Cured of Chronic Diarrhœa After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I can't say enough words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burger, of Martinsville Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhœa for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by Higginbotham & Field.

The cement people finished their work in Georgetown on Friday, and went at once to Fergus to construct quite a large section. The walks of the municipality on the most travelled streets are now in good condition. Some of the side streets, however, need looking after. The council is receiving numerous commendations for the great improvements to the town the walks have made.—Herald.

Warden Peacock and Mr. McGibbon appeared on behalf of the County Council, with J. W. Elliott, barrister, as counsel. D. O. Cameron, barrister, appeared for the High School Trustees. McCannell appeared for the congregation of Milton. Mr. Smith will preach his farewell sermon on July 10. The pulpit will be formally declared open on the Sunday following by Rev. W. M. Armstrong, Oakville, the yacht "Aggie" was placed at the disposal of the Chapter and a most enjoyable cruise up the lake to Burlington Beach and return was given. The party numbered about fifteen. Mr. Armstrong acted as skipper and was most ably assisted by Messrs. Oliver and Mariatt. Arrangements for the Missionary Conference and Sunday School Convention were placed under way and will be held in Acton in October.

Craig—Freeman.

The Pomona, Cal., Daily Progress, of the 29th ult., contained the following report of the wedding of a young lady who was born in Milton:

Miss Ina E. Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Freeman, of San Bernardino avenue, became the bride of George M. Craig this morning, the wedding ceremony taking place at the Episcopal Church at 8.30 o'clock. Rev. Henry L. Badger officiated, in the presence of a large number of invited friends and relatives of the bridal parties. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with an abundance of asparagus ferns, hydrangias and yucca blossoms. The bride and groom, entering from different directions, met at the front of the church and were ushered through the floral gateway by the flower maids, Margaret and Ruth Merriam, to the altar, where the ring ceremony was pronounced. The bride was attended by her father, and the groom by B. W. Hocker. The wedding march was played by Miss Winnie Smith. After the marriage the newly wedded couple left on the 9.10 train, presumably for the beaches. They will return on Friday and will make their home at the corner of Third and Rebecca streets. They were the recipients of a large number of handsome and valuable presents.

Barn Raising.

One of the most successful barn raisings that has taken place in Nelson came off on the farm of J. F. Richardson, township reeve, on Saturday last, when about 125 of Nelson's stalwart young men put his barn on its feet in a very short time. The contractor, John Hersey, deserves great credit for the way in which he handled the men. The building went together well, and no accidents happened, under the management of Captains George Coulson and Thos. Ramshaw, after which the whole company sat down to a bountiful supper supplied with all the delicacies of the season, including plenty of strawberries and cream. The ladies, to the number of 100, seemed to enjoy the afternoon's outing. Among those from a distance we noticed Mr. and Mrs. Flatt and Mrs. (Dr.) Davey, of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pettit, John and Miss Pettitt, Walter and Miss Alton, of Burlington, and Wm. Harbottle and Johnson Agnew, of Milton.—COM.

Patriotic Italian Dead.

Georgetown, Ont., July 2.—An old resident of this town died to-day at the patriarchal age of 76. Abel Tantardini was a native of Italy, and was born in the town of Introbio, Province of Lombardy. An ardent patriot, he fought side by side with Gen. Joseph Garibaldi in his struggle for Italian liberty, and later joined the foreign legion which took part in the Crimean War.

At the conclusion of peace, Abel was given his choice of the colonies, and, preferring Canada, arrived here about half a century ago. He acted as Italian interpreter in Toronto and later was employed at his trade as blacksmith by the Grand Trunk Railway. He was married, but was predeceased by his wife and son. The latter, a very promising lad, was unfortunately killed in a gun accident. Tantardini was highly respected in this district and was an active supporter of the Liberal party.

Don't Kill the Birds.

