THE VIMY PILGRIMAGE

There has never been in history anything just like the Canadian pilgrimage to Vimy. Never before have so many soldiers visited the battlefields on which they fought and travelled so far to do it. It is a brave and romantic an adventure as was the original idea of an armada of Canadians loaded with soldiers to fight in Flanders Fields. With Vimy is associated many ideas dear to the hearts of Canadian soldiers. It was at Vimy that the Canadian army first fought together as one unit, and first proved their worth as a distinctive force, capturing a height which other troops had failed to scale. Here on Easter Monday morning of 1917, as a single army corps, under their own commander, Lord Byng, backed with their own artillery, they won Vimy Ridge. Here many a young Canadian gave up his life in that gallant struggle. And on Vimy Ridge there will be unveiled the most beautiful war memorial in France. Surmounting the Ridge by 150 feet and over 360 feet long, the magnificent memorial is the masterpiece of the Canadian sculptor, William Seymour Allward.

Georgetown is being represented at the unveiling of the Memorial by Councillor Wm. F. Smith and Mr. George Alcott.

HALTON JUNIORS' FIELD DAY LARGELY ATTENDED

Stanley Park, Erin, was the scene on Wednesday last of the annual picnic and field day of the Halton county Juniors.

Over five hundred young people from all parts of the county were on hand for the afternoon and evening programmes. The inter-club softball tournament provided some keen competition, the awards finally going for the girls to Norval, and for the boys to Palermo.

In the inter-club relay, Acton girls were the winners, while Palermo boys were able to nose out a win in the Junior Farmer event. The winners in other events were as follows:

Girls kicking the shoe—Helen Hall, Norval; boys backward race—Stewart Lance, Acton; coat race—Annie Black and Harold MacIntyre, Acton; mystery race—Jessie Jamieson and Maurice Healy, Palermo.

The days outing, which according to all reports was the most successful of any yet held by Halton Juniors, was brought to conclusion by a dance, the music for which was provided by the Triple A Orchestra.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to convey our very sincere thanks to the Georgetown Fire Brigade, neighbors and friends who worked unceasingly and did all in their power to save our home from fire yesterday afternoon.—Mrs. George Alcott and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Varey.

"CAPTAIN JANUARY" SHIRLEY'S LATEST

A famous story becomes Shirley Temple's greatest picture as the tiny, dimpled Fox star returns in "Captain January," at the Gregory Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday next, July 24th and 25th.

Adapted from the beloved tale by Laura E. Richards, the new picture is a heart-tugging drama of a lovable little girl and a sweet, old sailor, set in a lighthouse on the rocky coast of Maine.

How Guy Kibbee loves and protects this tiny waif he had picked out of the sea years before, how he loses her to a wizenish old truant officer and eventually wins her back again is revealed in the fascinating plot of "Captain January."

Shirley performs a series of tinkling new steps, including a delightful novelty called "The Multiplication Table Dance," and sings three grand new songs. The hit of the three, all with music with Lew Pollack, is "The Right Somebody to Love."

Slim Summerville, Buddy Ebsen, lovely June Lang and Jane Darwell are the principal supporting players in the picture, directed by David Butler.

Don't miss this wonderful picture at the Gregory Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Disastrous Fire Wipes Out Two Georgetown Homes

Coal Oil Stove Explodes but Families Escape—Mrs. Alcott Trapped in House While Trying to Save Clothing—No Insurance Carried.

It was a disastrous fire that yesterday afternoon destroyed a dwelling owned by Mr. A. B. Wilson, and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alcott and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Varey on Charles St. Two homes were completely wiped out when a coal oil stove exploded while they were at dinner. The fire was first noticed when Mrs. Varey opened the kitchen door, and was horrified to see a sheet of flame sweeping towards her. She immediately gave the alarm to the other members of the family who left the burning building.

Mrs. Alcott, thinking she had time to save some wearing apparel went upstairs, but was trapped by the blaze and smoke, and was forced to leap from the upstairs window to safety. She was severely burned about the arms and suffered shock. Dr. McAllister latter gave her medical attention.

The flames spread with such rapidity that the whole house was enveloped in flames before the firemen could get there. The rear of the building was completely gutted, while a small quantity of furniture was saved in the front quarters. The firemen poured water on the flames from two lines of hose and it was quite some time before the fire could be subdued, as there was a slight wind blowing.

Both families lost all clothing except what they had on at the time of the fire, and most of the furniture was destroyed either by fire or water.

Georgetown has not had such a disastrous fire for many years, and citizens generally regret the loss suffered by these two well-known, and respected families. Mr. Alcott and Mr. Varey are Great War veterans, Mr. Alcott being in France at present on the Vimy Pilgrimage.

