Forgan-Allen Wedding

The Presbyterian church was attractively decorated in white peonies with a background of palms at the altar for the marriage ceremony of Miss Betty Forgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Forgan, and Philip Drake Allen, which took place at four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The bride wore a plain white satin gown made with a very long train, a severe high neckline, and a long billowing tulle veil and short face veil that fell from a becoming Queen Anne cap of tulle. She carried lillies of the valley and gardenias.

Mrs. William Edwin Smith, who served her sister as matron of honor, and the six bridesmaids, wore Queen Anne hats made of white straw and their summery frocks were of white organdy trimmed with green velvet bows here and there on the full skirts and a bow in the center of each short puffed sleeve.

Barbara and Joan Smith, nieces of the bride, were flower girls and they were attired in Kate Greenaway dresses of green taffeta and little poke bonnets.

Mr. Allen had his brother, Mr. Robert Allen of Greensburg, Pa., as his best man, and there were a large number of out of town ushers. After a wedding trip, Mr. Allen and his bride will live in Riverside.

Dorothy Van Dyke Is Wed Saturday

Saturday evening at six o'clock, the marriage of Miss Dorothy Van Dyke of Elkhorn, Wis., and Mr. Harold Rudolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rudolph, of this city, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent Seeney of Valley road.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. W. F. Suhr, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church of this city. The groom was attended by his brother Charles Rudolph as best man. Mrs. Clausson of Madison, Wis., was maid of honor. A reception followed the ceremony on the lawn of the Seeney home.

Announce Engagement of Jane McWhinney

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Jane McWhinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Andrew McWhinney, to Robert Ruttan Wilson of San Francisco, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alling Wilson, came as a great surprise to all of the young people as well as the friends of the McWhinney family, who were gathered at a large tea at their home on Prospect avenue, Sunday afternoon.

Miss McWhinney and her fiance met on a cruise to the Orient last winter, so none of the younger set had met him until the party on Sunday. Mr. Wilson arrived Saturday to spend a week with the McWhinney family.

Miss McWhinney attended Rosemary Hall, the Burnham school in Northampton, and Smith college. She is a member of the Chicago Junior league. Mr. Wilson is a graduate of the University of California, and is a Pi Phi. The wedding will take place in the early winter, and Mr. Wilson will take the bride to California to make their home.
