Dodgson—Walker

St. George's Church, Georgetown, was the scene of a very pretty June wedding when Alice E., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Walker, became the bride of Mr. Derrick Dodgson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dodgson, Mount Dennis. Rev. W. O. Thompson, officiating. Mr. Jack Crichton played the wedding music. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white crepe back satin made on princess lines. Her silk net veil was held in place by a French lace cap and sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Rosedale roses, Bavaria and lily of the valley. Miss Bessie Walker was her sister's maid of honour, and was frocked in pale green georgette with wide sash of green moire. She wore a white picture hat and shoes to match, and carried American beauty roses and maiden-hair fern. The bridesmaids were Miss Hazel Walker, sister of the bride, and Miss Edith Ditchfield, cousin of the groom. Miss Walker was frocked in pale blue exquisite point de'sprit net, made ankle length with ruffles down the skirt of picot edge, and large sash of blue satin. Miss Ditchfield's gown was orchid shade with satin sash to match. Both wore small white turbans with white accessories and carried pale yellow roses and fern. Mr. George Dodgson was his brother's best man. The ushers were Mr. George Sargent, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Ughtred Dodgson the groom's brother. The groom's gift to the bride was an onyx and silver dresser set. To the maid of honour a white handbag. To the bridesmaids amber transparent compacts, and to the best man and ushers grey gloves and ties to match. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Dodgson receiving with the bride and groom. Mrs. Walker wore a blue and white crepe ensemble, white hat and shoes and corsage of orchids and roses. Mrs. Dodgson was in pale blue crepe ensemble and white accessories and corsage of orchids and roses. Later the bride and groom left for their new home in Mount Dennis. The bride travelling in a white crepe dress and long navy blue silk coat and white accessories. Out of town guests were present from Niagara Falls, Guelph, Windsor, Fort Hope, Toronto.

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, June 25th—You evidently can't count on this session being over until the Speaker puts on his tricorn hat on the final day and marches out of the Green Chamber. Here we had it dead and about to be buried a week ago, and unaccountably it sprang to life again; and not only that, but it showed a vigor and intensity, and a depth of political passion, which has so far been notably absent during the current session. Now the wiseguys on the Hill are talking about parliament lasting until the first week in July, so it might, but after that exhibition last week, all predictions should be canned. It might just as easily blow up suddenly in a couple of days' notice, perhaps next week between the time I write my weekly review and the time it appears on the street in your newspaper.

Premier Bennett himself has been the central figure in the remarkable transformation of the nature of the session in the past few days. Just when it seemed to be dying a slow death, through inaction or coma, he made two smashing provocative addresses on the Grain Bill, engaged in a bitter controversy with Colonel Ralston, and introduced a voting measure which he must have known would at once excite the enmity of the Liberal opposition.

The Old R. B. Bennett

It was the old R. B. Bennett come back again, at a time when many people believed that his fiery explosive days were done forever. Nothing could have been more exhausting, more volcanic, than the two long addresses on the Grain Board; and the exchange with Colonel Ralston would have tried the temper and heart of a man in perfect health. The whole performance serves to make a gigantic enigma of the man. Is he fully restored to health? Does he now intend to go through with things to the bitter end? Or is he doing it all in defiance of his doctor and in violation of all the laws of self-preservation? Is it true, as some friends have whispered to me, that his sense of public service is so powerful, and his realization of the fate of his party if he abandons them is so strong, that he has decided to stake his health on a final throw of the political dice?

These are questions which even those in the closest touch with public affairs are asking. Premier Bennett keeps his own counsel. He has never made a frank statement of his plans. The few veiled references to them suggest that he has intended to retire. But when? Till the session is over? Till election day? Till a suitable successor is chosen? These are still mysteries to everyone except himself. And it is quite possible that he himself has not made up his mind.

