EVERYBODY WELCOME

This is the time of year to Insulate Your Home and save approximately 30% of your fuel bill next winter. Insulation makes your home warm in winter and cool in summer.

We supply and install Red Top insulating wool for 4½c per foot.

Also Johns-Manville Rock Wool in two, three and four inches thick, at reasonable prices.

READ WHAT SOME PEOPLE HAVE TO SAY ABOUT IT:—

One man said: "You insulated my home last Fall, and it certainly has made a difference. We slept in our bedrooms during all that hot weather last July. My neighbors could not believe it until I took them upstairs and showed them the difference between my house and theirs."

Another said: "My third floor was little warmer than the rest of the house during the hot spell."

Such remarks, together with the fact that insulation saves fuel and makes homes warmer in the winter, makes one realize, more than ever, that home comfort the year around by insulation is quite possible. Fortunately, the cost is relatively small.

Consult us when in the market.

Veterans Burn Mortgage On New Club Rooms

MEMBERS OF CANADIAN LEGION AND WOMAN'S AUXILIARY ENJOY ENTERTAINMENT AND SOCIAL EVENING.

There was a large attendance of members of the Canadian Legion and Woman's Auxiliary at the quarterly Club rooms of Post 120, Georgetown, last Friday evening, when the pleasant ceremony of burning the mortgage was enacted and an entertainment and social evening was enjoyed.

Col. G. O. Brown, president of Post 120, was chairman of the evening and in a few brief remarks congratulated the members on the accomplishment in less than a year of their main objective to own Club Rooms of their own. The mortgage was paid and the property now belonged to the members of Georgetown Canadian Legion. There was plan a lot of improvement to be made on the exterior of the building but that will be accomplished in due time. He appreciated the splendid co-operation of the ladies and gentlemen of the Auxiliary and Legion and urged that no matter what sacrifice let us keep the property clear of debt.

The mortgage was cut in small pieces and each veteran and lady was handed a portion as they watched in the past the large fire-place and consigned it to the flames.

Messrs. Will Smith and George Alcott gave very interesting, but brief, accounts of their pilgrimage to "Vimy," and the unveiling of the beautiful war memorial erected on Canadian soil in the heart of France to the Canadian Boys who gave their all for King and Country.

Mrs. Kemshead, president of the Women's Auxiliary, also spoke briefly and expressed the pleasure of the ladies in co-operating with the Legion in the establishment of their new Club Rooms.

Arol J. O'Neill, of Toronto, a former President of Georgetown Post, was present and spoke briefly, congratulating the boys on their splendid accomplishment and expressing the pleasure it was for him to spend an evening with them again.

Comrade Menzies of Toronto, secretary of the Legion Poppy Fund campaign for the Province of Ontario was introduced by Col. Brown and gave a very interesting address regarding Legion affairs in the province. Good progress was being made by the various Posts and the membership in Ontario at present is 16,000 paid members. He congratulated Georgetown Post on their spacious and beautiful club rooms and said that this Post had set a very high standard which was appreciated by the Provincial and Dominion Commands. While the Vimy peace memorial has been erected and unveiled to commemorate the heroic deeds and sacrifice of those who gave their lives in the cause of freedom, we should not forget our comrades still living and suffering from the effects of the war. The Poppy Day Fund is for the relief of these men and their families, and demands the loyal support of every branch of the Legion. He urged the co-operation of all to make 1936 Poppy Day a better success than ever. It is the only time in the year that the Canadian Legion as a national organization appeals to the public for financial support. All monies raised are used for the support of ex-service men.

John Clark, President of Guelph Branch, and Robt. Adams, past president of Milton Branch, also spoke briefly.

An exceptionally good exhibition of tap and toe dancing by Miss Maxe and Jack Anderson, acrobatic stunts by Munday Brothers, and vocal and instrumental music by other Toronto talent was a feature of the evening which proved quite entertaining and much appreciated by all present.

Following the program an abundance of delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the Auxiliary and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

GLEN WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hill, Glen Williams and Mr. and Mrs. George Hodgins and Miss Margaret Hodgins of Acton, motored to Guelph on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hodgins and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hood.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Kirby and daughter, Kathleen, also Mr. Kirby Sr. of Brampton, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scott on Sunday.

The first annual banquet held by St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. on Friday night was a great success. About sixty-five members and friends sat down to a very bountiful repast. Representatives were present from Erlington, Dixie, Lakeview, Brampton, Caledon East, and Stewarttown. Canon Naftel, M.A. of Milton was the guest speaker. He gave a most interesting talk on the four-fold platform: worship, work, edification and fellowship.

Miss Ida McMenemy, President, and Mrs. Reg. Williams, local council representative, represented St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. at the installation ceremony of Peel Deanery and District Local Council officers, held at St. Paul's church, Norval, on Tuesday evening.

HYDRO NEWS

By E. George Smith

Georgetown's new total of Hydro Reserves and Surplus as entered in the latest Provincial Hydro report is $144,875; the amount is itemized as follows:—

Reserve for equity in Provincial Hydro system $68,202; reserve for depreciation on local plant $21,259; debentures paid $10,977; operating surplus $43,837.

