THE CHAMPION

MILTON, Nov. 15, 1894.

Eleven Petitions Withdrawn.

Three more election petitions—East Toronto, West Huron and East Simcoe—were asked to be withdrawn

William Reynold Oxley, who filed the petition against the return of George Sterling Ryerson, now declares he has not the evidence sufficient to prove the charges he alleged.

Joseph Bell and Joseph Buck say the same of Jas. Thompson Garrow and Andrew Miscampbell. Eleven petitions have now been asked to be withdrawn out of the 31 filed. The probability is that the greater portion of the remaining twenty will fall through.

The petitions not yet asked to be withdrawn are Monck, South Renfrew, North and South Perth, Halton, West York, West Wellington, North Ontario, North Wentworth, Lincoln, East Northumberland, West Algoma, Parry Sound, Addington, South Huron, West Northumberland, Haldimand, West Durham, North Lanark and Kingston.

Floods in England.

London, Nov. 13.—As details are received here in regard to yesterday's storm it is seen to be very severe indeed. Much damage has been done in the flooded districts and some lives have been lost. Passengers who crossed the channel during the storm describe their voyages as being awful experiences. The Ostend night boat put into Dover with her forecastle and deck severely damaged by the heavy seas which had come on board of her.

The coastguard station building at Sandgate was blown down during the storm. In Dorsetshire and Somersetshire the heaviest floods in years have been experienced, and at Bath, Somerset, the water was breast high in many of the streets. In other places people were so alarmed by the rising waters that they sought refuge in the attics of their houses or upon high ground. In the Rustock valley, Somersetshire, the water rose five feet, rendering scores of people homeless. In the lowlands of Dorsetshire many houses were flooded, and people had to rescued by boats from the windows of the upper storeys of their houses. Other were fed by boats in the same way. Violent gales are reported along all the coasts and throughout France.

St. Louis' Case.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—The case of the Queen vs. Emmanuel St. Louis, charged with obtaining $143,000 by false pretences in connection with the famous Curran bridge, was begun this morning before Judge Desmoyers in his private room. Owing to its unhealthy state an adjournment was made to the Grand Jury room. Mr. St. Louis was on hand with his usual bonhomme deportment, and accompanying him were Messrs. C. A. Geoffrion and J. U. Emard, his counsel. The Queen, or in other words, the Dominion Government, was represented by Mr. W. P. Sharp, of Messrs. Hall, Cross, Brown & Sharp. The proceedings were short and of a formal character, and only two witnesses were examined. Mr. Louis Lesage, Secretary of the Department of Railways and Canals, was first shown eight cheques, seven of which he recognized as having passed through his department in the regular order. They were as follows: February 24th, 1893, $1,661.84, exhibit 1; March 29th, 1893, $14,717.45, exhibit 6; April 20th, 1893, $74,777.45, exhibit 7; April 24th, 1893, $7,000, exhibit 8; May 8th, 1893, $8,893, exhibit 9; May 8th, 1893, $7,000, exhibit 10; May 27th, 1893, $66,000, exhibit 11. The one he had no knowledge of was for $39,000, paid on June 6th, 1893. Mr. Sharp—can you produce a letter from Mr. St. Louis to E. Kennedy in reply to the latter's calling for tenders for stonecutters, setters, etc., in connection with the Curran bridge, lock 1? A.—I cannot produce it because it was handed to the commission, and its whereabouts cannot be traced. It was returned to the department after the investigation by the special commission. The same answer was returned by witness to a similar request for lock 2. This for the time concluded the examination, but it is understood he will be cross-examined at some future time by the defence, and also will be examined in rebuttal by the prosecution. Mr. Ernest Marceau, chief engineer of the Lachine Canal, was next examined, but it was brief in the extreme. He simply testified to some papers marked exhibits 2 and 3, which related to the contracts. The enquete was adjourned until Friday morning next.

Drumquin.

Chas. Brown shipped from Oakville station on the G. T. R. 169 barrels of winter apples to Edinburgh, Scotland, on Oct. 29th, He shipped to the same place in August two tons of honey, also two tons in September, and he expects to ship some turkeys about the end of this month.