One quite obvious explanation of the uncertainty, which almost certainly has some merit, is that the fate of the party rests to a large extent on the successful choice of a new leader; and that until this important problem has been solved, Premier Bennett will not leave his followers to the clash and schism of interparty struggle. It is not easy to see what the Conservatives can do about a leader. As I have said before in these weekly reviews, Hon. E. N. Rhodes would have been the obvious choice, but ill-health has made that move impossible. Meighen is immediately in mind, but that way out of the difficulty is by no means fully satisfactory to all the Conservatives even if it is so to Mr. Meighen himself—which is doubtful.

Mr. Stevens' Position

Mr. Stevens is in this peculiar position—that while the rank and file would probably, on a secret ballot, choose him from the various aspirants, he is not acceptable to the hierarchy of the Conservative party, and he is 'non persona grata' also with Mr Bennett. Mr Stevens has made two or three powerful democratic addresses in the House of Commons, in which he has not hesitated to address blunt words to the Cabinet, but on the whole he has carefully refrained from breaking off negotiations with the front-benchers of his own party. Mr. Stevens can afford to wait. Even if he does not become Conservative leader himself, it is certain that in the event of the mantle falling on the shoulders, say, of Dr. R. J. Manion, Mr. Stevens would be the logical choice for first lieutenant. And first lieutenant of even a party in opposition is obviously a good deal better than a back-bencher or a political outcast from all camps.

BALLINAFAD

Mrs. Wright of Toronto is the guest of Mrs. A. Soper.

Misses K. and E. McKay, Georgetown, spent Thursday with friends here.

The Sunday School of the United Church will hold their annual picnic at Ferndale Park on Saturday, June 29th. Everybody come and bring a well-filled basket. Sports begin at 4 p.m.

The June meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. E. Swindlehurst on Thursday afternoon with a good attendance of members and several visitors. The president, Mrs. J. P. Kirkwood, presiding. The opening devotional period was conducted by Mrs. R. Shortill and Mrs. E. Swindlehurst. The roll call was responded to by several helpful suggestions as to what can be done to fight the liquor traffic. Several of the departmental secretaries gave reports as to the progress of each department. Mrs. Robt. McEnery reporting for Christian Stewardship and Finance said that the allocation for the first half of the year was in sight and arrangements for the third quarter was completed. Miss J. Shortill, Baby Band secretary, read a very interesting letter from Miss McIlarrie of the Baby's Home in Necmuch, India, which gave a very encouraging account of the work which the babies of Canada are helping to support. Miss B. Hilts, Temperance secretary, also spoke of the efforts being made to put down this great evil. Miss Reta Allan gave a very interesting paper on the life of William Carey and his work in India. A very delightful number was a duet given by Mrs. R. McEnery and Miss Reta Shortill; and Mrs. B. Vannatter, who had charge of the Watch Tower, gave some interesting items of news in connection with the work being accomplished by the Woman's Missionary Society. As this was the last meeting at which Mrs. Aitken would be present before leaving for her new home at Goldstone, the members took this opportunity of presenting her with a very beautiful fernery. Miss B. Hilts reading the address and Mrs. W. McEnery making the presentation. In replying Mrs. Aitken expressed her appreciation of their kindness, also of the very fine spirit of co-operation shown during the six years that they had worked together and wished them even greater success in the future. The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Starrit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McKay and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kirkwood were among the guests who attended the Kirkwood Young wedding on Saturday afternoon at Erin.

STEWARTTOWN

St. John's Church, Stewarttown, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, June 22nd, when Elizabeth Mary, elder daughter of Mrs. H. Jenkinson and the late Mr. H. Jenkinson, became the bride of Mr. Richard Standish, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Standish. The Rev. Mr. Walling of Hamilton, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Jackson of Norval. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Frank Jenkinson, wore a beautiful gown of white crepe and her silk net veil was caught at the head with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and baby's breath. Miss Frances Jenkinson, sister of the bride, carrying a bouquet of yellow tea roses and fern, and Miss Betty Smethurst carrying a bouquet of ophelia roses and baby's breath, attended the bride and wore gowns of blue flowered organdy and pink flowered organdy with hats to match. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Joseph Standish. Mrs. Baily of Toronto rendered the music for the wedding march and during the signing of the register the hymn "O Father all Creating" was sung. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Jenkinson wearing a powder blue crepe gown and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Later Mr. and Mrs. Standish left for their honeymoon, the bride wearing a navy blue suit, blue hat, brown shoes and carried a brown purse. On their return they will reside in Esquesing.

