AMERICAN WORKER IS NOT RED DAVIS SAYS

Secretary of Labor in Article in National Republic Tells Why

"Why the American Worker is Not Red" is the title of an interesting article by Secretary of Labor Davis, in the current issue of the National Republic.

Among other things, Mr. Davis says: "The savings bank deposits are another index of the ability and inclination of the American worker to accumulate capital, for the bulk of the savings bank depositors are wage earners and workers receiving small salaries. In 1912 there were 12,584,000 savings bank depositors, with deposits of $9,400,000,000. In 1924 the savings bank deposits were $20,874,000,000 and there were 38,868,000 depositors. That is, the number of depositors in savings banks, exceeded one third of the population of the United States.

"These evidences that the American worker generally is accumulating capital in all directions should make it clear why the fantastic preachings of false economic and political doctrines which would abolish capital do not appeal to him."

BRITISH PRAISE AMERICAN PRESS

Laud Efforts of U. S. Newspapers to Aid Humanitarian Enterprises

Lack of public support has caused drastic curtailment of British relief work in Greece, where the Lord Mayor's fund has maintained refugee feeding kitchens for 50,000 people. The committee in charge blames the British newspapers, saying that "the press in England does not give adequate space to humanitarian projects, and the public is therefore inadequately informed." The committee compares British newspapers unfavorably with the American and Canadian press, "which give as much space to humanitarian achievement as they do to political squabbles and police-court scandal."

INDO-PERSIAN ART DISPLAY OF NOTE

The exhibition of Indo-Persian art from the L. M. Buckingham collection may now be seen in galleries 17 and 18, at the Art Institute. In looking at this art of two and three centuries ago the visitor is impressed with its similarity to Chinese art. We see the same plump cheeks in the drawing of men and women, the same well-fed bodies and the same restful self-contented attitude toward life. Only in the Persian art here shown there is more of vivid color and of painstaking attention to every detail, no matter how trivial.

All automobiles drivers show caution at least once, and that was when they were first learning to drive.

A PLEA for THE POPE

The Pope represents "religious authority." Catholicism is "a religion of authority,—exclusive, intolerant, missionary and successful," says Dr. Frederick Joseph Kinsman, former Episcopal Bishop, now a Roman Catholic, in the third of THE FORUM series on "Catholicism in America."

"Attacks upon the Catholic Church are the result of misunderstandings, confusion and spectres of imagination." He denies any conflict between Rome and our Republic, and urges that "open discussion is good for any cause."

In June, Dr. Charles Fama, Protestant Italian-American, a well known investigator of alien and other agitations, has some startling revelations to make—facts gathered at first hand during years of close contact with Roman Catholic Italian colonies.

SCHWAB PREDICTS PROSPERITY ERA

Is Optimistic About Immediate Future of America and So States

Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation is optimistic about the immediate future of America.

"I believe that the next twenty years will see the greatest expansion and the greatest accomplishment American industry has ever known" Mr. Schwab stated recently in an address at the annual meeting of the New York building congress.

"It is to this end that God has endowed this country with the vastest of natural resources, and a people of the most alert integrity, the bravest spirit and the finest of ideals.

"If I had my choice to be born again I believe I would choose to be a young man today. Mr. Schwab urged co-operation among competitors in industry and a democracy in the relations between the employers and the employes.

"I believe," he added, "that among the workingmen of America there is more of real sound morality and more of real decent living than among many of those who ranked themselves higher. I am glad they call me Charley."

SOVIET AGENTS ARE BUSY IN CANADA, TOO

Want Independence from Britain and Dependence on Red Russia

That the soviet is not idle in Canada is indicated by the fact that A. E. Smith, formerly a minister, and now a communist, was elected president of the Ontario section of the Canadian Labor party recently, defeating the union labor candidate by two votes. The communists also obtained control of the executive committee and elected their candidate for vice president.

The delegates to the convention adopted resolutions introduced by the communists providing that the delegates to the meeting of the Empire labor parties, to be held in London, be instructed to move that the semi-colonial and the colonial portions of the British Empire have complete independence.

Of course what the communists really want is that the colonies have complete independence from Great Britain and complete dependence on Soviet Russia.

TRADE CONDITIONS IN BRITAIN POOR

Acute Depression in Many Lines There Reported to be Not Reassuring

Trade conditions in Great Britain are not in the least reassuring, according to reports from the American Chamber of Commerce in London, and the pessimistic view of the immediate future in Great Britian is all the more interesting because of the predictions which are being put forth in the United States to the effect that this country will enjoy an increasingly steady and improving trade during the current year.

There is an acute depression in the coal trade, according to the survey, and collieries are closing all over the country, while ten industries, lace making, glass ware, rubber tires, brushes, carpets, gas mantles, hollow ware, silk automobiles and radio apparatus have repeatedly requested protection thru the board of trade committee instituted for the safeguarding of industry.

It is stated that the exports of cotton goods for March were very disappointing and the short time working week has failed to give satisfactory results. Lancashire is said to be considering a strong united effort to produce cheaper goods, and Bradford is said to be about ready to demand protection for the worsted industry The only improvement noted is in the chemical trade and in the production of steel ingots.

Now that the baseball season has got going again, with full attendance of our statesmen and captains of industry at the opening games, the institutions of America are safe for one more year.

SPIRIT OF YOUTH

THE FORUM introduced "The Little French Girl", 1924's best seller, to the American public.

In May, THE FORUM introduces HARE AND TORTOISE, by Pierre Coalfleet, who writes of the glorious Canadian Northwest and of "the great adventure", in a new way. Subtle and arresting in characterization. The new serial vibrates with youth in the struggle for self-realization.

Which is a crafty way of saying: let every man be his own master till he gets home from work!

We believe there is about a 50-50 give-and-take spirit in this town, and we respectfully suggest that it be shown in the evenings by a family stroll down town to see the bargains in our windows.
