Raiders Wade Into New Season Minus Key Men

DAVE VOYCE

Shored up by the addition of Nick Ferri, Pete Kelly, Gord Thompson, Doug Falby, Moe Galland, Mark Mills, et al, Georgetown Raiders have not had it all on the credit side. The local lineup sagged more than slightly when Dave Voyce, Jack Rhodes, Don Kendall, Jamie Cunningham and Ron Dixon wrote finis to Intermediate hockey — at least for this season.

Penalty Killing Notable Raiders Beat Macedonia

Locals Unbeaten On Home Ice

Effective penalty killers can be the difference between winning and losing.

The theory is Raider coach, Elmer Lee's, and just to put his point across, the fiery bench general held an object lesson for five hundred customers and the Toronto Macedonians here Friday when the Raiders bumped the league leaders 4-1.

Helping Lee drive home the message were the two best penalty killers in the COHL, Wayne Thompson and Doug Richardson. The pesky pair forechecked so well the Macedonian power play consistenty fizzled on the Toronto side of the red line.

Georgetown, on the other hand, introduced a new wrinkle in their campaign to take advantage of the odd man. Whenever Toronto got caught for two minutes, merciless Elmer threw a potent five man combo over the boards, made up of Bob Demerse, and Frazer Dunn on the blue line, and Junior Beaumont, Blake Inglis and Moe Galland up front.

Take both manoeuvres working flawlessly, plus enough penalties to show both off (24 did nicely) and an alert game from Alf Trotta in the Raider net and you've got the recipe for a decisive win.

For Raiders it was their fifth against just two defeats equalling the Toronto record.

Georgetown started slow. Tom Lott took a pass from Red Stevens and tucked it behind Alf Trotta at 5.22 of the first period for their only goal of the game. Their lead stood up until Raider's latest acquisition Moe Galland finished off a play started by Bob Demerse and Junior Beaumont at 14.26 while the Raiders were enjoying the main advantage. The power play was on again at 16.51 when Junior Beaumont tallied from Galland and Dunn to put the locals ahead to stay.

Before the period was out Beaumont notched his second marker at 17.17 on a pass from Frazer Dunn in the corner. Georgetown scored the only second period goal, Moe Galland unassisted at 14.17, and both teams just threw bodies at each other for the remaining thirty minutes.

Tempers flared in every period. Two players, Gordie Thompson of the Raiders and McIntosh of Toronto Macedonians were ejected on the automatic game misconduct rule, which says any players collecting two misconduct penalties is finished for the night. Thompson earned his second one when he left the penalty box to whisper sweet nothings in the official's ear. George Grasby and Red Stevens traded elbows and compliments for most of the third period and Frazer Dunn and Bell exchanged threats as the hitting became vicious.

WAYNE THOMPSON

DOUG RICHARDSON

Georgetown's possibilities in the COHL, bright as they look now, will be known better after the week-end. They've got a pair of real tough games coming up with Milton starting tonight, when the Merchants make their first appearance on Georgetown ice this season. The second game is back in Milton tomorrow (Friday.) Then they're immediately faced with Toronto again Sunday on Toronto ice.

Short Shots: Bob Bingham, who started this year with the Brampton Junior A 7-Ups donned a Raider uniform Friday and looked like a good one to have around — Mark Mills is the only new Raider now that has not played in a home game — Incidentally Raiders have still to lose at home.

Bantams Wallop Preston in Hockey

BANTAMS 11 PRESTON 0

After watching the local Pee Wees battle in a close game with Preston the Georgetown Bantams braced themselves for a real contest in Preston Tuesday, but it never materialized.

Georgetown instead handled the hosting Bantams in easy fashion to gain a lopsided 11-0 win, and at no time did they extend themselves. Preston is the only other definite entry in Tri-County's A Minor grouping since Oakville's classification is still in doubt.

The crowd's sympathy was understandably with the Preston goalie who had to handle 50 Georgetown shots. His team support was almost nil.

The big goal scorer for Georgetown was Alister Blair who padded his scoring mark with 4 goals. Brent Telford had 2 goals and 2 assists, Dave Shepherd had 2 goals and 2 assists and other goals were scored by Terry Hayes, Bob McMenemy and Paul Robinson. Setting up the plays were Robinson, Lane Arnold and Doug Malcolm (2).

On Sunday the local Bantams took on Milton in an exhibition match at home and played to a 4-all tie.

Brush for Milton, who is always dangerous around the net, scored 3 of the Milton total as the big line of Brush, Seeds, and Marshall accounted for all their scoring. Tallying for the locals were Blair, Lavell, Hayes and Telford with assists from Lavell, Blair and Robinson.

Doug Malcolm, who appears to turn in a stronger effort every time out, has been shifted to the defense at times by coach Fred Harrison. He has a good shot and if he used it more his goal total would take a jump. Another who could break out in a scoring way is Gary Briggs, who centres the line, providing he shakes his habit of moving in too close.

The next league game will be Sunday at 5:30 with Brampton providing the opposition. In their last meeting Georgetown squeeked by with a 2-1 win in the best game of the year so far.
