FORREST-LINDSAY.—A very pretty wedding took place in Christ Church, Omagh, on Wednesday of last week, the contracting parties being John D.
Forrest, of Trafalgar, and Miss Lindsay, only daughter of David Lindsay, Esq., Hornby. As the bride entered the church the hymn "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden" was nicely sung.
The impressive marriage service of the Church of England was then proceeded with by the Rev. P. T. Mignot, rector of the parish. W. J. Forrest, of Milton, acted as best man, and Miss McCann, of Toronto, as bridesmaid. As the party left the church, Miss Mignot, who presided at the organ, played the Wedding March. A recherche breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. Frank Lindsay. The presents to the bride were numerous, costing over $100, showing the high esteem held for the bride by her many friends and relatives. The happy couple left Milton by the evening train to spend their honeymoon in Hagersville and other places.

THE BROWN PATTI.—Last week's Saturday Night said: We were pleased to devote a portion of our space to Melba; this week the Brown Patti, Madame Selika, claims it by right of merit. Accompanied by Voloska, the celebrated baritone, from the South Sea Islands, she is appearing to numerous successes throughout the province.
Madame Selika studied with the most renowned masters of America before going abroad and made her début in England, under the powerful introduction of the late James Russell Lowell, who named her "The Majestic Queen of Staccato;" assisted by such artistes as Madame Carlotta Patti, Madame Evans-Warwick, Mr. Joseph Lynde, Signor Vogara and others. In London, Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg and a host of other cities of the Old World, thousands flocked to hear her sing. On her second European trip she was accompanied by Volosko, who increased the fame of the concerts given by these celebrated artistes. This is the first visit of the Brown Patti to Canada, and we welcome with delight the handsome and interesting Creole, who has made all Europe ring with her praise.
Signor Volosko is a magnificent type of the South Sea Islander. He has traveled extensively, speaks five languages fluently, and only when his powerful heroic voice fills an auditorium can his standard of excellence be grasped. In duet work they excel, singing popular and classical music, scenes from operas, etc. Their Canadian successes have far surpassed the most sanguine expectations and we wish this leading musical combination a most happy time during their short sojourn with us.
NOTE.—The above combination will be in Milton on Christmas eve.

PETER S. J. LYTKEN, for fifteen years a resident of this county, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph, on Sunday evening. He was a native of Denmark, and served for some years in the army there. He was employed at the Dominion Cordovan Tannery here, first by Chas. Knees and latterly by Hoff & Roedler. His remains were brought here on Monday evening by Mr. Knees and the funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, the local lodge of Orangemen taking part in the ceremonies. The fact that the deceased was an Orangeman was known to the nuns who manage St. Joseph's Hospital, but it made no difference to the good sisters, who nursed him as faithfully as if he had been a Roman Catholic, showing a good example in the way of tolerance to some Protestants. Peter had a great many friends in Milton and the news of his death was received here with sincere regret.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY BARGAIN DAYS a grand success. Low prices make business brisk. This week we will continue to make things lively by giving the following bargains in dry-goods: 2 pairs Men's Wool Sox 25c, Heavy Grey Flannel 16c, better quality 20c, Men's Shirts and Drawers $1 suit up, Men's Gloves and Mitts at reduced prices, Men's Sealette Caps $1 and $1 25, worth $1 25 and $1 50. Big reduction in Flannel and Colored Shirts. A few of those $2 50 Hats left, going for $1 50. Factory and White Cottons all reduced. Cheap Blankets, Sheetings, Towelings, Table Linen, at bargain prices, for cash, at Bastedo's. 24-2t

The charges of corruption against Mayor Aubry and Ald. Boult, of Hull, continue to cause great excitement. It is not expected that the case will be ready for trial until the January term of the Superior Court.

The disastrous fire in Winnipeg the other day is regarded by the local papers as evidence of an inefficient fire service. One paper declares there is an immediate necessity for organizing a proper fire brigade.

Advance proofs of the Ontario crop report, the last of the year, issued by the Ontario Bureau of Industries, show that the falling off of the field crops was attributable to drought. The dairy branch of agriculture is reported as more than holding its own.

Archbishop Fabre, of Montreal, does not think Roman Catholics should subscribe to erect a monument to Chevalier, the rebel of 1837. The church authorities in Quebec have always been opposed to secretism, and this, at least in the matter of subscribing to a monument to all appearances, is all right.

Her back was broken and she will probably die.

In searching for a missing will in Washington, the Registrar of Wills found an autograph letter of General Washington, in excellent condition, and written in that clear hand for which he was noted. It bears the date of Nov. 16, 1791, and concerns the selection of Richard Harrison as Auditor of the Treasury.

In New Haven, Conn., there are 42 cases of typhoid fever. Many of the people who are ill attended a society dinner, at which raw oysters were served, and it is believed the unusually large number of cases are traceable to these oysters, which are thought to have been fattened in water through which sewage flows.

The embargo on Canadian cattle has become a factor in British politics. The London Chronicle says it was one of the causes of the Ministerial defeat in Forfarshire on Saturday, and adds that Sir Charles Tupper's recent speech to the Forfarshire farmers will not tend to make his popularity with the British Government any greater.

Dr. P. H. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Health Department, has received from the Pasteur Institute, New York, four bottles of anti-toxic serum for the treatment of diphtheritic patients. The contents of one bottle are sufficient for one ordinary case of pronounced diphtheria, but the same quantity of the specific will render immune at least ten persons in danger of contracting the disease. The letter accompanying the consignment described in detail the method of injecting the specific, an operation which is said to be painless, and steps will at once be taken by the department to test the efficacy of the treatment.

The new and important industry established by the Collingwood Meat-Curing Company will commence operations next week. Already a number of Danes have arrived, and are quartered on the company's premises for the present, to start work at curing just as soon as the first hogs are killed. The capacity is about 1,000 hogs per day, and for the killing and dressing of bullocks, one every five minutes. Several buyers have been sent out by the company to purchase all the suitable hogs and cattle they can find. The establishment of this enterprise will prove of incalculable value to the town and to the farmers for several counties around.

A curious case came up before Magistrate Jelfs at the Hamilton Police Court on Monday morning. There has been a feud between the McKelveys and the Baxters for some time, the last act in which was the injury inflicted by James McKelvey on a valuable St. Bernard dog belonging to Andrew Baxter, grocer. The evidence went to show that McKelvey had thrown vitriol or some other acid on the dog's back, which the animal had got into his mouth while trying to lick it off. The dog's back was badly burned, the muscles being eaten away in some places. The Magistrate apparently regarded the offence as a most serious one, for he fined McKelvey $50 or two months in gaol.
