MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS GROW IN ONTARIO

Motor vehicle accidents in Ontario in the first four months of the present year which resulted in fatalities showed an increase of over 44 per cent., compared to the same period of last year.

This is an evidence of the growing menace of motor traffic in the highways and of the increasing need for greater care on the part of those using the highways and for a more rigid enforcement of the traffic regulations by the authorities.

It was the same all the way through the list in connection with the accident records.

There were during the four months a total of 7,359 accidents, compared to 7,359; 136 people were killed, as against 78; 3,025 were injured, compared to 1,840; property damage was $317,837, compared to $181,768.

Should the same rate of increase be continued the loss in life, in injury and in property damage would become one of the most serious things the nation has to contend with.

And here is a curious thing: The increase in "daylight" accidents is considerably greater than in those after nightfall.—Orillia News-Letter.

Hunt suffered a dislocated left hip and bad bruises and cuts, and Miss Hillman has a compound fracture of the left leg and bad head and face injuries. Both are confined to the hospital in Guelph. Mr. Franklin, or none of the occupants of the car, were injured.

Marked by the greatest enthusiasm shown in a political convention in Guelph in some years, Liberals of South Wellington on Saturday afternoon named H. W. Gladstone, retired Guelph manufacturer, as their standard-bearer for the forth-coming Federal election.

Peart was riding a motorcycle on the main street of Rockwood, and at the corner of Guelph Street in the village, his machine figured in a collision with an automobile driven by Jack Laverty of Rockwood.—Advocate.

The Girl's Lookout Club held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday last at the home of Miss Olive Marshall. Plans were completed for an afternoon tea to be held on the lawn at the home of Miss O. "Johnny," said his mother, severely, "someone has taken a big piece of ginger cake out of the pantry."

Johnny blushed guiltily.

"Oh, Johnny," she exclaimed, "I did not think it was in you."

"It ain't all," replied Johnny. "Part of it's in Kisie."

Was Constipated For 30 Years

Woman's Long Search for a Remedy

The trouble with most remedies for constipation, as this woman found, is that they give only temporary relief. Having at last found a permanent corrective, she writes to tell us about it:—

"For upwards of 30 years I was a victim of acute constipation. I tried practically everything that it was possible to try. I admit I was a chronic case, and every new remedy I tried helped for a day or two—after that I was just as bad as ever. Three months ago I took my first taste of Kruschen Salts, and every morning since, and every morning so long as I live, my first duty upon rising is my Kruschen. I honestly feel a different woman. My bowels act to the clock, and my friends remark how well I am looking. My only regret is that I didn't try Kruschen years ago."—(Mrs.) A.M.

Kruschen Salts is Nature's recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your system is thus kept clear of those impurities which, allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.

The Lord Provost of Edinburgh tells a story of a Town Councillor who remarked, in an address to his constituents, that the death-rate was twelve point nine.

"What does that mean?" asked an elector.

"It means," came the reply, "twelve died and nine at the point o' death."

Hester had been in a railroad accident. The lawyer had just called. "What you-all want?" he asked. "I've come," said the lawyer, "to assist you in getting damages." "Damages, my fool!" shouted Hester. "I done got all the damages I want—what I craves is repairs."

Here is a suggestion for those who make a practice of doing their buying from the mail order houses or in other towns: The next time you are sending an order to a mail order house include a half-dozen tickets for your church concert, garden party or fowl supper, or if it is the "off season" for the foregoing, enclose a politely-worded note requesting a donation to your church, school or society or some charity in which you are particularly interested, etc., etc. Then let us know of the gracious response you obtain. It will be a nice encouragement to local contributors.
