MASONIC GRAND LODGE.—At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. & A. M., at Toronto, last week, M. W. Bro. E. T. Malone, of Toronto, was elected Grand Master, and R. W. Bro. A. T. Freed, of Hamilton, D.D.G.M. of the Hamilton district.

INHALED PARIS GREEN.—John Webb, on the 1st line, Erin, had a very sick spell the other night, caused by inhaling paris green while mixing a dose for potatoes. The family were very much alarmed for a time, but he is now all right again.—Guelph Mercury.

J. W. ALBERSON, of Clarkson, was cutting wheat alongside the railroad track the other day. At dinner time he left the binder standing quite close to the track, and before he got back from dinner a spark from a passing engine set fire to the machine and it was totally destroyed.—Conservator.

EAST END MEAT MARKET.—Attention is directed to the following announcement of F. Wales of the East End meat market, that he is prepared to supply prime fresh meat by the quarter or in large or small quantities at special terms for cash. Mr. Wales is an old established business. It is always his aim to supply meats at moderate prices for cash. 30-1y

A POSTOFFICE CIRCULAR.—R. M. Coulter, Deputy Postmaster-General, has issued a notice to the public emphasizing the importance of putting the name and address of the sender of any mail matter in the upper left hand corner of the envelope, or wrapper, and pointing out that by this means the returning of undelivered articles or communications will be greatly facilitated.

THE Rev. W. E. White, rector of Grace Church, has gone on a trip to New Brunswick, where he will be the guest for a short time of the Hon. Attorney General White, of St. John. During his absence C. A. Heaven, M.A., of Trinity University, will take duty at Grace Church as lay reader, and the Rev. J. Hughes Jones, rector of Streetsville, will do the necessaay pastoral work.

THE harvest in this locality is progressing very rapidly, and a number of farmers have threshed, those in the vicinity of the town who threshed to make room for balance of crop being John B. Scott, Geo. Anderson and Geo. Denoon.

THE thunderstorm on Monday was light in this vicinity, but was very heavy throughout Nassagaweya. Wm. Thomas of that township had 24 pure-bred Cotswolds, valuable animals, killed by lightning. Ten of them were spring lambs and fourteen ewes. The animals were lying under a large elm tree near a creek. The tree was struck and shattered to atoms, and the sheep were instantly killed. They are insured in the Halton Mutual.

STONE! STONE! STONE!—Having leased for a term of years the freestone quarry on J. B. Scott's farm, near the gold mine fish pond, Milton, I am prepared to sell all kinds of freestone, dressed or undressed, window sills, steps, corners, flagging, etc. All kinds of bridge work tendered for. By selling at reasonable prices I hope to receive a share of your patronage.—CHARLES HUGHES; residence, near the public school, Milton. 37-1y

LACROSSE.—At Georgetown the Ætnas were playing in winning form when they met the Athletics of St. Catharines Saturday in a championship match and defeated them by 6 goals to 2. The game was a beautiful one to watch, both teams playing splendid lacrosse. Georgetown won the first, second, third, fifth, seventh and eighth goals in 10, 7, 9, 4, 8 and 7 minutes; St. Kits won the fourth and sixth goals in 14 and 3 minutes. J. D. Bailey of Toronto was referee.

THE OLD MEN OFTEN EXCEL THEIR JUNIORS.—The energy of some of our elderly men is remarkable and is frequently manifested. On Monday ex-Warden John Warren followed the binder all day on his farm and shocked wheat from six in the morning until six in the evening. Mr. Warren has always been an active farmer, and notwithstanding that on the 9th of this month he celebrated his 78rd birthday, he was able to accomplish the big day's work referred to, and was ready for another next morning.—Acton Free Press.

ON Saturday afternoon Detective Davis of Toronto went up to Oakville to bring back a wheel which a bicycle thief some months ago stole from Thos. Foster, a Toronto traveller for a brewery, and had buried near Postville. It had been found by Mrs. Cavin, of Oakville, who advertised for the owner without finding him. Later on Foster found where his wheel was, but the lady, not being in possession of any facts proving his title thereto, was reluctant to give it up. Detective Davis, after explaining matters, had no difficulty in getting Mr. Foster his wheel.

