WHAT'S IN A NAME?

It isn't a question of name that makes Dr. Binge's Compound Syrup of Horehound the favorite Cough and Cold Remedy.—It's the medicine itself. Results always tell. It cures.

As well as being such a grand curative agent, Syrup of Horehound is pleasant to take and only costs 25c. for a large bottle.

THE BEST PROOF

we can give of its merits is that its SALE is LARGER every year, showing that it cures and that its users know and appreciate the fact.

At the Provincial W. C. T. On Friday night last Lawrence Low passed away at his late residence in Burlington, aged about 50 years. About a weak ago Mr. Low was picking apples, and, losing his hold, he fell to the ground. At first it was not thought he was seriously hurt, but internal injuries proved fatal. He was a highly respected man, having run a blacksmith business in Burlington for a number of years. He was also a town councillor. He was at one time a resident of Milton, in the early 80's. He leaves a wife, two sons and four daughters. The eldest son is employed in the Traders' Bank, Burlington.

John Cudmore, who we reported in last issue as being very low with typhoid fever, died on Friday afternoon. Deceased was the third son of George Cudmore, gardener, Milton, and was in his 28th year. He spent the past two years in Manitoba and had been sick for some time before he started for home. When he arrived here little hope was held out for his recovery, although he received the best medical care and nursing. The family have our sympathy in their sad loss. His funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to Evergreen cemetery, Rev. Mr. Cooley conducting the funeral service.

On Monday early there arrived at the depot here from Adin, California, the remains of Benj. H. Dorland, encased in a metallic casket. It is reported that deceased died from a gunshot wound inflicted by an Indian in the mountains last spring. Mr. Dorland, on being shot, picked up his own rifle and tumbled the Indian off his charger in real cow-boy style. The feud grew out of a mining dispute in which the Canadian was worsted, and on refusing to pay costs was jailed. His companions, hearing of his imprisonment, broke jail and released him. A sheriff's posse, in which there were two Indians, located Mr. Dorland, with the above results.—Oakville New Era.

That Brampton Assault Case.

Brampton, Nov. 1.—An interesting case was disposed of at the Assizes here on Wednesday before Mr. Justice Street, when Frank Anthony was tried on the charge of assault, occasioning actual bodily harm. The complainant, T. J. Blain, is a well known legal practitioner here, where the defendant also resides. The facts, as established by the evidence, showed that on the night of the 10th of October last, the day of the Duke's reception, both the parties in question were passengers on a special train which left the Union Station, Toronto, at about 10 o'clock, and before the train had reached Parkdale the first of a series of assaults were committed by the prisoner upon the complainant, and before the train reached Streetsville these assaults had been twice repeated and were shown to be of a somewhat vicious and determined character. In order to prevent the prisoner from carrying out his threats, the complainant was advised by some of the passengers to leave the train at Streetsville, and this he did, taking his wife with him. The defendant was arrested the following morning on a warrant and committed to stand his trial. The evidence produced clearly established the fact of the commission of a series of assaults, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty of common assault. The learned Judge sentenced the prisoner to two months' imprisonment in the common jail, with hard labor, and directed that at the end of that time he should enter into a recognizance in the sum of $1,000 and two sureties of $500 each to keep the peace for one year, and that, failing to do this, he should serve an additional term of 10 months in the common jail with hard labor.