No insurance was carried on the contents, and everything is a complete loss, valued at over $2,000.

Thieves were also busy at the fire, when a small amount of money was taken from a dresser drawer.

FIRE DESTROYED BARN OWNED BY GORDON TASKER

A season's crop of hay went up in smoke and two blooded bulls, three colts, five calves and 18 pigs died when fire destroyed a big bank barn on the property of Gordon Tasker, south of Milton last Thursday night.

Cause of the blaze, which did damage estimated at $10,000, is unknown. Part of the loss is covered by insurance.

Only Mrs. Tasker was at home at the time, and neighbors aided her in dragging a few implements from the burning building. Milton and Bronte firemen were unable to stem the flames but prevented them from spreading to other properties.

The narrow road into the Tasker property was jammed with motor cars as curious spectators, noticing the reflection of the flames as far as 15 miles away, hastened to the scene.

HALTON PLOWMEN MAKE PLANS FOR ANNUAL MATCH

Halton Plowmen, according to President L. W. Chisholm, are out to duplicate the outstanding match held last year, when forty-two competitors participated. At a meeting of the executive of the Plowmens' Association held on Saturday evening last, it was decided to hold their annual match on Friday, November 6th, and while no definite location has been selected, it is expected that it will be held in Nelson township.

At the same meeting plans were also made to select a plow team to represent Halton in the inter-county competition at the International, to be held this year near Cornwall.

Selection of the team will be made at an elimination contest to be held on September 11th, and it is anticipated that quite a large number of Halton boys will compete for the honor of representing the County at the International.

"Run upstairs and wash your face, darling. I think Grandma wants to take you driving with her."

"Hadn't we better find out for certain, Mummie?"—Humorist.

"WhWo was Eve?"

"The first chicken that ever ruined a man's garden."

Devastating Drought

The prolonged heat wave, without any rain, during the first two weeks of July proved highly injurious to crop prospects throughout Ontario. Reports from counties in Western, Southern, Central and Eastern Ontario tell their own story of the havoc wrought by drought. A typical report from the Halton agricultural representative is as follows:—

"The heat wave of the past few days has caused tremendous loss, the extent of which is impossible to estimate at this time. Fall wheat and barley have ripened rapidly. We anticipate that this will mean a lot of shrunken and light grain. Early sown oats and barley still appear to be in fair condition and with a good rain prospects would still be good for a fair crop. Late sown spring crops, however, are pretty well burnt up. Alfalfa seed prospects may be said to be nil in so far as the first crop is concerned. Pastures are badly burned and dairymen are finding it necessary to supplement. Milk flow is seriously curtailed, but there still appears to be plenty of surplus milk. Gooseberries have been cooked on the bushes and raspberries have dried up. The yield of early potatoes will also be curtailed owing to the drought.

Miss Lillian White is spending her vacation of two weeks at the summer cottage of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. White, at Woodland Beach on Georgian Bay.

W. R. Allan, adjoining the town on the Milton-Palermo Highway, lost many of his chickens during the heat wave, his loss amounting to over $100. John McCallum, Victoria Ave., also found all his fowl dead when he went to feed them on Thursday morning last.

Messrs. Emerson Ford and Chas. Readhead, Directors of the Halton Mutual Fire Insurance Co., were notified at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, July 8, of the damage by fire to Neil McPhail's residence in Milton. Both directors met Mr. McPhail and in four hours the Georgetown Lumber Co. had material on the ground and Geo. Pearson, local contractor, was on the roof making the necessary repairs.

Ivan Ribertson, youth, of Kilbride, was seriously injured on the farm of Mrs. Clarence Gunby Tuesday afternoon while haying. He stopped at a pump to water his horses, which bolted and threw him under the hay rake. He was dragged a short distance and was unconscious when picked up. He was attended by Dr. McDonald. Eight stitches were required to close his head wounds.—Champion.

Two sisters predeceased him: Mrs. Charles Dyer and Mrs. John Huggill.—Advocate.

Geogetown Wins First Game From Acton

BUT WERE OUT OF THE PICTURE AT MILTON

In a Halton County League baseball fixture here last Thursday night Georgetown had the pleasure of defeating Acton, their greatest rivals, by a 11 to 4 score. It would have been a rare season had the locals not taken a fall out of the Tanners. But last Thursday night was their lucky day and they smacked the ball all over the local landlot for 11 runs. Acton were not even in their class in this game and many of the "mighty Casey's" struck out. And we agree with Manager Walton when he says his team "was fielding the ball like a bunch of farmers instead of ball players." It was a gala day in the Georgetown "dugout" and Manager Scott wore a smile that wouldn't come off. And why the smile? . . . Well had the team been defeated Manager Scott would have had his uniform literally torn off and a new playerman would have been at the helm. Who it would have been we can not say, but Scott took along another pair of shorts in order not to stand in anybody's way. But when they won . . . well that was a different story . . . And Manager Scott was allowed to wear his suit home, and all dissension in the ranks and grudges faded into thin air and everything ran along as smoothly as before. The players found out that they had to go in their and fight to win and that all the managers in the league could not win games for them. They came through brilliantly.