THE altar to temperance erected by the W. C. T. U. on Queen st., at the corner, has been dreadfully desecrated. On Wednesday evening a gang of the boys persuaded a west side farmer, who was driving home with an eight-gallon keg of lager in his buggy, to halt and converse with them. The jolly farmer was further persuaded to permit the keg being tapped. Right there on sanctified ground, with the keg straddling the water trough, did these sons of Belial make merry, and the measure of their drink, horrible to relate, was the cast-iron mug chained to the W. C. T. U. altar.—Brampton Banner.

MRS. MAHAFFY, wife of Rev. A. Mahaffy, Presbyterian minister of Milton, passed away on Saturday morning, the 23rd inst., after a long illness. Her loss will be greatly felt by the congregation and other members of the community, whose heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved pastor and family. The high esteem in which the deceased was held was shown by the large attendance at the funeral services in Knox Church on Monday morning, which were conducted by Rev. D. G. Cameron, of Strabane, assisted by Rev. D. W. Snider, Rev. Mr. Tough and Rev. Mr. Lindsey, of Toronto. From the church the funeral proceeded to the C. P. R. station and from there to Norwood, where it was met by a large number of friends and relatives. Short services were again held in the Presbyterian Church, and from there the funeral proceeded to the cemetery, where the interment took place. The funeral was conducted by Undertakers Jones and Johnston, the latter accompanying the remains to Norwood.

TOM MCDOWELL, of Buffalo, is home on a visit.

THE G. T. R. station at Freeman has been moved close to the public drive road.

MISSES Jessie and Barbara Elliot left on Friday of last week for a trip up the lakes.

MISS Muriel Dalton has gone to Toronto on a visit to her aunts, Lady Wilson and Mrs. Alfred Morson.

MILTON'S civic holiday will likely be Aug. 9th, when the Royal Templars intend running an excursion to Niagara Falls.

MASTER Roy Bradley has returned from Buffalo with his cousins, Misses Genevieve and Blanche Sloane, of Niagara st.

JAS. COUTER'S bulldog "Jerry" got hold of some poison on Monday that had been set for rats and was found dead shortly afterwards.

A fine shipment of stock by C. P. R. was made on Monday—36 fat cattle, 20 calves, 20 sheep and 160 hogs—John Featherston being the shipper.

S. ZIMMERMAN, dentist, of Hamilton, will be at Mrs. John White's for the balance of the week. If you have a plate that don't suit you, the contour and natural appearance of the mouth can be restored. Satisfaction or no pay. Call and consult, free.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening as Thomas Gamble, aged 19, employed in John Somerville's sash and door factory, was putting a belt into position it caught him and whirled him around a rapidly revolving shaft. His head struck a joist at every revolution. Geo. Stagg, a fellow employe, seeing the accident, shut down the engine as quickly as possible and released Gamble from his position. Gamble was insensible up to yesterday morning, but is now conscious and will likely recover. His head is frightfully bruised and one of his knees is badly injured, but with all that we hope to see the poor boy about again in the course of a few weeks, as he is receiving the best of care.

THERE was a mild sensation in the south ward one night this week, which has furnished a toothsome topic for gossip among the residents of the ward. It appears a rather demure and somewhat fascinating widow of uncertain age called upon a respectable and highly esteemed widower at about 11 o'clock, after the latter had retired. After repeated knocks the gentleman descended in his dreaming robe and inquired who thus ruthlessly disturbed him at this unseasonable hour. "Come outside here, I want to see you," demanded the fair one. "I cannot. I am not properly attired to receive ladies," replied the gentleman. Finally, however, he mustered up sufficient courage to face the intruder and inquired the cause of this untimely visit. Pointing a revolver at the man, she said, "Do you see this? I'll teach you to slight me," but the gentleman had retired so expeditiously that the bombardment was deferred and finally she was taken away by some one of her relations. The woman it is believed is temporarily demented and will likely be taken care of by her friends. The local police were notified but no action taken.—Brampton Times.

