Something's hot under foot at Carpet Barn Carpet One

Old, cold and tired-looking ceramic floors can now be a thing of the past and without the cost and mess to change.

Luxury vinyl tile is the hottest thing under foot, says Jamie Watt of Carpet Barn Carpet One in Georgetown.

"It gives all the benefits of traditional ceramic tile without the downsides like being cold and hard to walk on. In most cases, aside from actually touching the floor, most would not realize it is not a real tile."

Watt says with minimal work and almost no difference in height, these new products can have you a new floor in as little as hours, particularly with Carpet Barn Carpet One's certified flooring installers.

"They are comfortable, yet strong, and there are literally hundreds of tile and wood looks to suit anyone's taste! See these products and all things new now and save on them at our annual Five-Hour Sales Event coming next Wednesday, Sept. 23," says Watt. "Every floor in the store is on sale! Come see why we have been in and excelled in business since 1973!"

He reminds his customers of "our beautiful guarantee" on most of the products— if you don't love your floor we will change it for free up to 120 days after installation.

That's only one of the reasons Carpet Barn Carpet One has been Georgetown's Readers Choice for flooring for 16 years in a row.
