The barns and contents, with all this year's crops, as well as some old grain, were consumed, along with agricultural implements. Loss $4,000, with insurance of $1,500 in the Peel Farmers' Mutual. The fire was caused by friction, the knife of the chopping machine which was being operated fitted too closely, with the result that sparks were produced. The chopper had on a blower attachment, and the sparks igniting the cut straw a stream of flame issued from the mouth of the blower. The men in the mow had a narrow escape from being burned to death.

A game in the Hamilton District Association Football league series was played at Kilbride on Saturday between the Ontario Normal College and Kilbride. The collge men got the choice of goals and kicked with the wind. During the first half the Kilbride defense was kept busy, but managed to prevent the college from scoring, and at the end of half-time the score was nil. On changing ends the home team began to play faster, and after repeated rushes scored in about ten minutes from half time. In a few minutes more the ball was again passed through the college goal, but owing to a foul having been made just previously the goal was disallowed. The college men made some strong attempts to score, and were decidedly close a number of times, but were unsuccessful, the score at the end of time standing, Kilbride 1, Ontario Normal College 0. The game throughout was a good lively exhibition of ball, entirely free from disputes or dirty playing, but both teams showed a decided lack of practise. Waterdown defeated Hamilton club at the former village on Saturday with a score of 3 to 2. Kilbride vs. Hamilton at Kilbride on Saturday next.

A TYPICAL HORSE.—Andrew Little, of Georgetown, has brought to Ontario the Percheron stallion, Sadi II., registered No. 20453, dark dappled grey, with long flowing dark grey mane and tail, weighing 1700 lbs. in light condition, foaled Sept. 26, 1892. Sadi II. is from the farm of Robt. Burgess & Son, Winona, Ill., and his past record is unsurpassed. Too much cannot be said in this horse's favor. The keenest horsemen have been unable to fault him. He is an impressive looker, stout build, actionary, upheaded, high spirited and gentle. A child 10 years of age can drive him safely through the streets. This class of horses is in much greater demand than the Shire and the Clydesdale in the English and American markets. Intending purchasers can inspect this horse at the Wallace House, Milton, on Saturday, 27th Oct., and after.

No tidings have been received of John Gillam and his son Howard, the Bronte fishermen, who were reported to have been lost during the gale on Tuesday of last week. The New Era says: The crew of the Velvetena report that the Mamie seemed to make the turn all right on the return trip and they being busy with their shifting sails did not look back continuously. Before they had gone far, however, the Mamie had vanished completely, leaving no sign behind. It is feared the sails were out of proportion for the yacht in such a heavy gale. Her owner, Wm. Sargent, said no more careful sailor lived in Bronte than Mr. Gillam, sr. Both men leave wives with families. The yacht Bertie is said to have had a close shave from going under. Fourteen years ago the 1st of December next Byron and Willie Dorland lost their lives in a similar manner.

Some excitement was caused on Sunday morning when word came in that a man supposed to have been injured by a train was lying alongside the track of the C.P.R., about half a mile east of the town. Chief Constable Bradley, accompanied by two assistants and followed by a score or more boys and men went out to the place indicated and found a little colored man so stiffened with cold that he could not stand on his legs nor give an account of himself. After being examined by a doctor he was driven to the jail. The man was brought before the mayor on Monday and fined $1 and costs. He gave his name as George Clayton and said he lived above Campbellville. George came to town on Saturday, got full, lost his way and slept over night in the ditch where he was found. The nigger and the chicken is a standing joke, but this fellow really had a chicken in a grain bag, which he would not allow out of his sight.