A BABY LOST AND FOUND.—Last Friday evening while the family of John Stewart of the second line were busy with the usual evening duties about the farm, the little 3 year-old daughter wandered away from the home, and when the parents realized her absence was nowhere to be found. Diligent search was made for the little one in every conceivable and unlikely place about the farm without success. The neighbors were then notified, and searching parties traversed the woods and fields during the entire night, the feelings of the agonized parents growing more and more intense as the hours passed and the child could not be found. About nine o'clock Saturday morning as Mrs. David Carty was searching through the swamp on Donald McCarthy's place, adjoining Mr. Stewart's farm, she came across the dear little lost daughter of her despairing neighbors, lying fast asleep beside a brush heap, totally oblivious of the agony of spirit her absence was causing. She hurried to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart with her precious burden, and, it is needless to say, there was unbounded joy and gratitude in their hearts when the little one was restored none the worse for her perilous adventure.—Acton Free Press.

THE NEW LANDLORD SERENADED.—Mr. Bennett, the new proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, was serenaded by the Preston Musical Society Band last evening. About 10 o'clock, after rendering a choice programme, the boys were invited to the dining room, where a banquet awaited them. The tables were tastefully decorated with roses and were fairly loaded with good things, which the popular host of the house had provided regardless of expense. After the spread had been duly disposed of Jacob Werlich, who, by the way, is an old band boy, arose and on behalf of the band moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Bennett for the kind hospitality of the evening. The motion was seconded by Thos. Arntfield, The Reporter's representative, who made a few appropriate remarks, and concluded by requesting all present to join him in singing "Bennett's a jolly good fellow," which was done with enthusiasm. Mr. Bennett replied in a pleasing manner, showing himself to be possessed of considerable ability as an after dinner speaker. He thanked the band very much on behalf of Mrs. Bennett and himself for the serenade, and expressed his pleasure at having them as his guests for the time being. The speaker's remarks were greeted by a burst of applause. Ben Brown, leader of the band, also made a few remarks, which brought to a close a very pleasant evening.—Galt Reporter, July 20th.

BRANCH

Woolen Mills.

The undersigned, proprietors of the Speedsville Woolen Mills, Preston, Ont., have decided to make our old mill at Campbellville a branch of the above establishment, to take in wool and exchange our pure woolens, yarns, blankets, sheeting and horse blankets, which will be the best that wool can make.

We shall have a stock of our goods held there during the season. We will also take your wool and make it up into anything you may desire, yarns, rolls, bats, sheeting or blankets.

We can give more for your wool than any dealer can afford to give. As wool is going to rule low, make it up for your own use, and be wise.

TOLD BY THE CIRCUS MAN.

A Little Trick of the Clowns That Used to Please the People Mightily.

"Some of the feats and tricks of one sort and another performed in shows that look so wonderful," said the old circus man, "are really as simple as rolling off a log if you only know how they are done. We used to have a clown at one time who was also a very good acrobat, and he was humorous in his antics as well as in his speech, and everybody liked him. He always wore a black mustache, with the ends neatly waxed and corkscrewed, and one of the funniest things he did depended for its success on these waxed ends of his mustache.

"After an unusually intricate piece of foolery that called for a good deal of exertion he would pause, panting, in the ring and turn to the ringmaster.

"'Well, I'd give a dollar and a quarter,' he would say to the ringmaster, 'for a bottle of soda water.'

"'Why, you shall have a bottle for nothing,' the ringmaster says, and he sends a groom for a bottle of soda water, who comes back in a minute with a bottle and a glass on a tray.

"'But where's the corkscrew?' the clown asks, picking up the bottle and holding it up clear of the tray and looking all around on it. 'There's no corkscrew.'

"'What's the matter with your mustache for a corkscrew?' says the ringmaster, the whole audience looking on perfectly still, and before you could think the clown would swing the bottle up with the cork against the point of one end of his mustache—he'd practiced that so that he never missed it—and drive it on to the point and then in almost the same motion—there was never any halt in the action from the beginning to the end of the whole thing—he'd begin turning the bottle on to his mustache until the point was buried in the cork, and then he'd give the bottle a yank and pull it free and carry it to his lips and drink, leaving the cork impaled on the end of his mustache. He'd drink half the soda water, toss the bottle at the ringmaster, have the cork off his mustache in a jiffy and toss that at the groom, standing there waiting with the tray, and then turn a cart wheel while the whole audience doubled up with laughter. Why, it used to tickle 'em half to death.

