MR. FEATHERSTON, M.P., is still in the Ottawa district buying hay. His first purchase was a large one, and was sold chiefly at the cattle market in Toronto and yielded a good profit. Up to date he has purchased over 4,000 tons. At first he got it for $9 a ton, but his own operations put up the price to $10 a ton. While the hay crop was a failure from Cornwall to Sarnia, it was a plentiful one in the Ottawa Valley, where there was lots of rain. The present price of hay in Western Ontario is understood to be $14.—Brampton Conservator.

If you have not had the pleasure of doing business at his store, give him a call, you will be more than pleased.

THE RESULT OF A SCRAP.—On Monday afternoon Geo. Burns and Hugh Cotter had a few words over a certain point which led into an animated argument. Then came blows and the blows led to Magistrate Foster's court. Cotter laid a charge of assault, and Burns a countercharge of insult. After hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses the magistrate decided both were at fault and fined them $4 each and costs. T. J. C. Green appeared for Cotter and F. A. Kerns, B.A., for Burns.—Burlington Record.

POPULAR PRICES have won fame and prosperity for H. Spencer Case, Druggist, No. 50 King st., w., Hamilton. You can buy $2 worth of goods for $1 at his store. He sells everything at prices the lowest, and only the very best of quality in everything. His goods are always the freshest, and he keeps everything up to date. THE OLDEST RESIDENT GONE.—On Sunday evening last, Maurice Murphy, an old and respected resident of Burlington, was called to his reward, in the 78th year of his age. Mr. Murphy was, perhaps, the oldest resident in this vicinity, having resided here permanently for forty-nine years. He was a native of Limerick, Ireland. To mourn his departure he leaves four sons and one daughter. One of his sons is connected with the Adams Express Co. of Nashville, Tenn., another is in Cincinatti and two are resident here. His daughter is Mrs. J. C. Campbell. The funeral took place yesterday at 2.30 o'clock to Rockbay cemetery and was largely attended.—Burlington Record.

He sells all kinds of Patent Medicines, Drugs, Toilet Articles, Perfumery, etc., at prices lower than any other drug store, and credit is due him in reducing the price of most articles. It is no wonder the public appreciate his style of selling everything at prices to suit the times and only sells the best quality of anything and everything. He offers to refund the money at all times if anything is unsatisfactory. Give him a call. He deserves to be well patronized.