OBITUARY.—The late Dr. W. S. Scott, of Saugeen, was a native of Esquesing, was born on the farm now occupied by his brother, Charles Scott. He was the first teacher in the old Ligny school, that was on the corner of the old Bowman farm. This was before the Board of Education was introduced. He also taught in the Waterloo school for a time. At that time he intended to prepare for the ministry and studied two sessions in Franklin College, Ohio. His health began to fail and he was advised to turn his attention to a profession where there would be less confinement, and he chose the medical profession. Mr. Scott studied one session in Toronto and finished his medical course at Queen's College, Kingston. He afterwards took a post-graduate course in New York, returned to Canada, started practice in Nassagaweya and was most successful; but a resident of Nassagaweya graduating at that time, thought he should have that field. Dr. Scott retired and settled in Saugeen (now Southampton) in 1855, and he continued there ever since. About seven or eight years ago he had a paralytic stroke, which incapacitated him for practice. As a physician, he was very successful. In his 34 or 35 years practise it is said he never lost a case of typhoid fever or a case of midwifery. The funeral was the largest ever seen in that neighborhood. It was conducted by the military. The coffin was wrapped in the colors of the regiment and was borne to the grave on a gun carriage drawn by four horses. The volunteers fired a salute over the grave. It is said there were over 3,000 people in attendance at the funeral, many hundreds of them walking to the cemetery (two miles) and back again. Deceased leaves three sons and two daughters, all residing in Southampton. He also leaves four brothers, David and Walter in Huron County and Charles and Peter in Halton, and one sister, Mrs. D. McColl, Esquesing.

An October Wedding.

Owen Sound Times, Oct. 18.

The residence of R. J. Hurry, Baker street, brother-in-law, was the scene of a very happy event on Wednesday at 11 a.m., when Alfred Bunt, second son of Wm. Bunt of Kemble, was united in marriage to Miss Laura Parsons of this town. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. H. T. Ferguson, of Westside Methodist Church, in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. The bride was given away by her brother, Edward Parsons. As the party entered the drawing-room Miss Edith Bunt played a wedding march. The bride was attired in her travelling gown, a dress of ripless pirele with blue silk waist and hat to match. The bridal boquet was a shower of cream carnations. The bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony the guests enjoyed a beautifully arranged wedding repast. The presents were expressive of the high esteem in which the bride is held, among these being a silver sugar urn from the members of the Y.M.C.A., which was suitably engraved. It was accompanied with a dozen silver spoons. Mr. Bunt was secretary of the local association for two years. Later he took a course of instruction at Lake Geneva, and is now secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at Ingersoll. Miss Parsons for several years held a position on the staff in W. R. McColl's drygoods house and is a general favorite among the young ladies of the town. Mr. and Mrs. Bunt left on the 2.25 G. T. R. train on Wednesday, amid a perfect shower of good wishes, rice and ancient slippers. They will visit London and other points, after which they will reside in Ingersoll.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Dickin and Thos. Parsons, Milton.

California's Latest Surprise.

Toronto Mail, Oct. 19.

Ruddy with the glow of health, and carrying his years as lightly as he did ten years ago, the Rev. Dr. Joseph Wild visited the city yesterday and will before going out to his farm at Bronte see many of his old friends. Dr. Wild, who has been for the past four years pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Los Angeles, California, retired on August 16th, after completing his 50th year in the ministry. Years ago the doctor decided that he would not hold a pastoral charge after his jubilee, and without telling anyone of his intention in advance he retired on the Sunday following the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. He is back now at his old homestead in Bronte, and while he will preach and lecture occasionally he will never again hold a settled charge.

Everybody out in Los Angeles is talking oil just now, and the recent discoveries, Dr. Wild thinks, will revolutionize industry on the Pacific coast, and result in the building up of huge manufacturing industries. Asphaltum oil, suitable only for fuel purposes, had been found in small quantities for some time, but some eighteen months ago there were great discoveries right in the city, and now Los Angeles has 1,300 oil wells. The first pure kerosene was discovered at Santa Fanto, four weeks ago, 90 miles to the north, and a number of the prominent members of Dr. Wild's church were heavily interested. Stock in the company that made the strike rose in a day from ten cents to $1 a share.

The economic importance of the discoveries lies in the fact that coal for manufacturing costs $20 a ton in California, and the fuel oil is sold for $1 a barrel, three barrels being equal to a ton of coal. The Santa Fe and other roads are now using oil fuel in their engines on the Pacific division, and in the end the oil fuel discoveries, if the supply lasts, will mean more for California than its goldfields.

Dr. Wild intended going to England to settle up the estate of his brother, Rev. Reuben Wild, who died in June last, but as he hesitates to brave an English winter, this matter has been postponed until next May.

It is proposed to construct a ship canal from Southampton to London. This would enable transatlantic ships to land passengers and freight in London many hours earlier than by any other route.

The oldest house in England stands near St. Alban's Abbey. It is octagonal in shape, and the walls of its lower story are of great thickness. It is 1,100 years old, and is still fit for habitation.