"And it was all done in the simplest, easiest way in the world. The two waxed ends were really two corkscrew tips projecting out beyond his mustache and joining under it in a good stout holder firmly held between the teeth."—New York Sun.

HOW TO KEEP GOLDFISH.

A Few Necessary Rules For Preserving the Pretty Water Pets.

It is remarkable how seldom people are able to keep goldfish for more than a month or two at most and all because they neglect a few first principles. Goldfish ran be kept almost any length of time, accidents apart, if kept scrupulously clean. The air in the water is soon exhausted, and they should have fresh water every day; if possible, oftener in summer, though once will do if the globe is fairly large.

One can usually tell when the fish are needing water. They stand up on their tails, with their mouths to the surface of the water, and move slowly in that position, generally making a bubbling sound. When you put the fresh water into the globe, let it dash in from a height, so that plenty of air gets in, too, and let your fish have a handful of shells or small stones. They look pretty, and the fish appreciate being able to poke about among them for bits of food, and it gives them something to do and a little interest in life. People frequently make the mistake of thinking that the fish get enough food out of the water. This is not so. They need feeding when in captivity. Packets of fishes' food, chiefly consisting of dried ants' eggs, can be procured from any seed or naturalists' shop. As they require only a very small quantity once a day, their board is not expensive. They will live on vermicelli, but this clouds the water, and consequently injures the appearance of the globe.

It is said that goldfish should never be handled. This is no doubt true if they are kept for breeding purposes. Otherwise it does them no harm—if due care is exercised—and you may pick them up one by one in your hand and pop them into the globe of fresh water.

Never buy a fish unless the fins are erect and fully spread. Directly the fish is out of health the fins close more and more until it dies, when they are quite shut up against the body.—Cleveland Leader.

Luminous Paint.

Luminous paint has so many uses that expert and amateur alike are interested in everything new concerning it. Most of these self lighting colors are made of barium sulphide or calcium sulphide. A luminant which is highly spoken of is made of calcium tungstate. To prepare this put into a Hessian crucible 30 parts calcium chloride, 30 parts sodium tungstate and 30 parts sodium chloride, which have been well mixed. Keep it at a red heat for several hours. The heat breaks down the mass, which becomes a vitreous paste. After cooling and breaking up the mixture is thoroughly washed with water. Fine crystals of calcium tungstate remain after this process. A coating of strong glue is put over the surface which it is desired to cover, and the crystals are thickly strewn over the glue, which, hardening, holds them firmly in place. This is said to be by far the most brilliant self luminant extant.—New York Ledger.

A Gladstone Bull.

Mr. Gladstone dearly loved a joke, even at his own expense, and he possessed considerable mimetic powers. He was once guilty of an amusing bull in a debate on the question of disestablishment. Dilating on the hold held on the affections of the people by the Church of England he said: "When an Englishman wants to get married, to whom does he go? To the parish priest. When he wants his child baptized, to whom does he go? To the parish priest. When he wants to get buried, to whom does he go?"

The house answered with a roar of laughter, in which Mr. Gladstone himself joined, adding, "As I was contrasting the English church with the Irish, a bull is perhaps excusable."

Unfailing.

If a man wants to have a particularly fine meal, let him inform his wife that he will bring up some old sweetheart of hers to dinner. Nothing so inspires a woman to her best effort as to make an old sweetheart regret that he was not more active.—Atchison Globe.

Combined Forces.

"I thought you said the boy couldn't whip you, Willie."

"Well, he couldn't alone, but he and his brother mobilized and then they had me."—Chicago Post.

Eli Scratch of Kingsville, one of the largest fruit growers in Western Ontario had 800 peach trees blown down by a cyclone.

A deaf and dumb pedlar from Weston named George Allan was run down by an express train near Bolton on Tuesday and was killed.
