NHKR announces T-shirt design/slogan contest winner

NHKR (North Halton Kitten Rescue) has announced the winner of its T-shirt design and slogan contest— Kaitlyn Brown. NHKR received 14 entries, with some containing more than one design. It was quite a close race with so many great submissions, stated a NHKR spokesperson.

Kaitlyn (right) is wearing a shirt with her winning design and is holding the metal cat donated by Doris Treleven of Metalscape. Kaitlyn is entering Grade 9 at Christ the King this year, and has already decided she wants to be an animator.

The tee-shirts in adult unisex and youth sizing, are available in red, blue, green, and pink. Pricing and availability will be published soon.

Kaitlyn Brown is NHKR's contest winner.

legal matters | ESTATES & TRUSTS

Q: How do I avoid an estate battle?

A: Inefficient estate planning can cause family feuds leading to costly and time consuming litigation. Various strategies may help to reduce the likelihood of an estate battle after you die.

Future legal battles and family tension may be avoided by exercising openness and transparency when discussing your estate plan.

If necessary, establishing accurate expectations prior to your death can help prevent unnecessary misunderstandings or resentment among family members.

We can help. Call us to discuss.
