We have been able to help several families who have run out of fuel oil and needed other means for heating water. Additional Gas water heaters may be used until November 15 through a special plan—We'll be glad to explain.

★ ★

Did you hear about the soldier who wrote home to say he had gained 60 pounds since he joined the Army? He said he had gained 2 pounds of flesh and 58 pounds of equipment.

★ ★

We just had a letter from one of our Soldiers. He has been made a Paratrooper and he is about as proud as any soldier on earth. Incidentally, we have lost and will lose many men (and girls) to the Army and Navy. We have tried to go along without replacements, but we are now in the short-handed stage. We'll be glad to interview anyone who would like to work with North Shore Gas Company and we are particularly in need of laborers who are over 38 and "can take it." Perhaps, we can arrange with Landscape Gardeners to join us next fall. Drop in at our office and let's discuss it. We are an essential industry, the pay is reasonable, and it's a good friendly outfit if I do say so myself.

★ ★

Portable pipe lines have been developed by our Army which are self-contained units with engine, pump, and pipe, for a ½ mile unit. As many units are joined together as it takes to reach the supply depot, etc. This system will deliver gasoline at the rate of 200 gal. per minute through swamp, forest, or over mountains.

Cheeriology offers a Moron story:

Once upon a time there were two morons. One of them called the other on the telephone at 3 o'clock in the morning.

"Hello, is this University one one one one?"

After awhile came the answer.

"Nope, this is University eleven eleven"—

"Well, then; sorry to bother you at this time of night."

"Oh, that's all right; I had to get up to answer the telephone anyway"—

Mrs. Clara Stevens, Well Known Artist, Dies After Illness

Mrs. Clara Hatch Stevens, artist and art instructor, passed away Thursday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Percy Prior (Irene Stevens), 1026 Wade street. Funeral services were held Monday at the Kelley Funeral home with Rev. Christoph Keller of Trinity Episcopal church officiating.

Mrs. Stevens, 80, who has been exceptionally active all her life, fell and dislocated her shoulder May 22 at her home in Lake Bluff. She was brought to the home of her daughter. Complications due to influenza and a failing heart contributed to her passing.

She was born April 22, 1863, in Harrodsburg, Ky., a daughter of Dr. Johnson Hatch and Clarissa Rousseau Baker Hatch. Her formal education was received in the grade schools in Keokuk, Ia., and in Jacksonville, Ill., where she graduated from the Woman's college, now known as MacMurray college. She studied art and music in Chicago and New York and did copying of masters in London, Paris, Vienna and Dresden.

Taught Art

She taught art in Jacksonville, Ill., high school, Eureka college, Lexington, Ky., School for Girls, and Portland, Ore., schools.

At the request of Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Stevens was one of several women selected to paint a frieze at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. For the Century of Progress in 1933-34, she painted the Indian mother scene at the Woman's Medical Center building.

Mrs. Stevens did both landscaping and portraiture and exceptionally outstanding were her many pastorals of birch trees. Her granddaughter, Jean Prior, has inherited her talent and is an art student in Chicago at present.

Owned Home

For the past fifty years she has owned a home in Lake Bluff, one of the original Hobbs' houses, where she spent her summers, spending the winters in Chicago, and for the last fifteen years, with her daughter in Highland Park. Her husband, Charles L. Stevens, passed away many years ago. She was a charter member of the Lake Bluff Woman's club.

Mrs. Stevens is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Prior, and two grandchildren, Jean, and Aviation Cadet Percy Jr., of College Station, Texas.

'Junior Miss' Returns to Chicago On Sunday, June 27

Max Gordon announces a return engagement of the comedy hit, "Junior Miss," which will be seen for a limited engagement at the Erlanger theatre, Chicago, beginning Sunday night, June 27. The company will consist of an acting personnel entirely different from the one that composed the cast seen at the Harris theatre, Chicago, several months ago.

"Junior Miss" has been one of the most successful comedies of the past two seasons, in New York and on tour. Based on the stories of Sally Benson of magazine origin, the stage adaptation was made by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov who wrote the equally successful "My Sister Eileen", another Max Gordon production.

The New York company of "Junior Miss" is well into its second year, and the company that appeared in Chicago at the Harris is back on the Eastern seaboard after playing to large grosses in cities of the West Coast. The incoming Chicago company was launched in Boston last October and has been playing successful engagements in the key eastern cities. It comes from an eight-week engagement at the Cass theatre, Detroit—an unusually long engagement for Detroit.