Wheatley Journal: Now that the holiday season is upon us, do not go into the woods and the meadows these beautiful days with a gun trying to kill everything you see alive. The little, harmless birds and animals are God's creatures and life is as sweet to them as it is to you. Rather take an opera glass or a kodak and look into the beauties which surround you everywhere. Make your drawings or take pictures of pretty scenes and the infinitely varied animal life. Study the wild flowers and the varied plant life. Get into closer touch with nature, and after a day so spent you will return home with a mind rested and free from care, conscious of the fact that your enjoyment has not meant pain and death to other living creatures. Your stock of knowledge will be increased, your appetite refreshed, and your body and mind in a fit state to receive nature's greatest blessing—a clear conscience and sound, sweet, refreshing sleep.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. Frank Riggs, of Franklinville, N.Y., in speaking of this remedy said: "I have found it expedient to have a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy on hand. It has been a family safeguard and while especially beneficial to children, it is equally good in adult cases. I recommend it cheerfully and without reservation." For sale by Higginbotham & Field.

Cannot Sell These Fish.

S. T. Bastedo, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries, calls attention to the fact that, under the new regulations, the sale of trout, bass and maskinonge is entirely prohibited. Heretofore sale was permitted if the dealer was able to show an invoice indicating that the fish had been imported from points outside the Province, but this privilege, Mr. Bastedo says, was abused, hence the total prohibition.

Canadian Giant Dead.

Winnipeg, July 4.—A St. Louis telegram received here announces the death at the World's Exhibition of Edward Beaupre, the young giant of Willow Bunch, Assa., who was well known throughout Western Canada. Beaupre was only 22 years old, was 8 feet 2½ inches tall, and weighed 578 pounds. His last wish was that his remains should be embalmed and placed on exhibition.

The Queer Man.

Of all forms of temper there is none more tiresome to deal with than that which is known as "queer." Down comes a bolt from the blue in the midst of apparent sunshine, and a sudden gloom and moroseness hide our friend completely from our view. An injured attitude is assumed, a martyr's halo carefully pinned on, and happy, everyday life becomes an impossibility. People who want to be loved or even liked should never be difficult. Society has not time, even if it had the inclination, to study their idiosyncrasies and play up to all their petty prejudices. The passionate and even the sulky temper is forgiven sooner than the difficult one and is perhaps more possible to cure.—Edith H. Fowler in London Mail.

Lovely Liverpool Lasses.

Can you or your readers give any explanation of the remarkably heavy percentage of splendidly handsome ladies to be seen in Liverpool's city thoroughfares? When I say handsome, I refer not only to facial beauty, but also to symmetry of form and perfect physique. Walk from the Central station via Lord street to, say, the Landing stage, any day in the week, and you will behold a phalanx of superb womanhood. I am a Manchester man by birth and sentiment, but I must confess our city can produce nothing to compare with Liverpool's battalions of tall, lovely girls.—St. James' Gazette.

To Tell if a Man Shaves Himself.

"I can tell in a minute simply by looking at a man whether he shaves himself or is shaved by a barber," said the wielder of the razor and brush. "No, it is n't a question of cleanliness nor yet a question of hacking the face. There is no reason why a man who is accustomed to shaving himself shouldn't make as clean a job of it as the average barber. And yet I can spot him every time. See that little lock of hair that grows down the side of the face just in front of the ear? Well, when a man is shaved by a barber those two locks don't vary in length more than a sixteenth of an inch. The man who shaves himself, on the other hand, is invariably lopsided. He always begins to shave higher up on the left side of the face than on the right side, as a consequence of which one side of the face looks longer than the other. No, I don't know that I can explain this phenomenon. I only know that the condition exists."

Died of Superstition.

Princess Likelike, daughter of Kapaaken and mother of Princess Kaiulani, died on Feb. 3, 1887. She had not been seriously ill, but a lava flow from the great volcano Kilauea, in Hawaii, which occurred a few days before her death was to her mind a sure sign that a chieftainess was required by the goddess Pele, that heartless old deity suggested to the children of nature in the ages of volcanic terrors. So firm were Likelike's convictions that the wrath of the furious Pele had to be appeased by her death that she lost heart and never rallied. The night before her death there was a halo around the moon, and when she saw it she abandoned all hope and speedily died. A few years afterward Likihiku heard that he was being prayed to death by an enemy, aided by a sorcerer, a deadly method of warfare, so he simply lay down and died of despair.