Lefty McMahin was in rare pitching form and went the entire game. Cripps for Acton did not fair so well and was replaced by Morton, who piloted the team to a downfall which they bitterly regretted at the hands of a Georgetown nine.

On Saturday the local club went to Milton, and what a game it turned out to be. It was a scheduled league game, but an onlooker would have taken it for a couple of scrub teams playing an exhibition game. The type of ball played has not been recorded in the annals of baseball in Halton for many a moon . . . and we hope never again. With the pick of the local nine working on Saturday, the remainder of the players failed to hold up their end and it was a field day for Milton as they paraded off the field with a 23 to 3 victory under their belts. It was the burlesque of baseball in Halton County, with Georgetown running out of pitchers and having to borrow one from their opponents.

McCartney started on the mound and after giving Milton about 10 runs was replaced by Ritchie and Riddall. Then something had to be done in order to get the required number of innings over before dark, so Lowden was called in from the Milton dug-out to give the boys a hand out.

And so it went on and on until finally the game was given to Milton by the Georgetown club after about six innings of the worst baseball on record.

THIS AND THAT IN SPORT.

If the Georgetown Baseball Club are on the outside looking in when play-off time rolls around for the teams which comprise the Intermediate division of the Halton County League, you can attribute that state of affairs to their inability to win away from home when a couple of star players are missing on the line-up.

• • •

The standing is just as much of a nip-and-tuck affair as it was a few weeks ago. In fact, it is by far the best race going on in the league right now, after Brampton taking a game by default, and promises to be a dog-fight all the way to the play-off wire.

• • •

Georgetown say they will not agree to Brampton taking the July 11th game by default, and the league officials seem to be 'mum' on the subject.

• • •

Brampton play here to-morrow night and it should be a good game, as Georgetown needs to win to keep in the play-offs.

• • •

Milton come here on Monday night, and we hope a better game of baseball will be played and that the tables are reversed.

• • •

We hope the baseball fans of Georgetown will give the team all the support they can. It will not only help the boys to win games, but will help them out financially. They need your financial support right now. Won't you come and help?

• • •

In the Halton Presbytery of the United Church softball league a mixed team from Acton was defeated by a 7 to 5 score by a mixed team from Georgetown last week. The game was played on the High School grounds and a fair crowd was out to witness the contest. The teams were fairly evenly matched, but Georgetown managed to hold a slight edge on the game as the score indicates. The players in the teams were as follows:

Acton—T. Nicol, T. Clifford, H. Wilson, L. Easterbrook, M. Nicol, B. Ransden, G. Gibson, G. Williams, H. Lamb, G. Measles.

Georgetown—C. Lyons, B. McDonald, G. Parnell, A. McDonald, B. Kennedy, M. Overend, J. Evans, M. Evans, C. Kennedy, K. Webster.

Graham Parnell did the hurling for Georgetown, while G. Gibson and G. Measles pitched for Acton.

JES' FISHIN'

A hickory pole an' a crooked pin,
An old tin can to put worms in,
A pair of overalls, old an' thin;
Give me these an' my boyhood days agin,
Jes' fishin'.

Where the cat-tails grow, an' bull-rushes, too,
Where white clouds float through skies of blue,
There with never a sign of a stockin' or shoe,
An' not a thing in the world to do—
Jes' fishin'.

A pup that thinks that I'm his God,
An' watches each twitch of my fishin' rod
To see if I'm ketchin' a "shiner" or pod,
I'd rather have this than a banker's bed—
Jes' fishin'.

Then goin' back home to eat like a bear,
With never a sorrow an' never a care;
All that I want is a sky that's fair,
An' that spot with the lilies bloomin' there—
Jes' fishin'.

Premier Hepburn Speaker at Liberal Picnic

3000 ATTENDED RALLY AT FERNDALE PARK WEDNESDAY OF LAST WEEK

Many from Georgetown and district attended the Liberal picnic at Ferndale Park, Cheltenham, last Wednesday, and in bringing you a report of the Premier's address we take the following from the Toronto Daily Star:

"I intend to make an appeal to your reason—let the Hon. Earl Rowe make the appeal to prejudice," Premier Hepburn declared in his opening remarks at the Liberal picnic.

