

Georgetown man is part of $20 million lottery group win

A group of Halton-area health care workers has won more than $20 million through the July 22 LOTTO 6/49 draw.

The winning ticket was purchased at Mount Royal Smoke Shop on Mount Forest Drive in Burlington.

The group of 14, which includes residents of Oakville, Burlington, Milton and Georgetown, had been playing the lottery together for nearly 15 years. The wait paid off with each person's share of the jackpot working out to nearly $1.5 million.

"Mark, our group leader was the first to find out," said some members of the group while at the OLG (Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation) Prize Centre in Toronto where they picked up their winnings.

"He called a meeting to gather us together to tell us the great news. He wanted to film our reaction."

"It's great playing as a group because everyone wins," said another group member.

Group members included Steve Buchanan and Kevin Morley of Oakville, David Bacolini and Shaun McLaughlin of Burlington, Norbert Zwolinski and Russell Rohr of Mil-

Since LOTTO 6/49 was launched in 1982, Ontario players have won more than $10 billion in prizes, including 1,310 jackpot wins.

Ill Nana Diverse City Dance, slam poetry, youth singers and drag performances.

PSN is supported by a four-year Youth Opportunities Grant through the Ontario Trillium Foundation and one of its outcomes is to have the YAC put on an event each year and to provide volunteer and work skills to LGBTQ+ youth in Halton.

"It's really inspiring to watch the planning process and organization of this important event be ignited by our youth; they are really making it their own," commented Marcus Logan, supervisor, LGBTQ+ Education and Support Services.

"I am so proud of the work that our Youth Action Committee has taken on to ensure this annual event continues."