The annual Plowing match, under the auspices of the Agricultural and Arts of Ontario and the East York Plowmen's Association, took place on Nov. 8th on the farm of Wm. Milliken, Hagerman's Corners, 6th concession of Markham, the quality of the work being such that the judges had no easy task in deciding who were entitled to the prizes. Nevertheless the decisions that the judges came to gave the utmost satisfaction. In class 8, open to plowmen using two-furrow plows, Jas. Thaxter (the hired man of John Bell of Amber) won the first prize, beating the Fleury and Cockshutt two-furrow plows, Mr. Bell's man using two horses and the other two-furrow plowmen using three horses. Quite a success for Chas. Brown, of Drumquin, maker of John Bell's 2-furrow plow.—Toronto World.

To build a railway from Quebec westerly to Norway House, thence across the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific coast, with a branch from a point west of Lake Winnipeg to Hudson Bay, is the gigantic scheme of a company now seeking incorporation.

From the way the protests are being withdrawn it is evident that there was a good deal less corruption in the late Ontario elections than the lawyers had been led to hope.

The Dominion revenue for the four months ending October 31 is less by $1,587,000 than for the corresponding period of 1893. The expenditure has increased over $300,000.

A fatal shooting accident is reported from near Kelvin. A. Chapman was firing at a rabbit, when the bullet went through a window of W. Thompson's house striking his five-year-old son in the neck and killing him instantly.

There is so much demand for sugar beets by the manufacturers of the beet sugar that Mr. Beaubien, Commissioner of Agriculture of Quebec, is sending out circulars to the agricultural societies to ascertain how many acres of land will be sown with beets in the Province of Quebec next year.

Steps are being taken for the establishment of a large factory in Ottawa for the production of porcelain-ware, carbons, etc., connected with the electrical demands of the present day. The building will cost about thirty thousand dollars, without the machinery, and at the start will employ from fifty to one hundred men.

Sir Donald Smith, president of the Bank of Montreal, who has just returned to Montreal from England, referring to the proposed Atlantic service, said that Mr. Huddart is an energetic, earnest man, and he is doing everything that possibly can be done to push the scheme through to a satisfactory conclusion; but at present the money market is against him.

At the Civil Assize Court, Toronto, judgment was given in favour of John Inglis, of the firm of Inglis & Sons, and against Alderman Edward Hewitt and A. T. Johnston, Toronto, for the refunding of $1,000 paid to the defendants for their influence, as was alleged, in securing a contract for the plaintiff, which contract they failed to secure.

On Tuesday Judge McDougall reported to the Toronto City Council that as a result of his investigation into alleged corrupt practices between certain aldermen and contractors he had found Alderman Stewart had been on two occasions wilfully guilty of corruptly soliciting a bribe of money from the manager of a corporation which had put in a tender for a civic contract.

The Berlin Board of Health has issued an order requiring that all fresh meat exposed for sale in the town by persons not resident shall be exposed on the market place for a period not less than fifteen minutes for the purpose of inspection. Also that all persons not residing in the municipality offering or exposing beef for sale within the municipality shall produce head and lungs.

At Hamilton Police Court on Saturday last John Tompkins, a private in C Company, 13th Battalion, was charged with neglecting to attend drill on October 31, November 2, 5 and 6. Capt. Zealand said he had much trouble with Tompkins, who would neither attend drill nor send in his clothes. He asked that defendant be fined for two of the charges only, and the magistrate fined Tompkins $10 or 40 days in jail.

The Erin Village Council have presented W. H. Travis, the man who captured Chattele, with a suitably worded address, accompanied with a recommendation that steps be taken towards securing him a permanent position on the police force or in the employ of the Government, railway or express companies. Mr. Travis's bravery, as well as his service to the country, in capturing the murderer of Jessie Keith, is deserving of public recognition. The council of Listowel and citizens generally should lend their aid in promoting any movement having that object in view.

Mr. Justice Ferguson had a novel experience at Trenton, on Nov. 10. He was returning from Napanee to Toronto on a return ticket. He gave the latter up before he reached Trenton and received no check to show that he had paid, the conductor on the train evidently being able to remember him. There was a heavy load of excursionists aboard and the train was divided. Justice Ferguson got on the one which had the new conductor, and the latter demanded his ticket. His Lordship was told he would have to pay when he could produce no ticket. He would not pay and was ordered off the train. He got off at Trenton and stayed at the station. He telegraphed to Toronto, and was allowed to come on free next morning. The mistake has caused much consternation in Grand Trunk circles.

A dastardly attempt was made last Sunday night to wreck the Erie express at Strathroy. The miscreants wedged coupling pins in the switch just east of the town, and had the train struck the obstruction it most surely would have been wrecked, with perhaps loss of life. The would-be wreckers, two in number, were seen and identified by some boys while at work, and ran away. Word was sent to the station and men were despatched to the scene and restored the track to a condition of safety. G.T.R. Detective Logan went to Strathroy next morning armed with a description of the men and soon had them in custody. Their names are Fife and Johnson, and they are about 20 years of age. They admit their guilt, but plead that they were under the influence of liquor at the time. They were committed to jail.

