Georgetown Band Again Victorious In Competition At Exhibition

Awarded First Prize in Class of Eleven Competitors—Welcomed Home by Hundreds of Citizens—Guests of Corporation at Luncheon Following Reception.

CHAS. W. LANDSBOROUGH, MEMBER OF BAND AWARDED GOLD MEDAL FOR CORNET SOLO

KIND WORDS BY EDWARD W. WODSON, MUSIC CRITIC OF TORONTO TELEGRAM

Once again the Lorne Rifles (Scottish) Band of Georgetown has won honor for itself and our town by taking first prize in competition with eleven bands at the great Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto last Thursday.

A large number of Georgetown citizens were present when Major Adkins, adjudicator, announced the winners a hearty cheer went up for Bandmaster Perrott and the members of his band.

The Lorne Rifles (Scottish) Band led with 90½ points; York Township Boys' Band was second with 88½ points; Port Colborne Citizens' Band third with 77½ points and Beatrsville Citizens' Band fourth with 72 points.

On their return home Thursday night they were met by the Georgetown Pipe Band and escorted to the corner of Main and Mill Streets, where the Fire Brigade and several hundred citizens had assembled and cheer after cheer greeted them.

A large bonfire was lit and Mayor Joseph Gibbons extended the congratulations of the town to the boys on their splendid achievement. He thanked them for the honor they had won for the town and themselves by their splendid record of three first prizes at Toronto Exhibition in 1931, 1934, 1936, and first prize for two consecutive years at Waterloo Musical Festival. He paid special tribute to the splendid work of Bandmaster Lieut. Perrott. He also thanked the Pipe Band and Pipe Major Stewart for assisting in the reception to the Band.

Bandmaster Perrott thanked the Mayor, citizens and Pipe Band for their splendid reception and words of appreciation. He attributed the great success of the band to the splendid co-operation and work of the members.

After playing a couple of selections the members of the Band were tendered a luncheon by the Corporation at W. H. Long's.

Charles W. Landsborough was awarded the gold medal for his solo part in the test piece played by the band.

In the last five years our Band has entered eleven competitions and only once have they been out of the money. They have won 5 firsts, 3 seconds, 1 third and a fourth.

Georgetown citizens are justly proud of their band and we all extend heartiest congratulations to their very excellent leader, Lieut. Perrott, and the members of the Band.

The following by Mr. Wodson, who is known by many of our citizens will be appreciated:—

"Bravo Georgetown band! Against ten competitors and on the judgment of the greatest military band authority of the British Empire—Major Adkins of Kneller Hall—you have won the Canadian National Exhibition contest in Class B.

"These facts speak for themselves. "But a word or two about Major Adkins may help those who don't know a great deal concerning the business of music to appreciate the value of his judgment.

"I have had the privilege to watch Major Adkins at work with his wonderful bandsmen in Kneller Hall. I have seen his band scores, his arrangements, details of the curriculum through which his bandsmen must pass before they are qualified.

"A rehearsal under Major Adkins is as tense and exacting as a surgical operation—and I have seen both many a time.

"He never uses a scrap of music. He never rehearses a number until he knows every note of it—and could write the whole thing from memory if necessary.

"I have known some remarkable musical memories but never one as tremendous as Major Adkins's.

"But that isn't all. As he has told me himself many a time it is positive pain to him to hear a note a sixteenth of a semitone out of pitch. Nothing escapes him—either at rehearsal or on the concert platform.

"Nothing less than perfection in all things musical suits him—and, as he says, he is paid by his King to labor for this perfection "even unto death."

"Therefore, when such a man judges Georgetown band to be the best of eleven there must be something in it. I am laboring this because a dozen Georgetown folk remarked to me this summer. . . 'The band isn't so good as it was.' Of course I told them it was better than it had ever been—which it was and is!

"So the next time anyone in Georgetown starts a tale like that the music lover only has to think of Major Adkins and Kneller Hall and the C.N.E.

"Bandmaster Perrott's daily work is amongst flowers, those silent witnesses of God's love that get their "spot of work" done so gloriously and with such little fuss and advertisement.

"Mr. Perrott's musical mood is the flower lover's mood. No hurry in that—no impatience—no faithlessness to the ideal that all true artists (which he is) cherish deep down in their hearts.

"And Mr. Perrott's mood and splendid technique are reflected perfectly in the music of Georgetown band.

"That is why the band won the honor it did at the Exhibition this year at the hands of Major Adkins.

"Bravo Georgetown! Cheerio, fellow bandsmen—for I'd like to play triangle with you sometime, only don't give me 90 and fifteen sixteenths of a bar rest before I come tinkling in! I never COULD count anything over four.

"And Bravo, and thanks to Mr. Perrott. He and his men deserve all the good things Georgetown can ever give them."

ASHGROVE

Tuesday, Sept. 1st was our regular Auxiliary meeting in the Sunday school room. We were delighted to have Mrs. H. Caldwell of Acton as our guest speaker. As her subject she chose, "My Imaginary Trip to China," telling of the preparation, the farewells, the trip across, the safe landing and the arrival at the journey's end. This was most interesting to us, knowing her daughter, Mrs. Agnew. Mrs. Caldwell organized our auxiliary ten years ago and we are always glad to have her back with us. The devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. H. Wilson. Our roll call was answered by a gem of thought; and many beautiful ones were given. Miss Edith Wrigglesworth sang a pleasing solo. At the close of the meeting, we were shown many georgeous hand-worked costumes, also scarfs, tatting, runners, doilies, dishes, etc., which Mrs. Caldwell had received from her daughter in China. Lunch was enjoyed together.

Halton Holsteins Rank High at C.N.E.

The Holstein show at this years C.N.E. stands out as one of the strongest shows on record with upwards of 400 head on exhibit. In this strong competition Halton Breeders were well to the fore in the majority of the classes, winning slightly over $550 in prize money. In the Inter-county competitions, Halton Breeders in competition with entries from Peel, Perth, Ontario, Oxford, Peterboro, Waterloo and York placed second to the strong group from Oxford, the so-called Holland of America. This is an outstanding achievement for Halton Holstein Breeders and represents by far the best showing they have ever made. Halton sent down 53 head in all, these being selected from the following herds: W. S. Dickenson, P. H. Graham, Herbert Inglehart, Victor Lawrence, Percy Leslie, T. L. Leslie, Elton McLean, J. L. Neelands and Sons, John Picket, Robinson Bros., A. Stark and Son and A. E. Woodley and Son. The latter herd brought further honour to the county by securing reserve junior championship award on their herd sire.

DANCE RECITAL

For the information of the general public, the forthcoming Dance Recital is a spectacle never before seen in Georgetown.
