Major Crockett Succeeds

Lieut.-Colonel J. A. Hughes has completed his tenure of command of the Peel and Dufferin Regiment and retired to the 2nd Reserve. Major C. M. Corkett, well-known Brampton young man and clerk of the town, succeeds him and will be gazetted as officer commanding in the very near future with the rank of lieut-colonel. Major Corkett served during the war in the 2nd Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers, an Imperial regiment with whom the Peel-Dufferin Regiment is now allied. He has been with the Peel-Dufferin Regiment for ten years, of which he was "A" company commander for eight years. He was twice wounded in France.

Exterminating the Blackbirds

In the third drive against the blackbirds on Burlington Ave. on Thursday and Saturday nights last by Chief Smith and his firing squad, over 400 blackbirds were shot. Every year these birds become a nuisance in the vicinity, and the police have been called upon to take this means of driving them away. At the meeting of the council on Monday night, it was decided to discontinue shooting the birds, and the trees will be trimmed, and if this does not dispose of the trouble the trees will be cut down.—Gazette.

COUNTY OLD AGE PENSIONS

Eight of the ten applications for old age pensions received by the Old Age Pensions Board of Halton County, which met in Milton recently, were granted. One was refused and one referred back to be applied for in Hamilton. Of the ten applications, one was from Burlington and two from Nelson township, with the others coming from various parts of the County. Inspector Prosper Dontigny, who has been making some investigations in the County, announced that he would make a recommendation to the Provincial Board to discontinue some pensions in the County, and to reduce some others. The inspector complimented the Halton Board on its businesslike methods.

GENERAL NEWS

We received a circular through the mail on Monday from the Robert Simpson Co. announcing a new plan. They will send out a new catalogue every two months instead of twice a year. When Simpson's and Eaton's stores are pressing so hard to get the trade of the town we cannot understand why the merchants of town don't busy and use more space in them and the papers too. I would think the papers too. It might put up a fight for independent merchants.

Wallenstein just outside of the thunderstorm, a young prior to a [illegible] the steps of a woodchuck walked to the door, sat on his haunches and boldly rap-back of the door with his forepaws. Immigrants Under Farm Bd. Hostel Hold Annual Reunion

WITH BEST JUDGES AT HOSTEL GATHERING

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, minister of agriculture, gave the 200 boys of the United Church Hostel gathered at Norval on Friday for their second annual reunion, an inspiring message in his short address. He urged the boys to face discouragement with a smile, to show real British fight when downhearted, and their reward would be success and at some future time they would own farms of their own.

One hundred and eighty-one boys received their diplomas from Mrs. Kennedy. They graduate from the care of the hostel, which was established three years ago, being past their twentieth birthdays or having come to Canada three years ago.

A. Maclaren, Georgetown, superintendent of the hostel, occupied the chair. In his brief remarks he stated that 1,176 boys from Scotland, England, Ireland and Wales had been well placed by the executive.

Since April of 1930 seven boys met death accidently and a memorial service was held, conducted by Rev. Dr. Beaton, Toronto, of the home mission board of the United Church for Ontario. Samuel McMeekin, one of the boys, sang "Crossing the Bar."

In the afternoon about 50 young men attending the international Y.M.C.A. convention in Toronto were guests of the hostel.

The work of the hostel, which is under the auspices of the United Church of Canada board of home missions, has been carried on for more than three years and is doing excellent work.

Another bond of union between the boys and their alma mater is the magazine, The Vanguard, published monthly for their especial benefit by the board. They make much of this and contribute freely to its columns, telling of their progress in their new homes.

The international championship on national group basis in agricultural exhibits and judging was won by Wales Friday with 1,817 points. The Deacon trophy is the award. John G. Gray, Irish, with 397, won the individual award. The T. B. Macauley trophy for music competition went to England with 816 points; champion individual, Maurice Marshall, English, 194. The banner for international athletics and aquatics, including tug-of-war, was captured by Scotland, 306, and champion individual, John Dougary, Scotch, 39. Wales, with 2,267, accounted for the John J. Tory challenge trophy for country winning greatest number of points in all events and William Patterson, Welsh, was individual champion with 528. The E. C. Andrews special prize for individual who by points won, participation in events and in the judgment of officials is the champion in all-round proficiency and service, was Richard Couch, Wales. All competitors received a photograph of the 1930 junior herd champion at the Royal Winter Fair. Prize winners of the events were:

HAS IT HAPPENED TO YOU? by P.C.1

Whenever I see the driver of a motor car beat a railway train to a crossing by a few feet, I can't help thinking of the pitcher that went to the well once too often . . . and broke.

If I could talk for just five minutes to every driver of a motor car I don't believe there would ever be another railway crossing accident

Gee! the things I've seen when drivers tried to beat trains have cost me many a sleepless night.

Take my word for it there are enough unavoidable perils attached to driving a car without tempting Providence where the railway and highway meet.

Well, I'll be seeing you.

- - And add this to your profits

NO ONE can deny a man the right to spend his dollar where he chooses. It is his privilege to make his dollar produce the utmost in value. The decision as to where that value is to be found is, whether right or wrong, his to make. A tip on how to make a dollar go farther is permissable, however, and we suggest that you think about this:

¶ The lowest price does not always mean the best buy; in fact in most cases it does not. Comparitive quality and many other things enter into the transaction. But let us take two identical articles—one here—at home—the other out of town. Let us suppose the out of town price is lower delivered to your door, by 5c or 75c, than the purchase you can make at home. But it is not the most economical buy. That money is gone for good; it will never return to you, whereas if spent at home —well, here's an illustration:

¶ A shoeman owes a baker $2.00 and gives him $1.00 discharging fifty per cent. of the debt. The baker owes a farmer $2.00 for potatoes, so he pays the farmer half his debt with the dollar. The farmer purchases a pair of $2.00 shoes, paying $1 down. The shoeman uses the dollar to cancel his debt to the baker, the baker to the farmer, and the farmer pays for his shoes. The shoeman has paid his debt, made a sale and still has his orginal capital. So have the baker and farmer. That's community business. Three persons have made a profit on $1.00 and it's still in the community to make more. The dollar that goes the farthest is the one that stays at home.
