The Canadian Champion

MILTON, Dec. 20, 1906.

The Divisional Court allowed the appeal of Dr. Alexander Chrichton from the ruling of the Medical Council striking his name from the roll of physicians. The Court condemns his conduct in connection with his alleged remedy, "Grippura," says he has violated proper decorum and forgotten modesty. The Court also says that there has not been proper inquiry into the case and that his name should be restored to the register without prejudice to the question whether, on further enquiry, there may not appear to be proper grounds for erasing it. The condemnation of the Medical Council by a number of newspapers has not been justified. Dr. Crichton was not allowed costs.

A Home Made Happy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors, but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well to-day. Geo. W. Sresel, Holly Springs, N. C. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always cures and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

The Regulations Affecting Agricultural and Horticultural Societies.

As the dates for the annual meetings of Agricultural and Horticultural Societies are near at hand, our readers will doubtless be interested in learning something of the laws that will govern the procedure of these organizations.

The new laws come into force on February 1st, 1907, but the next annual meeting of these organizations will be held on the dates fixed under the old act, viz. Horticultural and Township Societies on January 9th, and District Societies on January 16th, and the usual two weeks notice must be given in local newspapers together with bills posted in places of common resort.

In future societies will no longer be known as "District" and "Township," but every society in the Province will be placed on the same basis in regard to the receipt of its government grant, and will receive such grant in proportion to its expenditure for agricultural purposes during the past three years, as shown by their sworn annual statement to the Department of Agriculture. A definition of what may be considered "Expenditure for Agricultural Purposes" is given in the Act.

Societies will be known by the name and place where they hold their last annual exhibition unless they prefer some other, then the new name must be determined by the members thereof and approved by the Minister of Agriculture.

Under the new law it will not be permissible for Horticultural Societies either to compete for competition at exhibitions held under the rules of agricultural societies. These are intended to encourage home and school gardens, and the Act provides that the Minister may make such regulations as he deems necessary for carrying out the intention of the Act in this respect.

Under the new law it will not be necessary for Agricultural Societies to hold a second exhibition to secure a government grant, but they will be required to expend a sum equal to the government grant in order to secure it. In the future the grant will be based on the expenditure of societies, while in the past it was based on the receipts. We regret this as we believe it will discourage many societies from holding any exhibition at all, for it is easier for societies to secure receipts than to make expenditure. We believe the new system will work well. We are very well satisfied with the results obtained so far, but we do not wish them to stop, as we would like the Government to be prepared to go still further in the matter of the tariff as soon as it may appear expedient to do so.

Between the manufacturing Jack Horner, sticking in a plum pie, at Ottawa and the farmer, the agricultural Oliver Twist, asking for another helping of revision pudding, at the Capital, a Finance Minister's life is not a happy one. The result of it all will probably be the adoption of the tariff changes practically as introduced.

When to Go Home

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have returned, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to slow yourself of your boots, go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal, go home and practice it on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy go home and light up the whole 'b-u-s-i-n-e-s-s-s