MILTON

A lifelong member of Boston Presbyterian church, which celebrated its 115th anniversary last Sunday, Mrs. Amelia Wooding celebrated her 86th birthday Tuesday in Manasewood.

Among those who attended the recent graduating exercises at the University of Toronto were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Castle, when their son, W. D. Castle, received his B.A. degree.

Miss Helen Anderson who has been attending the Training School for nurses in Hamilton General Hospital, graduated recently and was successful in winning the prize given by Dr. F. E. McLoghlin for highest standing in medical nursing and examination.

Rev. H. Kaye left on Monday to take charge of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Wiarton. On Sunday last at Communion he received into Boston Church twenty-six new communicants and on Friday and Sunday baptised twenty persons.

Descendants of Alexander Robertson, who left New York state in 1818 to reside in Scotch Block, Esquesing, township, met at Peel Park, Streetsville, on Saturday for their second family reunion.

Burglars cleared out the barber shop of Harold Richards, barber and tobacconist, Palermo, during Monday night. They took all his equipment, the stock of tobacco and cigarettes and a radio. No clue was left, but the police are working on the case.—Champion.

ERIN

Mr. Clarence Wrigglesworth of Stratford, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wrigglesworth.

Neil E. McKinnon left last Monday to inspect for the Department of Agriculture the horses in Sudbury district, Manitoulin Island, Algoma, Fort Arthur and Rainy River districts.

Mr. Archie Sanders, who has not been enjoying his usual health of late, was quite seriously ill on Sunday. We are, however, pleased to report that his condition is somewhat improved.

A local citizen who makes a hobby of measuring the rain fall, claims there was a fall of three inches in twenty-four hours on Monday. The container used was a ten pound pail.

At a recent meeting of the Directors of Erin Agricultural Society it was decided to remodel the front of the present hall, by building an addition to the front in which will be a suitable office for the Secretary and suitable rooms to accommodate hockey players and skaters.

COUNTY COUNCIL

EQUALIZED ASSESSMENT SAME AS LAST YEAR—GRANTS MADE TO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES

The county council met at Milton on Tuesday, when the assessment for 1935 was equalized. After a committee of the reeves of the municipalities had considered the matter they brought in a report that the county equalized assessment be the same as last year. The report was finally adopted, although the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve, after both speaking on the over-assessment of Trafalgar, voted against the resolution. The assessment is as follows:—

Acton	$ 1,362,768.00
Burlington	2,708,705.00
Georgetown	1,812,388.00
Milton	1,647,236.00
Oakville	3,487,853.00
Esquesing	3,351,066.00
Nassagaweya	2,223,104.00
Nelson	3,323,172.00
Trafalgar	3,326,577.00

The council decided to petition the provincial government to take over the middle road in Halton county as a provincial road. Owing to the new highway being finished as far as Oakville and then starting again at Freeman, the traffic on this road has increased immensely. The council felt that they should not have to pay to keep it in shape for this traffic.

The Acton, Georgetown and Milton Agricultural Societies were each given a grant of $75.00.

The council discussed a resolution forwarded to it by Bruce county, asking that the British-North America Act be amended so as to do away with provincial government. The council did not endorse the resolution, but decided to file it.

Routine business occupied the remainder of the session.—Champion.

He—"I suppose I'm only a little pebble on the beach of your life?"

She—"Yes, you might stand a chance if you were a little boulder."
