WANTS TO SELL HIS LAKE.—Richard Corrigan, who, with Samuel Dice, is the owner of the lake near Campbellville, Nelson township, Halton county, which has been spoken of as containing a possible supply of water for Toronto, called upon The News yesterday. Mr. Corrigan says that the lake covers eight or nine acres and in some places is over a hundred feet deep. The water is perfectly pure. He says there is every reason to believe that the lake is in some way connected with Lake Huron, and he and Mr. Dice are willing that a test should be made.—Toronto News.

HE KNEW IT WAS LOADED.—Two of Clarkson's young men were engaged last week in cleaning a gun, and wishing to remove a charge of powder tried several caps which failed to have the desired effect. Concluding that the powder near the vent was damp, one of them was told to fire a lighted match by the other who proceeded to apply suction to the muzzle. Of course there was an explosion and the wadding lodged in the coat of the young man's mouth, while the powder besmeared his face. They may think themselves lucky that nothing more serious has happened to the party who tried the suction.—Oakville Star.

SUIT ENTERED AGAINST PROMINENT CONSERVATIVES.—The leading Conservatives of the county have discovered that it may be great fun to unseat a member of Parliament, but the business has its unpleasant side as well. When it was decided to protest the election of Mr. Featherston, the question came up—Who will put up the stuff? As no member of the party had $1,000 to jeopardize in such a course, some loyal men and true placed their names to a piece of paper whereby they promised to pay to one Joseph Sheard, of Toronto Gore, one year after date the sum of $1,000 in good and lawful money of the realm. When the popular Featherston was downed, the signers of this note undoubtedly rejoiced with exceeding great joy. But the $1,000 note remained unpaid. Mr. Sheard, feeling that he had no right to lose his money employed a young member of the Conservative party in Toronto, who is a lawyer, to collect the note. The matter did not come to a trial, as a levy was made and the note some what reduced. But now Mr. Sheard (in spite of repeated appearances from some quarter) [illegible] the balance of the note. It has cost him [illegible] Henry [illegible] Wm. Moody [illegible] Banner.

SLEIGHING PARTY.—There will be a parlor concert at the residence of Mr. A. Dixon on Thursday evening next, Feb. 2nd, to which all are cordially invited. A good programme has been provided and conveyances will be in waiting at the Methodist church and at Clements's hardware store to take all those who wish to avail themselves of the sleigh ride. A good time is expected. All welcome. Admission 15c.

GAME WILL BE SCARCE—Says the Galt Reporter: The intense cold and heavy snow is proving very destructive to the quail and "woodland hares" in the western section of Ontario, and farmers are urged to scatter a little grain in suitable places in order to keep life in poor little "Bob White." In this section the "woodland hares" are having a very hard time, and if they are not utterly killed out it will be because some of them have fallen heirs (no pun) to Buffalo overcoats. The chances are that these little causes of much sporting contention will come out of this winter as scarce as they were 25 years ago.

THE MARKET.—From appearances in the prices of certain kinds of produce, good times are in store for the farmers. Peas have advanced to 58c. per bush.; eggs, 23c. a doz.; roll butter to 20c. per lb. The greatest change is in pork, which now sells from $8 to $8.75 per 100 lbs. One load sold at $8.80, and a number of contracts have been made for $8 per 100 lbs. One load of pets sold at 62c. and a load of oats at 30c. a bushel. Beef has advanced a cent on the lb. In conversation with a cattle dealer he said Canadian lambs are being run out of the Eastern States markets by the Western lambs. The reason given is that the Canadian lambs are too heavy. The lighter a lamb the better the value. If farmers would cross their breeds and produce a lamb that when dressed would run from 70 to 75 lbs. it would pay both producer and seller better profit, and establish a first-class market for Canadian lambs. The American public want lambs evenly divided, both in lean and fat. The more lean meat the better it is appreciated.—Guelph Mercury.

A SHABBY TRICK.—Mr. Wm. Stovell, Rockwood, a well-known figure on the Guelph market, had a shabby trick played on him Saturday. He was returning from Guelph, when he made a stop at Brandon's store, where he was accosted by a man who asked for a ride as far as the C.P.R. crossing at Victoria bridge. On arriving there the man was allowed to jump out, and Mr. Stovell drove home. When he arrived he found that a bag containing about $5 worth of groceries was missing. He would not have cared so much for the groceries only that his supply of tobacco was gone, and he had to do without all day Sunday. He is confident that the man dropped the bag out somewhere between Brandon's and the crossing, walked back and appropriated it. He knows the man, and if ever he meets him there is likely to be no police court case over the punishment in the first instance. This sort of game is being practised too frequently, especially on butcher and grocery boys.—Guelph Mercury.
