HOUSE OF REFUGE.—The Superintendent and Matron of the Peel-Halton house of refuge were elected or selected by ballot at the joint meeting of the two county councils at Brampton last week. There were originally fifteen applicants, but Mr. Carton, a Haltonian, withdrew. Out of the fourteen left Messrs. R. W. Armstrong, of Freeman, Walter Wilkinson, Richard Partridge and Wm. T. Mitchell, of Brampton, and Jarvis Elliott, of Mono Road, were the strongest, and it was not until after the eleventh ballot that the Halton couple, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, were declared unanimously appointed. They will be ready to begin their duties within two weeks. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who have resigned after being in charge for some years, are continuing their management. After the selection, the members of the two councils and county officials, with Mr. Blain, M. P. for Peel, and Mayor Thauburn, of Brampton, drove out to the house of refuge. They inspected it throughout and were unanimous in their satisfaction and admiration for the way in which the contractors had carried out their work under the supervision of Messrs. Earl and Jackson, Commissioners. The inspection concluded, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson invited all the visitors into the fine dining room in their quarters, where they had a banquet prepared. There was a splendid bill of fare, and the tables were decorated with beautiful Brampton roses. After the banquet the visitors met in the chapel, or room for religious services, Warden Smith, of Halton, was voted into the chair, officially declared the new house of refuge opened and called on Messrs. Blain, Thauburn and a number of the members of both councils for speeches. Finally a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson was carried unanimously. OBITUARY.

JOHN HARDY.

John Hardy died at his home in Esquesing on Saturday. He was in his 82nd year, was born in Esquesing and was one of the oldest residents of the county. He was a son of the late Andrew and Jeanette Douglas, who came from Scotland to Esquesing in 1819. He was an upright man, a good neighbor and was respected by all. In religion he was a Presbyterian and in politics a Liberal. He was a property owner in Milton as well as in the township. He was unmarried. His health had been failing for some time and he had been confined to his bed for two weeks. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to Evergreen Cemetery, Milton.

Baseball.

Knox and Methodist nines played their fifth match in the Sunday School Association series on Saturday. The juniors first played a seven-inning game which Knox won, 9 to 2. The seniors followed and Knox again won, 13 to 9. Knox had a big advantage in age and experience, but Galloway outpitched Parks, and his team should have won had it not been for poor coaching and crazy base-running, to say nothing about bad fielding.
