Household Hints
From Pauline McNally

The less expensive way to clean records or tapes use isopropyl alcohol diluted with water. Works just as well as the expensive kits.

To remove stubborn grease spots from clothing, rub dry cornstarch into the spot, cover with a cloth, and then press with a hot iron. The cornstarch will absorb the grease - and brush right off!

It's easier to pair up socks in the laundry if you buy several pairs of the same color at the same time.
