Every Contention of the United States Knocked out.

A COMPLETE VERDICT WHICH COMPELS THE UNITED STATES TO PAY DAMAGES TO CANADA FOR ITS ESTABLISHING A CLOSE SEASON AND A PROTECTED ZONE ROUND THE PRIBYLOFF ISLANDS.

[illegible] 15.—The award of the arbitrators was generally [illegible] financial circles long before [illegible] papers were issued, and [illegible] disappointment [illegible] those who had [illegible] that the protection [illegible] miles should be [illegible] which no seals could [illegible] times, and objection is [illegible] season which extends [illegible] August 1st, in view of [illegible] losses of the seal [illegible] themselves permitted by [illegible] United States United [illegible] to kill seals during [illegible] and July. It is asked why [illegible] British sealers be prohibited [illegible] during months when the [illegible] Alaska Commercial Company [illegible] permitted. The result is to [illegible] season for outsiders, so as to [illegible] an unprofitable trade. As [illegible] zone, it is so extreme [illegible] such a decided concession to the United States that it is doubtful [illegible] whether the award actually goes [illegible]. On the 16th March [illegible] M. Mr. Blake proposed to Sir Julian Pauncefote [illegible] the latter's letter of March [illegible] that a ring of 25 miles round the Pribyloff Islands should be reserved as a space within which no sealing should be allowed. The decision recalls the prophetic utterance of Sir Richard Webster before the tribunal that the United States were trying to obtain by regulation what they were certain of not obtaining as a right.

To show the surprise of well-posted men, the case of Mr. C. C. Chipman, Commissioner of the Hudson Bay Company, may be cited. Mr. Chipman, who returned this week from England, and was in Ottawa to day en route to Winnipeg, was, up to a recent date; private secretary to Hon. C. H. Tupper, and, consequently, had to do a great deal in connection with Mr. Tupper's investigations into the Bering Sea matters. He heard of the award from your correspondent on the street, and asked but two questions: "Have they fixed a ten mile zone and a close season?" When informed that the zone was sixty miles, he gave utterence to a prolonged "Whew!" and a dubious shake of the head.

I met Mr. Riley Consul-General for the United States, in the Russell House this evening, and asked him how the decision struck him. "It seems to me," he replied "that Great Britain has won on the question of rights, but the practical regulations are against the Canadian sealers and in favor of the United States." This is, in a nutshell, the general opinion here.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, acting Premier, received the following cable from Sir John Thompson at noon:—"Arbitration concluded and award delivered at noon. All questions of right decided in favor of Britain. Future sealing prohibited May, June and July, and firearms forbidden in Bering Sea. Indians on the coast are exempted. Tupper and I sail on Parisian on Thursday." Mr. Bowell had no opinion to offer on the subject.

BRITISH CLAIMS.

1. Freedom of the seas for the benefit of all the world.

2. That rights of property and rights in relation to property be confined within the limits consecrated by practice and founded on general expediency in the interests of mankind, the three-mile limit.

3. That apart from agreement no nation has the right to seize the vessels of another on the high seas in times of peace for offences against property, excepting piracy.

4 and 5. That any regulations to be established should have just and equitable regard to all the interests concerned.

THE ARGUMENTS.

It must have been noted by those who followed the arguments of the American counsel in Paris that their contention changed as the argument proceeded. They first set up the claim to ownership and control of the fishing seals in Latin phrase, the mare clausum theory. When the ridiculous character of this contention was exposed they found a new argument in [illegible] modes more theory, that is, [illegible] sealing was contrary to [illegible] but when it was shown [illegible] "pelagic sealers" had nothing to [illegible] the case, the American counsel [illegible] another theory. They asserted a property right in all seals found in the waters of Behring Sea, alleging that [illegible] born on the Pribyloff Islands are owned by the [illegible] and that the seals on [illegible] were possessed of [illegible] property. In an in[illegible] relating to the same [illegible] it was proved [illegible] seals are not born on the [illegible] that there is [illegible] invariably [illegible] which they [illegible] Charles Russell [illegible] would be interested [illegible] the seals [illegible] return to the [illegible]

Stole a Bag of Gold.

St. Paul, Aug. 14.—At noon to day a daring thief stole a bag containing $5,000 in gold, which was lying at the window of the receiving teller of the First National Bank. The bag had been sent over to the clearing house by the Merchants' National, and was lying just inside the teller's window. An unknown man stepped up to the window, seized the bag, made off with it, and escaped before pursuit could be organized. There is no trace of the robber.

Niagara Central Wiped Out.

St. Catharines, Aug. 12.—About four o'clock this morning the two engine houses, two engines, and coal chute of the Niagara Central railway were destroyed by fire. It is not known how the fire originated. The watchman had neglected his duty and gone home at three o'clock, and the fire had made good headway before the alarm was given. The loss will be abot $75,000.

Nine 1 1-2 lb. Trout in 20 Minutes.

Port Hope Sentinel

Loom Lake is a very attractive place for anglers. A lady there a few weeks since stood on a stage landing, with grasshopper for bait, and within 20 minutes brought out nine speckled trout which averaged a pound and a half each.

An Explanation.

Sir,—When I put the warning in your last issue I was not aware that it was one of our Sunday school children who had been collecting money. This child had misunderstood an address which I had given to the Sunday school urging them to save all they could for the proposed new church. She, however, collected 55c., for which I desire to thank her. Yours, &c., P. T. Mignot.

Did you ever think of it?

Still some of you think your life the hardest. Best in the world! No doubt about that. You are independent, while we are dependent on you. Quite a difference in situation, isn't it? What's the conclusion of all things? Just this. That while this is a world of extremes, yet it is a world of compensation. No loss without a corresponding gain. Set a trap for your neighbor and one of your own will fall into it. Little prices for your grain means little prices for the goods you want. This is where we have to take a cue from you.

Now, we just want to say that no store in Halton considers your interest more and is better prepared to meet the little price affair than we are.
