Mrs. Martha Armstrong and Miss Elizabeth Graham, of Acton, and her two brothers, Dr. W. H. Graham, Detroit, and Mr. Joseph Graham, Copperclif, and then there were the sons of the home and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntosh, Acton, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McIntosh and Grant, of Oshawa. And then to make the friendly circle complete, there came with them, Mrs. Robert Stricker, their niece; Miss Mamie Masales, a friend of long standing; Mr. James Graham, and the Pastor and Mrs. Baxter.

The company brought the wedding feast with them, and it was a happy company which surrounded the festive board. When the wedding repast had been fully discussed and the wedding cake had been cut and sampled, Mr. Frank McIntosh, the elder son, was appointed toastmaster, and suitable toasts were honored by the company.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh were the recipients of a purse of gold from the children and grandson, and another from the Graham family. They were the recipients also of other valued gifts.

Kind words were spoken, many interesting reminiscences were recalled, and Pastor Baxter made a brief and very happy congratulatory speech. It is needless to say that Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh were overcome with the unexpected and very happy event. It was a very happy occasion indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh came to Acton thirty-nine years ago, after spending the most of their previous wedded life at Stewarttown. They have been good citizens, and their activities in the Baptist Church have meant much in its progress and success. The community congratulates them.

CORRESPONDENCE

Mutton Bay,
Canadian Labrador,
October 29th, 1926.

My dear friends:

The barrel of home-canned fruit relish, jellies and honey arrived yesterday. Not a leak and in perfectly sound condition. There is nothing that you could have sent, that would have been more acceptable. Home canned fruit is so delicious, and we appreciate it so much here after having only the tinned fruits. This morning I took some honey and crab apple jelly to a little girl who has been in bed four months, she was so pleased.

I shall think of you all most kindly every time I open a jar, and I thank you all from the bottom of my heart for your kindness in sending so much. It is just the nicest donation you could have made.

With all good wishes to you all, and a Merry Christmas to the Georgetown Branch, I am gratefully yours,
MARION A. MURRAY.

OBITUARY

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Rice

On Monday morning information came to Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Claridge of the death of Mrs. E. S. Rice, succeeding a stroke, at the home of her son, William, at Kingston. The message further stated that Mr. Rice was critically ill. A few hours later another message came saying that Mr. Rice had also passed away, and requesting that arrangements be made for a double funeral from the United Church, Acton, their church home for many years, on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Rice came to Acton about twenty-five years ago. They lived in their comfortable home on Willow Street for many years. Previously they had lived at Glenwilliams and Cheltenham. For a number of years they conducted a grocery store in the building occupied by McKeon & Powell, clothiers. Owing to advancing age, they gave up their home here four or five years ago, and went to live with their daughter, Mrs. James Whetham, at Burlington. The past year or so they have been living with their son, William, at Kingston. They were both seventy-eight years of age. Mrs. Rice's maiden name was Margaret Kain, and her birthplace was in King Township, York County. Two sons and a daughter survive: William, of Kingston, and Lester, of Saginaw, Mich., and Mrs. Whetham, of Burlington. They both were greatly attached to Acton, and particularly to the church of their choice. At the Golden Jubilee re-union last August they were both present, and none enjoyed the services more fully than they. They enjoyed the esteem of the community and appreciated very much the friendship and hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Claridge, where they made their home on their visits here. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. R. E. Zimmerman, B.A. Interment was made in the family plot at Fairview Cemetery. They were an affectionate pair, had lived together for fifty-five years, and in death were not separated. They celebrated their golden wedding very happily in Acton five years ago last October.—Free Press.