Georgetown increased its number of Hydro users last year by 10 to 841; it used 1,032 horsepower as against 1163 in 1914, the second year of Hydro service; total Georgetown revenues last year were $46,136 as against $10,251 in 1914; lighting revenues were $20,677 as against $5,431 in 1914; kilowatt hours sold for lighting last year were 1,006,715 as against 71,872 in 1914; and plant capital is now valued at $70,474 as against $22,381 in 1914.

Last year's average cost to Georgetown lighting consumers was 1.89 cents per kilowatt as against 7.56 cents in 1914 and an average of about 2.2 cents in larger United States cities. Ontario's average is 1.5 cents.

In the provincial Hydro field the audited accounts of the Hydro Commission this year shows that the 1935 $3,000,000 Hydro deficit has been transformed into a $3,000,000 profit during 1936.

This has been made possible by the revision of the Quebec power contracts, which, as originally drawn, would have committed the Ontario Hydro Commission to the purchase of 653,000 horsepower of Quebec electricity at a cost of $815,000 during August alone.

Under the revised terms of the Quebec contracts Hydro bought during August only 300,000 horsepower at total expenditure of but $191,854, or a saving to the people's Hydro business of $623,145.83 for that one month alone.

Of the 300,000 horsepower of Quebec electricity purchased during August, 160,000 horsepower is unused and stands as "reserve power." Hydro's "reserve power" supply as of today is greater than the 15 per cent generally regarded throughout the continent as normal safe reserve.

Best information from Hydro is that Ontario's rates would have had to rise 25 to 30 per cent to carry the load of commitments under the original Quebec power contracts. Instead of an increase in power costs, however, a decrease of at least $2 per horsepower is now promised for November 1.

The difference to Ontario industry and industrial workers between a 25 per cent increase and the anticipated $2 per horsepower decrease in power costs is of enormous commercial importance, not only to Ontario but to Canadian industry as a whole in its search for world markets.

While Ontario homes and industry admittedly could never have afforded to use so much electricity at old private power company rates, the difference between those old rates and Hydro charges down through the Hydro years now totals close to $700,000,000.

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Wilfred Eggleston

Ottawa, Sept. 22—Radio, the Canadian National Railways, and the Bank of Canada are all away to a new start, with new blood in the management of affairs, and some changes in general policy. Broadly speaking, the government is carrying out election pledges and is seeking to correct some weaknesses which the experience of recent years disclosed.

Take radio, for instance. For three years we have had a commission of three, with the chairman acting as general manager. Many improvements in radio broadcasting have resulted. But a parliamentary committee last session concluded that the three-man commission was a faulty set-up. They recommended a change to the British system.

So now we have a Board of Governors, nine in number, with the witty Leonard Brockington of Winnipeg as chairman, and such well known persons as Nellie McClung, Wilfred Bovey and N. L. Nathanson on it. Also we are to have a general manager, almost certainly Major Gladstone Murray, a Canadian who has reached the top rungs in British Broadcasting.

The Board of Governors will appraise and direct public taste in the matter of programs; the general manager and his assistant will seek to give the public what the governors think it wants. The control enjoyed formerly by the commission is divided.

There will be, also, some building of stations, and some increase in power of existing stations. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation won't have the money to acquire all private stations, but it will gradually extend public ownership as funds permit. It will try to reach some of the "dead spots" in regions of Canada which cannot now hear our own programs.

The chairman has a deep faith in the possibilities of radio broadcasting to bring and bind together the diverse far-flung parts of Canada. He is a man of cultural tastes, and will seek to raise the standards of programs to a desirable level. Not too high-brow, of course. But sufficiently high that those people who want something a bit better on the air won't be disappointed.

What about the "new deal" on the Canadian National?

We have had three years of Three-Man Trustee government, with the chairman all powerful. It was to be a sort of receivership for a bankrupt system. The present government doesn't believe that it accomplished any more than a good directorate would have, in concrete results, and that it had a depressing effect on the morale of the employees. So now we go back to a board of directors—but not the board as of Sir Henry Thornton's day. That was a large (15) and scattered directorate with limited powers of supervision. Now we have a small, efficient (so it is hoped) board of seven, embracing some outstanding lawyers and managing men. The president, S. J. Hungerford, is also the chairman, but before long it is proposed to separate these offices.

Its first job is to make the system pay its bond interest; if that is possible. It will go out after business, maintain economies, restore the morale of the workers, resist political pressure; that is the theory, at any rate. We are all interested financially because it costs the average man, woman and child five dollars a year in taxes to meet the bond interest of the railway. Say $25 per year for the head of the typical family. With business rising to better levels, it should be possible to pare down that annual deficit.

The change in the Bank of Canada is not drastic, but in effect it turns a privately owned and controlled institution into one which is potentially under the thumb of the government of the day. The choice of directors suggests that the government is not side-bound about monetary policy. George Coote is one of the monetary reformers, and Professor McQueen is a young vigorous-minded chap who has little use for standpattism. The government purchased a majority of shares last week also, and so the majority ownership is vested in the people now.

The National Employment Commission hopes that 4,000 single men will be taken on to farms under the Farm Improvement Scheme, which benefits the farmer as well as the worker. The Youth Employment Committee is also preparing schemes to absorb smaller numbers of unemployed youth this winter.

Trade and revenue figures continue to rise.
