UMPS GET THEIR LUMPS — EVEN AT SCHOOL

ROY BALLENTINE, (in umpire's uniform) is about to get the rate fan treatment from cohorts with pop bottles and bats at the first session of a local off-season school for Minor Ball umpires and coaches which got under way last week. Clowning with Roy are Minor Ball coaches Earl Neil, Mike George, Myles Gilson, and Barry Hudspith. Twenty-two interested local men met at the home of minor ball president, Bill Smith, 6 Mackenzie Drive.

Smith Chalks Second Shut-Out This Year

Georgetown Raider goalie, Harry Smith, chalked up his second shut-out of the COHL schedule here Friday when Raiders scored four times in the first period and three times in the third to blank a short-handed Macedonian club 7-0.

Smith had a comparatively easy time on registering the shut-out according to the shots on goal figures in which Raiders excelled 3 to 1. But figures can't separate the labelled shots from the routine, and Smith was tested several times with drives that called for the sharpest of reflexes. His other shut-out was against Port Credit.

Eleven different Raiders shared in the scoring. Doug Richardson deflected Gerry Inglis' bullet into the lower right corner to start things at 7.33. A Junior Beaumont wrist shot caught the top left corner at 17.24, Joe Anger and Doug Richardson picked up the assist, to make it 2-0. Bud Varey counted number three, a screened shot, from Blake Inglis at 14.03, and Wally Magdy threaded a forest of bodies with a shot from the blueline at 16.38, Bob Demerse collecting the assist.

Two For Moe

Close checking marked the middle period when neither club shone in hitting their targets. It wasn't until 1.33 of the third period that Fraser Dunn upped the locals' total to 5 with his goal from Gerry Inglis. Moe Galand netted number 6 at 8.44 from Bud Varey, and number 7 with 36 seconds to go from Fraser Dunn.

There were 14 penalties called in the hard-hitting contest, 7 to each team.

SUNBURN AND CANCER

Watch your sunbathing! Constant exposure to direct sunlight ages the skin, reports the Reader's Digest. There is evidence too, that consistent overexposure to sunlight produces skin cancer.

AMBER LIGHTS

In 1963 U.S. automobile manufacturers will begin using amber lights instead of white for front turn signals, reports the Ontario Safety League. Research has found that amber signals can be seen more readily than white against glaring reflections, and also provide greater contrast against headlamps at night.