"Reviewing policies adopted by his government in dealing with the Hydro problem, the separate school issue, and the administration of departments, Mr. Hepburn answered criticisms advanced recently by Mr. Rowe, new leader of the Conservative party in Ontario. He declared that the policy of economy has reduced the provincial debt, and at present it is $10,000,000 less than at this time last year.

"A crowd of more than 3,000 persons filled the park. Six cabinet ministers appeared with him and many others prominent in federal and provincial politics.

Says Rowe Helped Add Debt

Referring to the election of the new Conservative leader, Mr. Hepburn declared that as a member of the opposition to the King government Mr. Rowe had voted with his party against the Dunning budget and some policies that would reduce the debt of Canada.

"Then when his party went in power he supported the Bennett policies that increased the debt by $900,000,000," Mr. Hepburn said. "If we in this province segregated our part of that debt it amounted to $60,000,000 a year. Yet Mr. Rowe went out and asked you to endorse that program."

The premier described his struggle to obtain a lower interest rate on borrowed money, and referred to the "high rate paid by the Henry government in its last year of office."

We Saved 15 Per Cent

"We were able to float an issue in the same year at less than three per cent, which meant a saving of $1,350,000 in interest charges each year," he said. "When I took office it cost 43 cents out of every dollar of revenue to service the debt, to pay interest. At the end of this fiscal year the figure will be reduced to 28 cents, a saving of 15 per cent. of the total revenue."

U.S. exchange alone cost the province $8,000,000 in five years under the old system, he said, but under the Hepburn government "there hasn't been a single bond issued that is not payable in money of the Dominion of Canada."

Provincial revenues have increased but changes in the succession duties are the only new taxes, Mr. Hepburn declared.

"These taxes are on the estates of millionaires. The succession revenues last year amounted to $12,000,000, compared with some $6,000,000 collected previously. Most of these estates were closed five or ten years ago. There was absolute collusion among the prominent lawyers," he said.

Less Liquor Sold

The premier described road construction in northern Ontario made possible by the revenue from the succession duties. Through them one Toronto millionaire contributed $1,542,000.40 toward the road at Sioux Lookout, he said.

Dealing with administration of the liquor control board, the premier maintained that less liquor is being sold now than in 1930. "That should appeal to those of you who have strong temperance principles, and yet the taxpayer should know that the treasury received $2,450,000 more than in the corresponding year," he declared.

Where the Ontario Hydro lost $4,000,000 last year, at the end of the current year it will have a surplus of $6,000,000, Mr. Hepburn declared.

Men in North at Work

Under the previous government the cost of administering the department of lands and forests was more than the revenues received by it, Mr. Hepburn claimed. This year there will be a surplus of $1,225,000, he said.

"The people of Ontario were actually paying for the privilege of owning their own resources. Millions of acres were held by a few friends of the former government," he declared. "We introduced the policy of reallocating the areas. We lifted the export ban on peeled pulp, and now the men in the north country are back at work.

"In the highway department we found millions invested in projects that were losing money, for instance Niagara Park. Now the park is producing revenue," he continued. "It is the same all along the line, we have not been rigorous, we are taking care of those on relief, but at the same time we are improving our financial position. Every sanitarium in the country is filled to capacity, so we organized travelling clinics, and adopted preventive measures.

To Mr. Rowe's charge that the Hepburn government has dismissed returned soldiers from the civil service, the premier replied that such dismissals had occurred only where they were necessary for economy and that the soldiers had been given a preference whenever positions were open.

"In a service of 7,000 persons only 300 were let out and some for a just cause," he said. "The former government spent a million and a half for silent moving pictures. The soldiers in that department were dismissed when we closed it, but they were placed on the eligible list and re-employed as soon as possible. Twenty-five per cent. of the men hired for all positions were returned soldiers.

"When we look at young children to-day we should hang our heads in shame at the heritage of debt that is being prepared for them. This government is not going to continue this, and we will stick to the policy of 'Pay as you go.'

"Any man who tries to drive this wedge into the spirit of harmony that existed in Canada is no less than a traitor to his country," he stated regarding the separate school tax issue.

By the B.N.A. Act minorities were allowed to have privileges, and the Protestants in Quebec and the Catholics in Ontario were granted their own schools, a privilege that cannot be taken away, Mr. Hepburn said. But corporative property created a situation where the grant had to be cut to the public schools or the separate schools would be forced to close down.

"If we squeeze the separate schools out by a narrow-minded policy we will have to take care of the children who attend them, and this would entail great expense. Do not be led astray by the religious issue. The only point you want to decide is whether we should go on pushing money under the table or give the Catholics a fair break."
