LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The time for cheap flour has again arrived. You can get one hundred weight of the best family flour at the Halton Mills, Milton, for $2.25.

Owing to the death of a relation the Editor of this paper has not been enabled to give his personal superintendence to this issue of the Champion.

On Monday, the 8th inst., a ewe belonging to Donald McCallum, Esq., of Esquesing, was safely delivered of five lively lambs, each lamb weighing eight pounds. The prolific mother with her forty pounds of young are doing well. Beat this who can.

A Social will be held at Omagh, on the 16th inst. Tea to be served at 7 o'clock.—Entrance fee, 25 cents. The proceeds to be applied to the building of a sidewalk in said town. A String Band will be in attendance. Young and old are cordially invited to attend.

The Publishers of "The New Dominion Monthly" Magazine offer to present the volume just closed (from October to March, inclusive), bound and post-paid, to any person who shall remit $3 for three new Subscribers for one year, beginning either with October last or April next.

A social in behalf of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church, Palermo, will be given by Mrs. John VanAllen, in the Temperance Hall, on Friday evening, the 12th inst. The entertainment wil consist of Readings, Recitations and Music—both vocal and instrumental. The public are cordially invited.

The Directors of the Milton Mechanics' Institute and Library Association, have great pleasure in announcing that the Rev. Mr. Blackstock has kindly consented to deliver a lecture, for the benefit of the Institute, on Tuesday, March 23rd. Subject announced next week. There will be music in connection with the lecture.

Temperance Meeting.—We are requested to say that a public Temperance Lecture will be delivered in the Town Hall, Milton on Monday evening next, by T. W. Casey, Esq., of Napanee, one of the regularly authorised Lecturers of the Independent Order of Good Templars, after which an opportunity will be given to institute a Lodge here. This Order now claims to be the largest and most vigorous Temperance organization in Canada It numbers 25,000 members in the Province, and is increasing in membership. This year it expended $1,500 for the employment of Lecturers, four of whom are now in the field. As its objects are good, and its work efficient, we cordially wish it success in its efforts.

Whitney's Musical Guest.—The month scarcely dawns upon us before the March number of this excellent monthly musical magazine with its abundance of musical intelligence, items, and choice new music appears promptly upon our table. The present number contains 10 pages of reading matter headed with a splendid story entitled, "A Voice that Charmed," followed by various interesting items and a brief sketch of the adventures of the popular song writer, Frank Howard, also 10 pages of new music: "Annie of the Dale," by C. T. Dondore; "Sunlight of my Life is Shaded," by C. F. Shattuck, and "Merry School Girl Waltz, by Carl Mezzo.—The catalogue price of above music is 95c, and the price of the magazine is only one Dollar a year. It is a marvel of cheapness.—Send 10 cents and get a specimen copy.

A Threatening Letter.—On Sabbath last while Mr. James McDonald was on a visit to his brother-in-law, Mr. Rutherford, tavern-keeper, No. 10, Centre Road, two men hailing from the neighborhood of Milton entered the house and requested some liquor to be served them. Mr. McDonald advised Mr. Rutherford not to give it to them, and the men overhearing this became violent against him; one of them even drawing a revolver and threatened to shoot him. When they got outside they broke several panes of glass.—Whether what we are about to state has any connection with the above or not, we leave to our readers to draw their own conclusion.—But certain it is that Mr. McDonald received a letter which was mailed at this post office and bearing a three cent stamp upon it. In the letter he was advised to prepare to meet his God; which was not a bad exhortation of itself; but the reason annexed was scarcely of a pacific a nature—for in eight days from this then shalt surely die. What a blood-thirsty creature the writer must be. Could nothing else do? Supposing he fires some fifty rounds at the moon and swears for the want of success for another?—Brampton Banner.

Who are the aforesaid men or rather rowdies from Milton? We were under the impression that we had no such characters amongst us, but they may have been "forty miles from home" and entitled to break the pledge.—Ed. Champion.

CUFFY'S SOLILOQUY.

In anshunt dase when men used to ware corse boots, and the farmer's girls wore flannel frocks, there used to be once in a while an onest man, but dere me, what a change has come. The farmers has all all give up the idea of work, and the girls must be on a stool playing in a pianner, or else going to the boarding school to learn to dance and play "snap and ketch." The farmer's sons now are all gentlemen, abuv work clean and clear—can't bind without gloves, and set on a cushioned spring seat when they mow, and I have nown them to even ware a paper collar in the harvest field.

The olde man, too, sets in the house, helps the old lady to churn, and puts the cows to pastur and takes his snuff.

Some days the old fokes go to see their nabours, and then all the latest fashuns of the day are diskussed, and match making gose on at a grate rate, and all the new close are inspected and the latest stile of bonnets described to a hare. When I was a young man the boys could yoke the oxen, and we all went to meetin' together and then we came home and sot around the fire till bed time, and then go up stairs to bed.

But how different these days—the oldest of the family goes in the morning and comes home to dinner, and in the evening the young fokes must aul go—the young gent with a cigar in his mouth and a gold trace chane hangin' out of his poket—and then as the old gent wakes in the morning he hears the young scapegrace going to bed. Ahem! Wonderful! I must grease my boots.

DIED.

HOLLOWAY'S WORM LOZENGES,

Are a certain and safe remedy for worms in children and adults. It is a well known and melancholy fact that one great cause of death among children is from worms alone, it cannot be too deeply impressed upon the minds of parents the necessity of closely watching their children. By so doing and understanding the symptons and true cause of the disease, thousands of children might be saved from early graves.—Symptoms of Worms.—The following are a few of the very numerous symptoms and diseases which are caused by worms; deranged appetite, emanciated extremities, offensive breath, frequent picking at the nose, grinding of the teeth during sleep, and sometimes convulsive fits, pain in the head and stomach, unquiet sleep, faintings, tremblings, coughs, indigestion, low spirits, frightful dreams, and a gradual wasting away of flesh. They are palatable and self-administered to the child—drive out the worms thoroughly without pain and completely cleanse the stomach—thereby doing away with the necessity of administering Castor Oil or other unpleasant cathartics.—Each box contains the fac simile signature of Northop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., who are the sole proprietors. N. B. Ask for Holloway's Worm Lozenges and take no others. Sold by all the Druggists in Milton and medicine dealers everywhere. 13