There was much interest in the trial of James Beatty at Brandon on Friday last, all the parties concerned being well known. On the evening of July 18 last Beatty shot his wife Roberta, while she was in the company of W. H. Greer. Beatty, who is an old man, then admitted that he shot his wife, and justified himself on the ground that he was driven to distraction by the conduct of his wife, who, he said, lived in open, notorious adultery with Greer. Both Greer and Mrs. Beatty swore in the box to-day that there was nothing improper in their dealings with one another. Beatty gave evidence on his own behalf. He confessed to shooting his wife, but said that the thoughts of the conduct of his wayward wife so prayed upon his mind that he could not resist doing the deed; that he had no thought of killing, but sought only to scare her. The jury were only out a few minutes, when they returned with a verdict of "Not guilty," on the ground that the prisoner did the shooting under a "specific delusion."

Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Finance, returned to Ottawa on Monday morning from England, where he was floating the new Dominion loan. Being interviewed, he expressed his satisfaction with the loan, and in doing so also took occasion to say that he found an increasing interest being taken in England in Canadian affairs each time that he went there. The knowledge of Canada to-day was very much greater now than a few years ago. He says that he saw Lord Jersey's report of the Intercolonial Conference, and that it will be favorable to Canada and the colonies interested. Asked as to the fast steamship line, Mr. Foster replied that Mr. Huddart was pushing the scheme with great energy, and expresses strong hopes that he will succeed in his enterprise. Mr. Foster, who came by way of New York, says that it has many advantages compared with a quick Canadian route. The present, Mr. Foster says, is a very unpropitious time for floating airy schemes on the London money market; nothing but first-class security will satisfy those who have money to lend, and there is lots of it. The Minister is very much improved in health since he left here.

The Democratic defeat has been more marked among the leaders than in the rank and file of Congressional representation. Among the leaders defeated the most familiar name in Canada is that of Congressman Wilson, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; Mr. Bland, Chairman of the Coinage Committee; Mr. Springer, Chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee; Mr. Sayers, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, are among the defeated. Mr. Bourke Cockran, New York's famous orator, did not secure a nomination. Tom L. Johnson of Ohio, the enthusiastic leader of the radical free traders, has also suffered defeat. And in all the important committees, among names less familiar in Canada, the reverses have been greatest among the most prominent.

The first news of the scientific expedition headed by Dr. Donaldson Smith, of Philadelphia, which started in June last to explore the unknown region between 200 miles west of Berbera, the chief town of that portion of Africa, and Lake Rudolph, where traces of ancient civilization are believed to exist, has been received at London. Dr. Smith, it appears, shortly after his arrival at Berbera, succeeded in forming a caravan of 110 camels, and, accompanied by two Englishmen, early in September reached a large stream believed to be the Erer. The expedition was greatly delayed after beginning its march, owing to the defects which were discovered in the transport arrangements. Dr. Smith and his party explored the unknown country west of Milmil and surveyed several rivers, during the progress of this work Dr. Smith had a narrow escape from death or serious injuries by being charged by a rhinoceros. The country explored is described as being full of interest. All the members of the party are in good health.

THIS

Is a clothing advertisement. It tells about suits and overcoats, about a man in the parade, and it also talks about some wonderful values, how a man had a fit, and where he got it. The price of the suits and overcoats

IS

$4.00. The suits are in good dark cassimere, they are well made, have good linings, coats cut long, and they'll wear longer (than you expect.) They're in all regular sizes. The overcoats at $4.00 are

brown and a gray fall overcoat. They're pretty good garments, made up by a man who expected to get more than four dollars for them, at wholesale, but he didn't, bought by a buyer who had money to buy them The first man who bought one will be a

in to-day's parade. He bought it because he said he saw one just like it where he used to trade, and they wanted six fifty for it. He imagined it would be cold to-day, as he wears a sort of mother or father hubbard, and he wanted an overcoat that would be "out of sight" under his costume, and still be out of sight as an overcoat, and no house in the could fix him up quite so well as we could. He pretty near had a fit when he first learned the price, and when he found his size he had a perfect one. Do you need a fall overcoat? We've got a silk and wool mixed one that'll fit you. It's just $6.50. Look at it.
